NOT CASH DONATION.

Congressional Fund Was Spent.

Perkins and Flint Pleased With Secretary Taft's Way of Handling Matters.

San Francisco's Sufferers to Have Full Benefit of the Supplies Purchased.

Government Indorsement of a Bond Issue to Rebuild City is Opposed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a misunderstanding about the distribution of the $2,500,000 appropriated by Congress for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers. It is explained at the War Department and by Congressmen, today, that it was never the intention of either the department or Congress to place the entire amount at the disposal of San Francisco people. It is estimated that more than two million dollars will be required to replace the supplies that have already been furnished by the department. The President, the War Department and Congress, it is stated, consider this the same as a direct appropriation to the people.

Senators Perkins and Flint are both pleased with the manner in which Secretary Taft has had matters handled. Senator Perkins, who has been in consultation with Secretary Taft for days, says that no man could have managed the distribution of funds in a better manner. Even though the money is not sent direct to the citizens of San Francisco, they will receive the full benefit of the $2,500,000 appropriated.

Every precaution is being made to avoid red tape, but as is pointed out by the President, Secretary Taft and Gen. Greely, there must be some system.

FLINT'S LETTERS.

Senator Flint conferred with the President about the phases of the San Francisco situation. He is receiving hundreds of letters from his State, making all sorts of suggestions as to furnishing money to enable San Francisco to be rebuilt. The latest suggestion is that the United States government guarantee an issue of San Francisco bonds running a number of years, the money to be used in rebuilding the destroyed city buildings; the badly-damaged waterworks and other public utilities belonging to the city.

The question of asking Congress to do this is under consideration, the belief being that this would enable San Francisco to get what money she needs far below the regular interest rate. The proposition is also under consideration to have Congress indorse the bond issue that will enable the rebuilding of the city.

DEEMED IMPRACTICABLE.

Among members of Congress who have talked to the President, none of these plans are considered practicable. The government has never entered into any proposition of this kind, and is not likely to do so. In cases of some Philippine bond issues, the government has partially given its indorsement. It likewise did the same thing in the Hawaiian bond issue, but it has never been known to do anything of this kind in the case of an American city or State, at least, not in the last one hundred years.

MCLACHLAN'S OPINION.

"The scheme is chimerical," said Representative McLachlan, when he heard that Representative Kahn intended to introduce a bill to carry it out. It makes California appear ridiculous in the East. Never before has any section been treated so generously. She has received everything she asked for up to date, but this proposition will place her in a false position, and lose her suffering people the sympathy and assistance of the country."

McLachlan's views are echoed by other members of the delegation privately, and one pointed out that Kahn's proposition was absurd, in view of the fact that the State Legislature had not been called together and no State appropriation made to meet the emergency. The unanimous opinion was that the bond guarantee scheme would fail.

NO FREE MATERIAL.

California also appears to be doomed to disappointment in connection with the plan to place building material on the free list. Repeated attempts to secure promises not to offer a general tariff-revision amendment to such a bill have failed. Democratic leaders and Republican revisionists from Massachusetts and elsewhere refused, today, to bind themselves not to interfere with this plan to assist reconstruction work.

"Under the circumstances," said a California member, today, "our hands are tied. We don't want to open wholesale tariff revision, for our State would probably suffer by it. If Congress refuses to recognize San Francisco's as an emergency case, that settles it. Meanwhile, increasing demands from the Pacific Coast are turning sentiment against us, so that we cannot hope for a special rule shutting off amendments in consideration of the bill removing the duty on building materials."

REVERSAL OF SENTIMENT.

This reversal of sentiment was very evident today, when Senator Perkins asked the Senate Appropriation Committee for $1,000,000 for Mare Island navy yard and $70,000 for postal emergencies. He was told that the Senators did not desire to permit any more appropriations to California, because they only bred new demands.

"GETTING ENOUGH."

"We are getting enough of this sort of thing," said Senator Lodge. "I want to know where it is going to stop."

BILL REACHES PRESIDENT.

Senator Perkins replied that the case is in the nature of an emergency, but he was given to understand that demands for help must stop, or no more Congressional relief would be granted. The bill passed the Senate later, and will be signed by the President.

WASHINGTON'S DONATIONS.

The amount contributed by citizens of Washington through the General Relief Committee, up to noon today, was $54,400. In addition, twenty-five tons of bedding and clothing have been sent to the destitute by fast express. Commissioner McFarland announces that he expects the contribution from Washington to total $300,000. The citizens relief committee will not be disbanded, but its humane work will be carried on indefinitely.

BRITISH CHANNEL STEAMER SINKS.

ONE PASSENGER AND THREE OF THE CREW PERISH.

The Courier Strikes Submerged Rock Off Sark—Excursionists Were Singing on Deck When the Disaster Occurred—Distribution of Life Belts Saves Most of Those Aboard.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GUERNSEY (Channel Islands) April 30.—The passenger steamer Courier, with a crew of nine men and carrying about twenty excursionists, foundered today off Sark, soon after leaving that island.

Three members of the crew and one passenger were drowned, all the others being rescued. The steamer struck a submerged rock two miles from Sark. The disaster occurred in beautiful weather.

The excursionists were singing on the deck when, without the slightest warning, the vessel struck. Soon she sank head foremost.

One boat got away with several passengers, but others were thrown into the water. Life belts had been distributed, and this enabled most of the passengers to clamber up slippery boulders, or cling to floating wreckage until they could be rescued.

It is believed that altogether eight or nine were drowned.

BANK MILLIONS ON A FIRE BOAT.

CROCKER-WOOLWORTH SECURITIES IN EXTREME DANGER.

Capt. Dodge of Revenue Cutter Golden Gate Insists on Fighting Flames With a Cargo of Negotiable Securities Aboard—Vessel Almost Wrapped in Flames.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Negotiable securities and currency worth $23,000,000 were removed from the Crocker-Woolworth National Bank before the flames reached that building, April 19. These securities were placed on board the revenue cutter Golden Gate, on the afternoon of April 19.

The pile of valuable papers was locked in Capt. Dodge's cabin, and an armed guard was placed at each locked door. Two representatives of the bank who accompanied the securities breathed easier when they saw their precious charge safely out of the burning city. Their ease of mind was short-lived, however, for early next morning the fire chief asked Capt. Dodge for assistance.

The Golden Gate carried a squad of firemen to Fort Mason, and proceeded to the foot of Mason street, where the Golden Gate's pumps were connected with three-quarters of a mile of hose that was used in fighting the fire which threatened Hotel Fairmont. Length by length, the hose was consumed by fire. By 2 o'clock in the afternoon there was nothing left of it, and the Golden Gate was almost wrapped in flames.

To the alarm of the bank officials, Capt. Dodge appeared to care as little for his $23,000,000 cargo as he did for his own life. He stayed alongside the wharf until the heat, aggravated by the burning oil and gas, became intolerable even for the fire-eating commander. The order was given to cast off, and out into the cool breezes the Golden Gate steamed, to the relief of the bank representatives.

An hour later, however, the Golden Gate was fighting fire at Lombard-street wharf, and the Crocker-Woolworth representatives had three hours more of uneasiness.

Next day the securities were landed unharmed, after probably the strangest adventures through which $23,000,000 ever passed

FOOD STILL NEEDED FOR REFUGEE CAMPS.

But Oranges and Nurses Are Greatly in Excess of Demand.

Staple Groceries the Chief Thing Wanted—Oakland's Health Officer Commands Hearst to Stop Sending People to Be Fed—B. Fay Mills and the Bill-Sticking Business—Los Angeles' Splendid Relief Work.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Owing to the government seizure of railroad engines, foodstuffs are being dumped into the bay from the Oakland side. Reports received in Los Angeles regarding this wastage of good provisions doubtless are exaggerated, however. Secretary Edwin Stearns of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, who has charge of the relief work, stated this morning, that he only knew to a certainty of oranges being dumped out, but a railroad yard employé told me that five to seven cars of perishable goods had been dumped. Traffic is paralyzed. Scores of cars are tied up here and almost as many more at Sacramento. "The difficulty," said Stearns, "comes from a shortage of engines to shunt out cars. The government has seized nearly all there are to get cars over to San Francisco. We need this food badly, but we can't get them up from the depot."

STAPLE GROCERIES NEEDED.

From this, it will be seen that Los Angeles should not stop sending food. What is most desired is staple groceries. Don't send bread. Tons of it are lying around, going stale. Much of the spoiled foodstuffs consists of meat sandwiches which have become too noisy. The people want crackers and flour, sugar, coffee, beans, etc., preference being given to stuff that does not require too much cooking, however. Butter is also required.

ORANGES AND NURSES.

Above all things, stop sending oranges and trained nurses. Also, there is no present or pressing need of any more souvenir postal cards from the ostrich farm, the contribution of one woman.

It would be disastrous for Los Angeles to cease sending food on the supposition that none is required. Oakland alone is feeding over seventy thousand people.

LOS ANGELES CAMPS.

The Los Angeles relief camps, of which there are five in San Francisco, together with all Oakland camps, will probably be taken over the next few days, by the government.

GOING FOR TAFT.

The Examiner here publishes a sensational demand upon Secretary Taft to account for money expended from the Congressional fund. Mr. Stearns, from the Oakland side, says that one unfortunate mistake was made by the Secretary of War. This was in the purchase of double blankets. In this climate, and at this time of year, single blankets would have done just as well, if not better. This would have left thousands for other expenditures.

JOE DESMOND'S WORK.

Joe Desmond of Los Angeles has done splendid work in charge of the five San Francisco relief camps accredited to our city. He came loaded for bear with his own auto, driving horse, Chinese cooks, tables and two complete grading camp outfits, with wagons, mules, etc. All his camps have been models. F. T. Matimor has charge of the "treasury department" for Desmond, taking all finances off his hands. Nearly all of these camps have been cheerfully tagged "W. R. Hearst camps" by spry old B. Fay Mills, the professional billposter.

HEALTH OFFICER'S WAIL.

The City Health Officer of Oakland has issued a ukase to Hearst to stop sending nurses.

"For Heaven's sake," he begged, "don't you think we have enough people to feed here, as it is? We aren't sick, we are hungry."

Nevertheless, the "largest leased wire" on earth keeps liberally offering nurses, to be hurled on from Chicago on railroad passes and fed at the expense of Oakland people and not have anything to do except help advertise Hearst, who needs it badly enough, Heaven knows. There is no need for nurses.

BILL-STICKER DUMPED.

As there was not bill-sticking enough to keep B. Fay and another man busy here in Oakland, Hearst tried to dump one of the men he brought from Los Angeles on the Oakland relief committee, demanding a salary for him of $150 per month. He was turned down ungently.

LOS ANGELES SUPPLIES.

To return to Joe Desmond, he has been serving 35,000 hot meals daily to his campers, hundreds of whom are Italians. Altogether, Los Angeles has sent over a hundred cars, not to mention steamerloads of supplies. There are forty cars now in the railroad yards, waiting to be shunted into town. Probably some of these are from Los Angeles. Although it was a mistake to have sent so many oranges and other perishable things, they have not been entirely wasted. Most of the oranges have been traded to local commission houses for less perishable supplies.

WONDERFUL SYSTEM.

It will no doubt be a satisfaction to Los Angeles to know the system by which their contributions are given to hungry mouths. The wonderful instinct for organization that is in every American has been shown to the fullest in this crisis. The system that obtains in every little bay town is as complete as though it had been running for years. Over night, the town undertaker became the efficient head of an enormous commissary system. The village doctor's wife and the contralto of the church choir put on aprons and became quartermasters intrusted with clothing hundreds of ragged people every day. The teacher a business college is the head of a big typewriting bureau, his pupils doing the work. Everything goes smoothly without hitch. There are printed blanks, requisitions, countersigned orders. The system goes like that of an army. Elks form themselves into War Department bureaus, flippant little society girls develop the executive ability of experienced army officers.

HEADQUARTERS ON RAILS.

When a car arrives in Oakland, for instance, it is shunted directly from the depot into the big Oakland Produce Exchange, which has been given over to the relief committee. This becomes bustling headquarters. Here the contents are segregated and sent to wholesale headquarters to be sent as ordered to the various relief camps. Near the Chamber of Commerce is a retail depot, where food is given out every morning on ticket. Long lines of people can be seen every morning reaching a block down the street. Most of these are Oakland people, who have been supporting refugee friends until they are broke. On application almost every one is given a ticket for one good meal, and their address is taken. A boy on a bike is then sent around to see if their statement of the case was genuine. If all right, they are given the tickets, to be punched every morning on issuance of morning rations.

THE RATIONS.

The rations are made up into bags of coffee, sugar, bread, etc. Yesterday, thirteen cases were found to be unworthy. Wherefore, when these people stood in line again, this morning, policemen took them out of line and marched them in disgrace down the street, amid the hoots of the crowd.

The man in the conning tower having charge of this great work is Edwin Stearns. He is a former Los Angeles newspaper man. He started his earthquake experience by a crack over the head with a brick which fell into his bed. Since then he has been working day and night, doing cool, intelligent, splendid work.

ALAMEDA AND OAKLAND.

Oakland complains that San Francisco is getting its supplies away. Alameda makes the same complaint of Oakland. This latter town seems to have been forgotten. By the heroic efforts of its people, it is supporting one of the best relief camps around the bay, and feeding altogether about seven thousand people. It has only been able to get a few cars from the Oakland railroad yards, and its supplies are running short. Like all the rest, it needs staples.

The Elks were the first in the saddle in Alameda, so the townspeople have all joined with them. Doctors and business men have given up business, and do daily duty at the refugee camp. The main part of the people fed here cutside of the refugee camps are the better classes, who had their business in San Francisco and their residences here. They are being fed at their own homes.

Most of the Alameda grocers and butchers have refused to give further credit, and people cannot get their money from the banks.

Their refugee camp is a corker. Each newcomer goes through a rigid medical examination. Then he has a shave and a haircut before being assigned quarters. The camp has bathtub tents, registration bureaus and fumigation tents.

CO. D ON GUARD.

Co. D of Pomona is on guard. Here, as elsewhere, they have great difficulty in getting a foreigner to do any work. They have been obliged to adopt the effective method of going through the camp with drawn revolvers every morning to see if there is any one who could be persuaded to do a little work. By some shocking oversight, B. Fay Mills has not yet claimed this camp for Hearst. He'd better get busy.

QUAKE AFFECTED ALAMEDA.

Alameda has been overlooked by everybody. The earthquake did much damage there. A chimney fell through the roof of a house on the main street. Many rushed downstairs, but found the front rooms jammed by the quake so that they could not be opened. Yelling in terror, the people were taken from upper story windows by others with ladders.

The half-finished Santa Fé ferryboat tumbled off the ways.

COMARTY FINDS WORK.

One of the men at work is H. Comarty, one of the few pair employés of the Oakland Relief Committee. He volunteered his service. But as he was giving up a job at $25 a week to do so, it was felt that he ought to have at least $15. He finds work for refugees who want it. The first day after the quake, he placed 103; Saturday, 294; Sunday, 197; Monday, 375; Tuesday, 210; Wednesday, 301; Thursday, 389; Friday, 204. The records are not made up further as yet. The men have gone to grading camps and sugar factories, etc. One hundred and thirty-five bakers were put to work in Oakland alone, all the bakeries running five shifts. The Standard Oil Company took 200.

HARRY C. CARR.

IT IS NO "JOSH."

Judge A. C. Swenson Advertises for a Wife, and the Applicant Whom He Selects Arrives, Though Late.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CODY (Wyo.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nearly the entire population of Cody will attend the wedding of Judge A. C. Swenson, a rich stock grower, and Miss Rose Hennessey of St. Louis, a dressmaker. Mrs. May Bradford, "Buffalo Bill's" sister, will be bridesmaid. The principals have not fixed the date.

After advertising for a wife, Judge Swenson rejected all proposals except Miss Hennessey's. He wrote her to come. She sent for coin. He sent her $400, and met every train for two weeks with big delegations at his heels. Finally, "joshed" into believing he had been "buncoed," he quit. Miss Hennessey is here, however, ready for the wedding.

HID BY RUSSIAN REFUGEE?

DENVER, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two infernal machines were found at Union Station under a wire netting placed across a window. Both were round, made of brass and had attachments for wire and staples on top. An investigation showed that they contained gun cotton. Some of it was removed and it exploded.

It is believed some Russian refugee from San Francisco carried them until he decided decided it was dangerous and hid them. They were buried by the police after being shown to several brass workers. The bombs were encased in canvas which was cut away so they could be examined.

AMERICAN REVOLUTION SONS.

BOSTON, April 30.—All sections of the country were represented at the opening session in this city today for the seventeenth annual congress of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

NEBRASKA TORNADO KNOCKS DOWN HOUSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MEDFORD (Neb.) April 30.—A tornado swept through Furnas County, this afternoon, destroying many buildings. No fatalities are reported, though many persons were injured.

The most seriously injured are:

BERTHA HARTMAN, 12 years old, internally hurt, condition critical.

MISS ANNIE HARTMAN, painfully bruised.

MRS. ROSA DREW, bruised.

The storm came from the southwest, and, so far as known, the first house struck was that of John Reynolds, about five miles west of Oxford. This was destroyed, but the inmates escaped serious injury.

The houses of Fred Hartman and Fred Drew were next demolished. Here the people were not so fortunate, nearly all being more or less hurt, and one at least received injuries from which recovery is doubtful.

The residences of Fred Toos and T. J. Cook were wrecked, as were the schoolhouses in the Buffalo and Mining View districts, also scores of barns and other farm buildings. The storm passed to the northeast

FOR EXTRA SESSION.

Sacramento Bar Association Favors It if One Is Asked for by San Francisco.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—The Sacramento Bar Association this afternoon adopted the majority report of the committee which recently conferred with Gov. Pardee, favoring an extra session of the Legislature to help San Francisco, providing the call for an extra session be urged by Mayor Schmitz, the Board of Supervisors and the Committee of Fifty of San Francisco.

The report favors limiting the scope of the call to submitting a constitutional amendment permitting San Francisco to cancel her bonds issued, but not sold, and issue new ones for a sum deemed necessary to appropriate $2,500,000 for the relief of sufferers; to amend the law relating to the statute of limitations; to provide for lost papers and destroyed records; to repair and improve the waterfront by issuing bonds for an amount deemed necessary by the State Engineer and the Harbor Commissioners; and to repair State hospitals.

TO BLOOM AS EVER.

Santa Rosa Revives from Shock.

People of the City Astonish Outsiders With Rapidity of Recuperation.

"The Times" Relief Fund Is Received Most Gratefully by Mayor Overton.

Congressman McKinlay to Ask an Appropriation from Congress.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA ROSA, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the very heart of it lying in desolate ruins, Santa Rosa today is astonishing even itself with its recuperative powers. Large forces of men are at work clearing up the streets, and within the past week much progress has been made in the ruined section, six blocks long and about five blocks wide—the entire business district.

Electric and steam cars have been run in the streets on local transportation lines, and they are loaded with debris, which is carried out to be used as ballast on the electric line from Santa Rosa to Petaluma. Both the Petaluma and Santa Rosa Railway and the California and Northern Railway are engaged in clearing-up work, giving the services of their crews free of charge. Large trainloads of debris have been taken out, this morning, to a point near Guernville and dumped into the Russian River.

HOPEFUL SPIRIT.

The general spirit in Santa Rosa is one of great hopefulness. Definite plans are formulated for the erection of several important business blocks. Work on them will be commenced as soon as sites can be cleared. Tonight, Secretary Metcalf will come from Oakland by special train to have a personal view of the dire havoc wrought by quake and fire. He will be accompanied by government officials, and Santa Rosa officials hope his report will hurry substantial assistance for the aid of the relief work.

Congressman D. E. McKinlay, whose home is in this city, will also bring here a company of State officials, and with their report as a backing, he will ask the United States Congress to make an appropriation of $150,000 for Santa Rosa's aid.

The beautiful Carnegie library, erected a short time ago at a cost of $40,000, lies in ruins. Citizens who had a special pride in this institution will send an appeal to the Laird of Skibo to again loosen his purse strings in their behalf.

MAYOR OVERTON.

Mayor John P. Overton, who is head of the relief work, has been handling relief supplies with remarkable executive ability. He has had the coöperation of churches, lodges and various societies, and there is a certainty that there will be no waste of relief funds from the inroads of "grafters" and unscrupulous persons. Everything is carried on with the utmost business-like precision, with a system of orders and vouchers that is as perfect as a banking system.

THE TIMES RELIEF FUND.

I arrived in Santa Rosa last night, accompanied by a guard of honor tendered by Gen. Wankowski, with $5000 in greenbacks from The Times Relief Fund for the use of Santa Rosa relief work. Mayor Overton received the donation with gratitude, and tendered special thanks to The Times and the citizens of Los Angeles who made this gift possible. He stated that it comes at a most opportune time, for while there is at present in camp food supplies sufficient for the present, the pressing need now is money and unperishable supplies.

The Times was the first paper to print a detailed account of the Santa Rosa disaster. Its account has been the most complete of any yet published, and many Santa Rosa citizens have expressed their appreciation of The Times enterprise in sending out the news and being the first point at any distance to respond with aid. The Times' photographs of the ruined district have been forwarded to Washington officials.

LOSS $3,000,000.

Mayor Overton estimates the loss to Santa Rosa's business district will amount to fully $3,000,000. Many residences are completely wrecked, but hundreds of frame buildings stand with little injury.

LODGES TO REBUILD.

Masonic Hall, which was just being completed at a cost of $75,000, and which was completely ruined, is to be rebuilt in connection with the Mailer building at Fifth and Humboldt streets. The Odd Fellows will rebuild their steel and brick structure at Third street and Exchange avenue.

What a Hearst Paper Tried to Do to Southern California.

Below is printed a photographed facsimile of Page 1 of the 8 o'clock edition of Hearst's Chicago American of Wednesday evening, April 18, in which it is asserted that 10,000 people perished from an (imaginary) earthquake in Southern California. With such horrifying falsehoods circulated in Eastern cities by Hearst and his gang, is there any wonder that Los Angeles people have been deluged with telegrams inquiring for their safety?

Here is a fair specimen of the "extras" which Hearst circulated in Chicago and New York, peddling the most alarming fictions about a fearful disaster in Los Angeles and vicinity. Of which more anon. Now see this:

Chicago American.

The excuse of the Los Angeles Examiner for the outraging of Los Angeles by the Hearst newspaper in New York, which printed a great headline declaring that there were 5000 dead victims of an earthquake in this city, was that the news came from a "press association." What "press association" furnished the Chicago Hearst paper with the above? What will be the next excuse?

Catholics celebrated mass in the open air on the grounds of Ursuline College, and special prayers for the dead were offered. Many families who have been living in tents since the morning of the earthquake are now moving back into their houses.

BODY FOUND.

The body of Mrs. A. S. Rogers, dressmaker, was recovered this afternoon, from the ruins of the Reynolds building on Third street. Her sister, Miss Louise Stephani, a linotype operator of the Republican, lies in Santa Rosa Hospital, desperately injured.

RELIEF FUNDS TO DATE.

At the headquarters of the Santa Rosa Relief Committee, this afternoon, the statement was made to The Times representative that the amount of relief funds to date is $11,737. The Elks have sent in $500 and the Eagles $500 for temporary relief work. The town is in need of cash and unperishable foodstuffs. Five hundred families are homeless in Santa Rosa.

THE ELKS.

Exalted Ruler Herbert Slater of the Santa Rosa Elks lodge said today: "In behalf of Santa Rosa Elks, I wish most sincerely to express our deep sense of gratitude to members of Los Angeles lodge for the financial help sent us through Grand Exalted Ruler Brown, Judge Melvin and Dr. Hagan. It was most timely, and if the Los Angeles boys could realize the ray of sunshine the ready money put at my disposal by the Elks has brought into many homes, they would feel more than repaid. At same time, I and the lodge here are indebted to other lodges for help given. It will be a matter of distinction in after years when we look back on the great disaster, to reflect that the first provisions and help sent to Santa Rosa was by the Elks, members of the Petaluma Lodge, and next in order by the Vallejo Lodge."

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Col. David V. Gelder, aide on the staff of Maj. Gen. A. J. Stoddard, who is out from St. Paul, Minn., to look after Knights of Pythias sufferers, visited Santa Rosa and established relief headquarters for that order. He placed local Pythians in charge, and the order agrees to care for all local Knights of Pythias and their families who have been made destitute through the late catastrophe.

A saddening incident in the life of a military encampment at Santa Rosa was the death of Robert G. Gargile, which occurred yesterday afternoon, after only three days' illness. Gargile was quartermaster sergeant of Company C, Fifth Regiment. His home was in Petaluma, and he had just completed the twentieth year of his service. He was given a military funeral today. Death was caused by pneumonia, he having contracted the disease in the heavy rains of last week.

SLIGHT QUAKE.

A slight quake at 6 o'clock this morning caused some consternation. Martial law still reigns in Santa Rosa. Guard lines were removed last Friday, and sentries and guards watch bank buildings and places where public records are known to be hidden beneath fallen debris. There has been no looting.

All public records will be saved, and the investigations made yesterday show that bank vaults are in good condition. All school buildings are in safe condition, and schools opened this morning.

Mrs. S. A. Keithley of Bodega reports that two of her cows died of fright during the earthquake.

FORT ROSS CRACKS.

J. B. Doda, who came from Fort Ross yesterday says the earthquake caused immense cracks in the earth there, and that strong gasses are emitted, which make men and cattle sick. The springs, locally famous as "The Geysers," have completely dried up since the quake.

CHAS. W. PALM KILLED.

Chas. W. Palm, formerly a law book publisher of Los Angeles, met his death here. He was injured in the wreck of the Grand Hotel and died Monday night at Santa Rosa Hospital, and was buried here.

Dr. J. W. Jessie, the health officer, this morning stated that the health conditions in Santa Rosa are excellent. There is only one case of scarlet fever and one case of measles.

President George H. McNear, son of the millionaire B. A. McNear, who was, last Saturday, elected president of the organization of bankers of Sonoma, Mendocino and Marin counties, said today:

"There never was a time when the banks of Sonoma County were in more prosperous condition."

BANKS TO REOPEN.

The banks outside of Santa Rosa, in this section, will reopen for business Wednesday, and the Santa Rosa institutions will reopen as soon as temporary buildings are erected. There is no doubt that every demand will be paid, dollar for dollar. An effort will be made to avoid a run. It is not thought that there will be one. All the banks in Santa Rosa are to erect fine modern steel buildings.

The Supervisors of Sonoma County will ask immediate voting on a bond issue for the erection of a new courthouse. Temporary city buildings will be erected. The city headquarters are now in a small shack erected on the land of a private residence.

PILLING'S "BUNCH" TO BE MOVED.

THE BARBARY COAST TOUGHS BREATHE SIGHS OF RELIEF.

Secretary Metcalf Orders Idora Park Cleared—How "the Czar" Made a Dude Tote a Barrel of Salt Pork Upstairs—"August Official" and His Errand of Mercy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Pilling, "the Czar of Idora Park," is about to lose his large family, to the unspeakable relief of the latter. For a week and a day, the tough denizens of Barbary Coast have gone to bed at half past 8 o'clock and said "Excuse me, ma'am," and "If you please," under his rule.

Today, Secretary Metcalf visited the park and told Pilling that his charges will soon be removed to another refuge camp, in order to let the Idora resume as a big amusement park, like the Chutes, Pilling being manager thereof.

MADE DUDE WORK.

Sunday afternoon, one of the park visitors was an emaculate young man in a high collar and dudish array. Pilling was in need of a man to help pack a barrels of salt pork.

"Grab hold, grab hold," he said briskly to the natty young man, who drew back and said: "Sir?" in a terrible tone.

But Pilling only replied: "Well, come along now, get busy, get busy," and motioned to a sentry, who pressed the dandified youth into service on a pork barrel with one of the Barbary Coast toughs at the point of a bayonet. The terrified dude packed the barrel upstairs. His hat got stave inside and dirt spread over his creased trousers.

When they put down the barrel at last, the dude cast one look behind him and fled incontinently. He's running yet.

AUGUST OFFICIAL.

Later in the evening, an august official came to the park and wanted to wake up some woman in Pilling's dormitory, where he has women and children bunked on the stage and between the seat and aisles of his theater.

"Nothing doing," said Pilling emphatically. "When I say 'go to bed' nobody gets in or out of there until sunup tomorrow morning."

"I'm on an errand of mercy," proclaimed the official with dignity.

"Run your errands outside. Skiddo," said Pilling, and added briefly to the faithful sentry: "Throw him out."

In days to come, when Barbary Coast is rebuilt, the single word "Pilling" will send them scudding into their holes like rats.

MILITARY IN POSITION IN PARIS OUTSKIRTS.

Eve of May Day Finds Authorities Concluding Preparations of Unprecedented Magnitude Against Violence—Conspirators Arrested.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, May 1, 4:20 a.m.—Detachments of cavalry and infantry are departing to take up positions in the outskirts of the city.

PARIS, April 30.—The eve of May 1 finds the authorities concluding preparations of unprecedented magnitude to guard the city against violence. As a final measure of warning, a large number of arrests were made today, principally of organizers of the Confederation of Labor, Imperialist sympathizers charged with fomenting disorder, and anarchists of various degrees of prominence.

The arrests have served their main purpose in disorganizing and discouraging the violent element, which finds itself practically without leaders in the monster demonstration planned for tomorrow. Nevertheless, the Confederation of Labor headquarters tonight gave out a declaration that the demonstration will proceed, each trade pursuing its own course. The movement, however appears to have lost heart, as its conspicuous figures are either in jail or have taken to flight. A heavy rain tonight promises further to dampen the enthusiasm of the workmen.

The police today arrested M. Griffuels, secretary of the General Federation of Labor, the responsible organizer of the proposed May Day demonstration; M. Biberte, a newspaperman, and Maj. Feuilliant, a Bonapartist, formerly of the Imperial Guards. In addition, Count Durand de Bureaugard was taken into custody at Nice. Arrests were also made at other places and warrants were issued for the arrest of M. Levy, secretary of the General Federation of Labor; and N. Promentin, a wealthy anarchist, both of whom were found to have fled from the city. All the prisoners are charged with complicity in organizing a rebellion and with intriguing with anarchists. At the same time telegraphic orders were sent to proceed with arrests at Nice, Breslau and other points. Griffuels, Biberte and Feuilliant, after preliminary examination, were taken to jail.

M. Griffuels, who is the principal labor leader, was found at his house and was taken into custody, but his associate, Levy, was not located. Count de Bureaugard is the head of the supposed plot recently unearthed. Henri Bibete is editor of L'Antorite, a Bonapartist organ. The government officials declare that the arrest will break the backbone of the violent element.

The strike centers outside Paris are calm. M. Lepine, prefect of police, conferred during the day with the commanders of the troops and gave final instructions for the military occupation of main points in Paris, beginning early Tuesday. The troops will receive two packages of cartridges and two days' rations.

TROOPS MUTINOUS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A dispatch from Lens states that a battalion of troops, requisitioned for Paris, refuses to come. At a meeting in the Bourse de Travail here today, a lieutenant in uniform addressed the workers. He declared that he would do his duty but that his soldiers would not fire upon the people. He was at once arrested and is held at the disposal of the military authorities.

ARRANGEMENTS PERFECTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, April 30.—Searches and arrests occurred simultaneously in many provinces. Leon Robert, secretary of a branch of the Confederation, was arrested and his house was searched.

The military and police measures for the protection of the city were finally arranged at a conference tonight between Prefect Lepine and colonels of the various regiments on duty here. The police, supported by the troops, will occupy the principal strategic points of the city at daylight. The troops will receive supplies for active field duty. The light cavalry will carry lances.

WALK-OUT AT CHICAGO.
OPERATIONS AFFECTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—With a walkout of one thousand structural ironworkers, building operations now in progress in Chicago and surrounding suburbs will come practically to a standstill next Wednesday morning.

Besides marking the first important labor disturbances of the year, the ironworkers' strike may bring in its wake general upheavals in the building industry. There are no direct indications at present that sympathetic strikes will occur, but the ironworkers are affiliated with the Associated Building Trades, which recently has outlined a policy of supporting kindred unions in this way.

The ironworkers whose occupation is confined chiefly to the erection of the framework of skyscrapers and other large buildings have been receiving 55¼ cents an hour. A month ago, they presented demands for an increase to 62½ cents an hour. The demands were rejected by the contractors who compose the Iron League.

ROCK MEN AND EXCAVATORS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—The threatened strike of 30,000 members of the Rock Men and Excavators' Union against the members of the Contractors' Protective Association for an increase in wages scheduled to take place May 1, it was said last night, has been postponed and may not take place at all.

CLEVELAND LONGSHOREMEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CLEVELAND, April 30.—Twenty thousand members of the Longshoremen's Union will, it is expected, go on strike tonight at all lake ports.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There may be May flowers this year, but if there are, they will not be because of the April showers. For April, trying to live up to its reputation of being capricious, perhaps, has taken a novel way of doing it by not being as capricious as she has been expected to be. The average rainfall for the month is 3.08 inches; whereas this year's was only 1.86. The decreased rainfall meant increased sunshine, and April has set a new record by having had 69 per cent. of possible sunshine. Maximum temperature, today, was 55 degs.; minimum, 48 degs. MUENTER'S MUTTERINGS.

Strange words uttered by Erich Muenter, when he feared the departed spirit of his wife might return to haunt him, may help convict the former Harvard instructor, if he is found. The words, which had little import at the time to members of the dead woman's family, followed a dispute as to whether the remains should be cremated or interred. Muenter insisted upon cremation. "She must be cremated," he is said to have declared, "for her soul will go away with the smoke, and will not be left in the ashes. If she is buried her spirit will remain on earth to come before me and torture me."

OLD-FASHIONED HOCH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Gov. Hoch of Kansas, is an old-fashioned Methodist and regards kissing as a form of brotherly love," remarked one of the Governor's friends today. "He admits that he tried to kiss Mrs. Stanley, but it was merely an expression of his religious sentiments, and not intended as a token of love." Mrs. Stanley did not belong to the same branch of the church as Gov. Hoch, however, and took mortal offense at the Governor's action.

BANDIT AT BAY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MUSKEGON (Mich.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After one of the most exciting man hunts in the history of Western Michigan, an armed posse of twelve officers have run down and surrounded the bandit robber believed to be the man who murdered M. C. Golden at Dennison, last week, and are holding him at bay among the swamps and sand dunes, along the Lake Michigan shore, in this county.

MATRIMONIAL TANGLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another triangular matrimonial venture has been revealed, to the great dismay of Samuel Hanley, a traveling salesman of this city. Hanley first married Katie Spranger of Minneapolis. Last December, in Chicago, he wedded Miss Helen Enright of Indiana avenue, and proceeded to "loop the triangle" until a mislaid letter revealed his duplicity.

RUSHING MEN AND MATERIAL.

Building Operations Under Way in Various Lines.

President Calhoun of United Railroads Offers Aid.

Eastern Works Promise Steel. Gates Coming West.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, who arrived yesterday and established his headquarters at the Turk and Fillmore-street car barn, said today that, so far as the United Railroads were concerned, the officers and owners would do anything in their power, in a broad and liberal spirit, to rebuild San Francisco. Their confidence in San Francisco remained unshaken, and their plans, therefore, unchanged.

"A large amount of material and men are now on their way. Two engineers came with me," said Calhoun. "I have secured fifty new cars of the approved Chicago type, which President Mitten of one of the Chicago roads kindly consented to turn over to us. They are now nearly completed, and will be shipped at the earliest possible date. These are in addition to 100 new cars now building at the St. Louis shops, but which will not be ready until September.

"In addition, I have already ordered upward of $700,000 worth of additional material."

TELEPHONE SYSTEM.

The telephone system of San Francisco is less badly crippled by the earthquake and fire than the public has been led to suppose, and General Manager Glass announces that 'phones will be in operation quite generally throughout the unburned district within a few days, and in the burned district as rapidly as there is a demand for telephones.

"Our losses, so far as we can estimate," said Glass yesterday, "are approximately $1,800,000, against which we have insurance of about $1,160,000. Our entire underground cable system is intact, which fact will simplify, in a great measure, the restoration of the telephone service throughout the city. We have through cables in large numbers connecting the different operating offices, and distributing cables which were looped out into every block. These cables, which we call 'laterals,' were all burned off where they entered the block and we now have forces of men cutting off these 'laterals' in the manholes, and soldering them up to keep out moisture."

EAST PROMISES STEEL.

Albert E. Buckman, the contractor, returned from New York yesterday. The steel and other building material men in the East have promised that San Francisco would be given the preference over all other orders on their books. One firm that had on hand orders for millions of cases was approached with an offer, but declined to consider it until California shall have been heard from.

GATES'S BUILDING SYNDICATE.

Buckman says that John W. Gates has organized a company with between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 capital to come here and enter the building business. Other companies are being organized for the same purpose. It was reported in financial circles of New York that such business men in San Francisco as has entered upon extensive contracts and were unable to complete them because of the calamity would be furnished with money at a reasonable rate of interest with which to go on with the work.

LOUIS SCHOENBERG'S BLOCK.

Louis Schoenberg announces that he will erect a steel building at the corner of Second and Jessie streets, and also two other buildings—one at the northwest corner of First and Stevenson streets, and the other at the southwest corner of Second and Stevenson streets. The Eugene Dietzgen Company has already been secured as a tenant for one of the proposed buildings.

ON DOHRMANN SITE.

The Central Realty Company, the principal holders in which are Louis Schoenberg, Louis Metzger and Ellen M. Alexander, announces that it will erect a ten-story steel-frame building on the site of the former store of Nathan, Dorhmann & Co., on Sutter street, between Kearny and Montgomery. This company will continue the construction of the steel-frame building on Stockton street back of the Union League Club, work on which had made considerable progress before the disaster. As soon as the company have the plans drawn it will rebuild the Hotels Repellier and Sutherland at Sutter and Jones streets.

IN THE MISSION.

In the Mission the burned area is being rapidly dotted with sheds frame structures of various kinds, election booths and tents, where people are housing themselves and starting up again in business on their own ground. Near the corner of Capp and Eighth streets a frame building of fairly substantial character, apparently intended for a dwelling and store, is almost completed, the carpenters being at work shingling the roof.

GEORGE BURNS BUILDING.

George Burns has announced that he will rebuild the store formerly standing at Sixteenth and Mission streets, and it is understood that there will be immense activity in building throughout the burned district in the Mission, as soon as materials can be secured and men to put them together.

DEEP-SEA WHARVES.

Plans have practically been completed by the Realty Syndicate and its allied corporation, the San Francisco, Oakland and San José Railway, which owns and operates the Key Route ferry line, to construct a great system of wharves and warehouses for the accommodation of deep-sea and other shipping. The immense project includes the building of a long trestle that will parallel the present trestle of the Key Route and which will be used by freight trains in reaching a dock for ocean-going vessels, to be erected near the Key Route pier depot.

TIDE LANDS RECLAMATION.

The mammoth improvement scheme also embraces the reclamation of 500 acres of tide lands lying between the Key Route trestle and the Oakland mole. This area is to be raised above the water level with material dredged from the bay.

RUSH WORK NEEDED.

Work on the gigantic undertaking is to be begun at once, and the contracts call for the completion of the greater part of the project within two months. The first work is to be done on the trestle that is to parallel the Key Route pier. This is to be constructed in a substantial manner. Simultaneously, a pile driver will commence to put down a bulkhead for the Key Route trestle to the Oakland mole, and behind this dredgers will pump the slickens to reclaim the 500-acre site for warehouses.

Imperative orders have been issued to the engineers in charge of the vast project that they must be ready to accommodate commerce inside of sixty days.

MURPHY-GRANT BUILDING.

Joseph De Grant of San Francisco, who is in New York, this morning telegraphed to C. R. Havens of the Murphy-Grant Company that the firm will at once build a twelve-story steel building on the old site at the southwest corner of Bush and Sansome.

ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

The Royal Insurance Company of Liverpool has ordered the erection of a steel block at Pine and Sansome streets.

MECHANICS' PAVILION.

It was announced today that the Mechanics' Pavilion would be rebuilt at once on its former site.

SAN FRANCISCO REALTY BOARD.

The San Francisco Realty Board today let a contract for a temporary building on Van Ness avenue, at the corner of Jones street, to have 40,000 feet of floor space to be leased to its members.

OLYMPIC CLUB QUARTERS.

The Olympic Club will be the first organization to reëstablish its own comfortable quarters. The directors today practically closed a deal by which they will retain the Hobart mansion on Van Ness avenue. A new building is to be erected on the club's Post-street property. Architect H. A. Schulze has the plans under way, and it is expected the club will begin its new home in about a year and a half.

A restaurant will be opened in the Hobart mansion, and a complete bathing plant installed. These will be as complete as those in the old building, with the exception of the splendid salt water swimming tank.

LIGHTING SITUATION.

A careful study of the lighting situation in San Francisco has been made by the officials of the San Francisco Gas and Electric Company, and the situation can hardly be regarded as encouraging. San Francisco has been without gas and electricity since the earthquake, and while the San Francisco Gas and Electric Company is now prepared to resume street lighting along three lighting routes agreed upon by the municipal authorities and the Citizens' Committee on Lighting, the amount of light and power the company can furnish will be limited, for some time by the capacity of its generating plant at the Potrero. Its other electric plants and all its gas plants will be out of commission for some time.

SUFFERED IMMENSE LOSS.

The San Francisco Gas and Electric Company suffered immense loss by earthquake and fire.

UNDERGROUND CONDUITS.

The prospect of securing gas for lighting and heating purposes seem to be more remote than the prospect of a resumption of electric lighting. The San Francisco Gas and Electric Company has found that its underground conduits are in fairly good shape, but that its gas mains, like the water mains throughout the city, have been more or less injured.

CHINATOWN FOR RESIDENCES.

Real estate men are authority for the statement that the site of Chinatown will soon be sold as fashionable residence property. They base the opinion on the fact that the land is sheltered from the winds; is on high land; is accessible to car lines, and in many other ways is most desirable. The fire has burned out all germs, and the place can be leveled to the ground with a few days' work.

A.O.U.W. SITE.

Voting as a unit in favor of the proposition, the members of the board of directors of the Ancient Order of United Workmen yesterday decided to select a site and begin at once putting up in San Francisco a building for the grand lodge of the State and the subordinate lodges of San Francisco.

INSURANCE IN FULL.

The British-American Insurance Company, the Western Assurance Company and the British-American of New York, whose general agent in this city is W. L. W. Miller, announce that they will pay all the fire losses in full. H. T. Lamey of Denver, the western manager, and W. R. Townley, general agent at Chicago, are in this city, and authorize this announcement.

EDMOND STOVER.

POLICEMEN ARREST RECKLESS SOLDIER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—H. R. Sloniker, who claims to be a private in the Twenty-seventh Coast Artillery, was arrested at Twenty-second and Randolph streets last night by the police for reckless shooting while on sentry duty.

For several days, the police say, they have received complaints from residents in that vicinity of much reckless firing at night. In one instance, a steel-jacketed ball struck the house of J. Denis, at Twenty-second and Cheney streets, passed over his bed and went through four walls.

As the strictest orders have been issued to the soldiers not to fire except under circumstances of extreme necessity, Policemen Mullen, Nolan, Cleaver and McCue were detailed to make an investigation last night. They were informed by the naval contingent on guard duty in that neighborhood that the nightly fusilade was fired by a soldier of the Twenty-seventh Coast Artillery, who remained behind when that company was withdrawn.

Sloniker was arrested by the police while in the act of shooting, disarmed, and, upon order of Lieutenant of Police Wright, locked up in the Golden Gate Park police station, to be turned over to the military authorities this morning.

BREATHITT FEUD AGAIN BREAK

JACKSON (Ky.) April 30.—The Breathitt county feud broke out again last night, when "Red Tom" Cockerell, Jake Noble and Tom Barnett besieged Beach Hargis, a relative of former County Judge Hargis, and shot out all the glass in the front of the house. Hargis was wounded.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30. [Exclusive Dispatch.] The Continental Fire Insurance Company began paying the first fire losses of San Francisco today. George E. Kline, vice-president of the company, and seven adjusters from the East are on the scene. The company had a total of $5,000,000 losses, but is reinsured in other companies for $1,000,000.

Payments will be made at the rate of $150,000 a day, beginning with smaller losses.

The Kilmeny Strikes a Reef Off San Jose Bay.

Capt. Schou and Crew of Four Men Escape.

Arctic Expedition to Start from Victoria, B. C.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) April 30.—The halibut schooner Kilmeny was totally wrecked on a reef off San José Bay, at the northwest end of the Vancouver Island coast, April 21. Capt. Schou and his crew of four escaped and camped near the wreck until the steamer Queen City arrived from Victoria, and picked up the shipwrecked men.

They managed to save some of the schooner's stores and subsisted on them until one of the dories reached the Scandinavian settlements at Cape Scott, where fool was obtained and arrangements made for the coasting steamer to pick them up.

ARCTIC SCHOONER CHRISTENED.

EXPEDITION FROM VICTORIA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA, April 30.—This afternoon, Mrs. Nenton, daughter of Lieut.-Gov. Sir Henri Joili de Lotbiniere, christened the schooner Duchess of Bedford, which is to leave, May 15, on an Arctic exploring expedition, carrying notable American and Danish scientists, who will seek for undiscovered land and make geographical, ethnological and geological observations.

Capt. Mikkelsen and Ernest Leffingwell of the University of Chicago head the expedition, and Messrs. Stefanson of Harvard and Dittleveson of Copenhagen are other scientists to accompany the party. Stefansen will join the party at the mouth of the Mackenzie River, going overland to the rendezvous.

MOKELUMNE RIVER FALLS.

BED DROPS TWELVE FEET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was discovered, today, that in the vicinity of Woodbridge, the Mokelumne River has fallen twelve feet, the bed of the stream dropping from the effects of the recent earthquake. The stream has been carrying a lot of water, and when it was noticed that it was steadily falling, contrary to all precedent, people made investigation, with the result that they found the bed twelve feet lower than before.

Another incident to the earthquake is the drying-up of Tracy Lake, in the northwestern part of San Joaquin county. Ever since the earthquake it has been increasing, and now is almost level with Mokelumne River. Whether or not there is a crack in the bed or an underground passage connecting the lake with the river is not known.

EXCITEMENT TOO MUCH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Harry Veuve, the well-known San Francisco clubman, died today. He had been afflicted with locomotor ataxia for years, and the excitement of the earthquake and fire, followed by the ordeal of hurried removal to a place of safety, hastened his death.

Broken Wheel Wrecks Freight.

TUCSON (Ariz.) April 30.—A westbound fast freight on the Southern Pacific was wrecked by a broken wheel three miles east of Benson last night. Fifteen cars were derailed, most of them containing supplies for San Francisco sufferers. All west-bound passenger trains were delayed nineteen hours. No one was hurt.

Sperm Whale Captured.

VICTORIA, B. C.) April 30.—Another sperm whale has been captured at the Vancouver Island coast whaling station, the second taken by the whalers. It is seldom that these whales, which are much more valuable than the hump-back, usually taken, come this far north.

WASHINGTON.

TIME TO VOTE ON RATE BILL.

Amendments Will Be Taken Up Next Friday.

Bill Itself Will Be Reached One Week Later.

"Seed Day" in the House. Hearst's Quake Levy.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 30.—SENATE—The Senate will begin voting on the amendments to the Railroad Rate Bill, Friday, May 4. An amendment to that effect was reported today, but it proved impossible to so extend the understanding as to have it include the fixing of a date for taking a final vote on the bill as a whole.

Mr. Tillman first proposed a final vote May 3, and Mr. Morgan was the only Senator to make objection. His opposition was sufficient, however, to frustrate the design, and the next most feasible course, the disposition of amendments was decided upon.

The general impression among Senators is that the final vote will be reached within a week from the time of the beginning of consideration of amendments.

Most of the time of the Senate was devoted to listening to a speech by Mr. Clark of Arkansas, in which he criticised the pending rate bill as injudicious to remedy existing conditions.

MARE ISLAND'S NEEDS.

The House bill appropriating $170,000 for the emergency needs of the Navy Department at Mare Island and for the postal service at San Francisco made necessary by the earthquake was passed.

Mr. Daniel gave notice that tomorrow he would address the Senate on the Rate Bill.

SACRAMENTO RIVER WATER.

The House bill authorizing the Central Canal and Irrigation Company to divert waters from the Sacramento River was passed. The Railroad Rate Bill was called up by Mr. Tillman and Mr Clark of Arkansas made a speech upon the measure. The speech of Mr. Clark was directed to the several constitutional questions in controversy, but at the outset he stated that, in his opinion, the pending bill was not in accordance with the demands of the public, and, if passed, the public would get a bad impression of the capacity of Congress to correct existing evils with the carriers.

The Arkansas Senator took up the subject that had been debated by Messrs. Bailey and Spooner, as to whether Congress had the power to limit the granting of preliminary injunctions, and said that unless some better authority was brought forward than that presented by the Wisconsin Senator, the assaults upon Mr. Bailey's contention could not be upheld.

Mr. Clark said he would not make a wholesale attack upon the power of injunctions, for he believed the injunctions to be a wholesome power, but he was convinced that Congress could say that, in certain cases, preliminary injunctions shall not be granted.

In his speech, Mr. Clark contended that Congress has power to forbid preliminary injunctions in certain cases, and at any rate, the bill should go out relieved of the possibility of judicial interference with the findings of the commission. He also believed that the only judicial question involved in the matter of rate fixing was the question of just compensation, and that the courts exercise jurisdiction in no other point. He thought there should be no other valuation of the roads, but that the compensation should be fixed at, say, 6 per cent. In the cases of the more valuable roads he would arrive at a correct return by determining the value of the property.

"What would you do with roads that make nothing?" inquired Mr. Foraker.

"Turn them over to somebody that could make money out of them," responded Mr. Clark.

Mr. Tillman suggested May 9 for the date for taking the vote on the Railroad Rate Bill. The request brought out suggestions from fifteen to twenty Senators. After discussion, unanimous consent was made to have the general debate cease Thursday, May 3, and to have the bill taken up by sections at the beginning of the session Friday, with the understanding that from that time forward amendments will be considered under the rule limiting speeches to fifteen minutes' duration, the vote on each amendment to be taken without debate is exhausted.

"Thank the Lord for that," exclaimed Mr. Rice with a sigh of relief, evidently voicing the sentiment of the entire Senate.

At an executive session, the Senate adjourned.

IN THE HOUSE.

HOUSE.—This was both a field day and a "seed" day in the House, the major portion of the legislative session being given over to the consideration of the Agricultural Bill and, incident thereto, the free distribution of seeds, for which the bill does not provide, but which it is agreed to restore to the bill.

Immediately after the approval of the journal, Mr. Olmsted of Pennsylvania presented a resolution of thanks on behalf of the people of the United States to Gen. Horace Porter, late Ambassador to France, for his untiring efforts to discover and disinter the body of John Paul Jones. The resolution was unanimously adopted, with a further resolution that Gen. Porter's speech recently delivered at Annapolis on the occasion of the interment of the body of America's first admiral should be printed in the Congressional Record and be made a Congressional document.

Eighteen pages of the Agricultural Bill were considered and perfected. The debate on the question of free seeds will be resumed tomorrow, when a vote is expected on the amendment to insert an appropriation of $90,000 for the purchase and distribution of "rare and unusual seeds."

Mr. Rixey of Virginia charged the metropolitan press with selfishness in opposing free seeds, and remarked also that the Agricultural Committee had been parsimonious in its provisions for good roads.

A resolution was given to the House by Representative Hearst of New York, appropriating $2,500,000 additional for the California earthquake and fire sufferers.

CORNER HOPS AFTER QUAKE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 30.—There is, says the Oregonian today, to all intents and purposes, a corner in the remainder of the 1905 hop crop.

Three firms, taking advantage of the heavy destruction of hops in the California disaster, secretly ordered their buyers in Oregon and Washington to go into the market and so well have they done their work that out of between 4000 and 5000 bales in the growers' hands, ten days ago, not to exceed 400 remain.

DILLON WALLACE RETURNS FROM WILD PARTS.

Was Companion of Leonidas Hubbard, Who Met Death on Former Journey—Party Takes Trail With Dog Team and Penetrates into Places Hitherto Unexplored.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—A special from Quebec says: Dillon Wallace, the companion of Leonidas Hubbard upon his fatal trip into the interior of Labrador, reached here by the steamer King Edward from the last stage of another journey into the same wilds which has occupied him during the entire winter.

With Mr. Wallace are Clifton R. Eastan, student of forestry at the Vanderbilt estate, Biltmore, N. C., and Leigh Stanton, a Nova Scotian.

The party went in last summer by way of the Northwest River to Ungava Bay, arriving there on the sixteenth of October, having been almost four months on the trail from that point. They visited Fort Shimo, 150 miles to the west, by dog team, and returned to the Hudson Bay post on the George River.

They set out for Quebec on January 1, following the coast line. They were drawn by dog teams as far as Esquimaux Point, where they arrived about a fortnight ago, and waited for a few days for the arrival of the steamer for Quebec.

Their journey by dog team totaled about 2000 miles. They are in splendid health, looking well and robust. They took plenty of supplies with them and consequently endured very few hardships.

DR. DEVINE REPORTS ON SUPPLIES SENT NORTH.

Tents and Men's Shoes in Ample Amounts Now on Hand—War Department Explains Why but Small Amount of Congress Appropriation Is Still Available for Relief Work.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Judge W. W. Morrow, president of the California branch of the Red Cross, advised the National Red Cross today that it will be better from this time on for the society to send money to California rather than food and provisions, as the immediate needs are provided for.

Dr. Edward A. Devine, special representative of the Red Cross at San Francisco, made the following report today on supplies sent to earthquake sufferers: "Have tabulation from Quartermaster Devol of supplies reported to have been received to April 28 and of supplies en route or ordered. It shows on the whole, remarkable discrimination and intelligent purchases. Supplies received:

"Five carloads of stoves; 1850 stove pipe joints; 28 carloads of forage; 1600 tons and 25 carloads of tentage; two cars and 250,000 feet of lumber; 160 tons of lime; 17 tons of medical supplies; 2 carloads of acid and chemicals; 7 carloads of wood; 241 cars and four steamer loads of subsistence stores; 1570 tons of flour; 5 cars of fresh meat; 185 cars of miscellaneous stores; 1 car of oranges; 5 cars of clothing; two cars of salt; camp outfit from Los Angeles, 23 cars.

EN ROUTE OR ORDERED.

"Supplies en route or ordered: Eight cars of tentage; 9 cars and 1 steamer load of medical supplies; 3 cars closets and troughs; 2 cars of blankets; 2 cars of telegraph and telephone supplies; 18 cars of lumber; 7 cars of odorless ex-tank wagons; 18 cars of subsistence stores; seven cars and 1678 barrels of flour; 7600 pounds of coffee; 3500 pounds of tobacco; 600 boxes of chocolate; 2 cars of ice; 32 cars and 160 tons of miscellaneous supplies.

"Have now ample supplies of tents and men's shoes."

Commenting on the dispatch from San Francisco expressing the surprise of the Citizens' Committee that only $300,000 of the $1,500,000 relief fund appropriated by Congress is still available for relief work, Acting Secretary Oliver of the War Department last night pointed out that it was never contemplated that the appropriation should be spent by the citizens of San Francisco. The money, according to the resolution of Congress, was to be expended by the War Department; was to reimburse that department for rations, tents, blankets, etc., belonging to the army which were shipped to San Francisco, and to purchase other relief supplies. The appropriation, Gen. Oliver explained, was allotted among the various supply bureaus of the army, certain amounts going to the commissary bureau, the quartermaster's bureau and the Signal Corps, the money allotted to the latter being for the purpose of restoring telephone and telegraph communication, etc.

FINANCIAL TROUBLES BECOMING APPARENT.

Phelan Has to Arrange With the Subtreasury for Money—General Committee Has no Plan as yet for Solving Latest Problem.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Three hundred thousand dollars was forwarded by wire by the American Red Cross, today, to James D. Phelan, chairman of the Red Cross and Relief Committee in San Francisco, and he was advised that $1,000,000 more is at the disposal of the committee.

Gen. Greely, reporting to the War Department on conditions in San Francisco, states that order is being well maintained, drunkenness is entirely absent, owing to restrictions on liquor selling; water conditions are improving, the general public health is excellent, and electric railways are gradually renewing a limited service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—At the meeting of the Finance Committee, this afternoon, no plans were submitted for solving the financial troubles of the city, and that question still remains open for future consideration.

Chairman Phelan today announced that he had been unable to cash drafts amounting to $450,000 in Oakland, today, but that he had made arrangements with the sub-treasury to obtain the money tomorrow.

Dr. E. E. Baker, Frank Stratton, and C. R. Brown of Oakland were added to the Finance Committee, so that the relief work in Oakland might by systematized.

Dr. Ward, president of the Board of Health, reported that the sanitation of the city continued in excellent condition, and that only a few cases of contagious diseases had been reported. The death rate was normal. Dr. Ward said that it had cost so far $24,000 to move the garbage and dump it into the sea.

SHORTAGE OF FOOD.

A feeling akin to consternation was created at the meeting of the General Municipal Committee today when Mayor Schmitz stated that the city faced a shortage in the food supply. It had been the popular belief and that of many officials also that San Francisco, through the generous aid of the nation, had been placed in a position above want for a long time to come, and the Mayor's declaration came in the nature of a painful surprise.

WORK OF DISTRIBUTION.

It was decided at a conference held today by Gov. Pardee, Congressman Kahn, Gen. Greely and Mayor Mott of Oakland that the distribution of relief supplies in Oakland should be placed also under military direction similar to that in vogue in San Francisco. Oakland, being the nearest large place of refuge from this city, has been obliged to attend to the task of feeding and housing thousands of unfortunate people, and it is stated that the same misuse of food by unscrupulous and mercenary persons has been unearthed there.

Today, the plan of Gen. Greely for distributing food to people in want was commenced in a number of the newly-created districts, and there was some diminution noticeable in the output of goods.

FIFTEEN DAYS' FOOD SUPPLY IS IN SIGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Basing his calculation on reports received within the past twenty-four hours, Gen. Greely stated this morning that the entire available food supply, including shipments on hand and those en route, would be sufficient for the present population for fifteen days. This reckoning is made upon the rate at which supplies have ben consumed since the fire. Under the army-ration system that will hereafter prevail, Gen. Greely stated it is his belief that the same amount of food would last twenty-one days.

"Within the next seventy-two hours," said Gen. Greely, "we shall be obliged to deal with another very serious problem—the question of feeding able-bodied male adults. The difficulty will be to distinguish in the cases of clerks, stenographers, music teachers and others who are actually unable to return an equivalent for a day's wages in hard labor. The men who are able to work will have to find occupation as fast as it is presented."

Gov. Pardee and Congressman Julius Kahn were present this morning at a conference between Gen. Greely and Mayor Frank Mott of Oakland. The latter requested military supervision of the distribution of supplies in Oakland, stating that the business men heretofore in charge of the relief work were now compelled to give their attention to personal affairs. Gen. Greely stated that Oakland would be placed upon the same basis as San Francisco in this respect and that the various relief stations would probably be taken over by army officers by tomorrow noon.

CHARGES AGAINST DOWIE.

Written List Is Presented to John Alexander, Supported by a Bunch of Affidavits.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—John Alexander Dowie today received a written list of the charges against him as president of the Christian Catholic Church. In his address yesterday at Zion City, he asked for a list of the charges against him, and it was promptly given.

The charges were supported by affidavits, copies of which were sent to Dowie along with the list. He was given until Wednesday of this week to make reply.

THE RICHARD CASE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In reply to Dowie's public challenge, Overseer Voliva submitted to the "First Apostle" a typewritten document containing specific charges of polygamous teaching, immoral, extravagance and misappropriation of funds.

"The accusations we make in this document we know we can prove," said Voliva.

Among them is a statement regarding the young woman to whom Dowie yesterday referred on the platform. The statement is to the effect that, while on his round-the-world-trip, Dowie was closeted with this young woman for one hour in the stateroom of his private car Tecalco, en route from Los Angeles to San Francisco. In his sermon, the "First Apostle" said that, one year ago, Anna Rickard, now in Cincinnati, had made the same charges against Overseer Excell and three other overseers that she had been represented as making against him.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 30.—The Constitutional Democrats have a clear working majority of seven, 178 members of Parliament belonging to that party thus far having been elected. Besides, the opposition is expected to draw strength from forty-eight members who are classified as independents, and from seventeen whose political opinions are unknown.

INVESTIGATION WAS PUT OFF.

Grand Jury Declares It Hearkened to Jerome.

Political Contributions May not Be Larceny.

Attorney Desires Ruling Prior to Indictments.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—The grand jury for April, upon the completion of its term today, returned a presentment to Recorder Goff, in which it declared that it had failed to investigate political contributions by insurance officials because Dist.-Atty. Jerome had advised the jury not to do so.

The jury stated, also, that it had asked Jerome for the evidence against the insurance officials, and that he had opposed action because he desired first to secure an opinion from the appellate division of the Supreme Court of this State on the question whether such political contributions constituted larceny. Such an opinion, Jerome had told the jury, would be given early in May, and the cases then could be taken up by a special grand jury, which he had asked for.

Justice Greenbaum, the District Attorney informed the jury, had already decided that the contributions were larceny, but Jerome expressed his doubts whether this ruling would be sustained by the appellate division.

Jerome said it was in order to secure such a ruling before indicting any of the Insurance officials and attaching to them an indelible stain that he took the case against George W. Perkins direct to the court, instead of before the grand jury, in March.

"If Justice Greenbaum's ruling be sustained," the District Attorney said, "it will be necessary to call as witnesses Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, and George B. Cortelyou, its chairman, and Postmaster-General, and indict a large portion of the officers of every financial institution in this city.

"Recorder Goff accepted the presentment and discharged the jury, but informed it that it had not done its full duty, although it had rendered a signal service in accentuating the 'unequivocal responsibility' which now rests upon the District Attorney.'"

N. E. A. MEET POSTPONED.

President Schaefer Puts Off Gathering of Educators for One Year.

PASADENA, April 30.—Dean Chamberlain of Throop Polytechnic Institute is in receipt of a telegram from President Nathan Schaefer of the National Educational Association, reading, "Meeting of National Educational Association postponed until next year."

Mr. Chamberlain states that the action of the association in calling off the meeting for this year is probably based on the supposition that the earthquake in San Francisco would probably deter many people from coming at this time, and that the officers, therefore, feared that the attendance would be small. Mr. Chamberlain, during his recent visit to San Francisco, consulted with many prominent northern educators, and found that the general feeling was that the meeting should be held and should convene on the Coast.

He states that all seemed to be adverse to allowing the convention to be postponed until another year, and felt that, as it was impossible to hold it in San Francisco, it should either be transferred to Los Angeles or Berkeley. Whether or not any further action will be taken in the matter Mr. Chamberlain does not know.

FIRE ENGINE SAVES WINE.

About One and a Half Million Gallons Pumped Into Barges from Cellars.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

STOCKTON, April 30.—The California Wine Association sent here today a barge load of wine saved from the cellars on Fourth and Brannan streets in San Francisco, and it will be distilled into brandy here. The wine was pumped from the cellar of the burned storage place and run into the big barge, which holds 250,000 gallons, and was towed here by the steamboat Leader. Here, it was pumped into tank cars and conveyed to the El Pinal winery.

A fire engine is now being used to pump out the wine in the San Francisco cellar and it is run through 2000 feet of pipe to the foot of Third street, where it is loaded into tanks. There are about one and a half million gallons of wine to be saved in this manner.

BUSINESS FALLS OFF.

SHOWING OF COMPANIES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As in the case of the quarterly report of the Mutual Life, recently made public, the Equitable Life Assurance Society's figures in the quarterly report will probably show a heavy falling off in new business, as compared with a like period of last year.

One of the changes places the appointment and removal of the vice-presidents in the power of the society's president. This probably means the removal of Second Vice-President Tarbell.

THINKS MUENTER KILLED HIMSELF.

BROODED OVER CHARGE THAT HE MURDERED WIFE.

University of Chicago Professor Has Theory for Disappearance of Harvard Instructor Sought by Police — Brother-in-Law Telegraphs That He has Evidence of Arsenic.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—That Erich Muenter, brooding over the charge that he murdered his wife in Cambridge, Mass., and depressed to the verge of melancholia by grief because of her death, has killed himself, is the belief held by Muenter's friends.

"I am convinced now that Muenter did not kill his wife," said Prof. J. M. Crowe of the University of Chicago yesterday. Muenter lived with Prof. Crowe while he was an instructor at the university. "I believe, however, that he has committed suicide.

"Knowing his temperament as well as I do, I do not believe he withstood the shock of his wife's death and the blow which followed in charges that he had killed her. He was of morose disposition at best and such misfortune as has overtaken him would be calculated to drive him to desperation.

"The fact that he left his children with his sisters would seem to me to strengthen the theory that he contemplated suicide when he left the home of his relatives."

HAS EVIDENCE OF ARSENIC.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) April 30.—A telegram from Eugene H. Krembs, of Chicago, in which the sender declares he has evidence to convict Erich Muenter, the Harvard College instructor, of administering arsenic to Mrs. Muenter, who was Krembs's sister, was received today by the Cambridge police. Krembs further demanded in his message that Muenter, who is already being sought by the police on the charge of murdering his wife, be arrested on sight. The police will at once communicate with Krembs to find out the evidence which he claims to have.

WHAT HIS MOTHER SAYS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

MONROVIA, April 30.—Erich Muenter would have little chance of concealment in his mother's home in Monrovia. A little three-room cottage, and the resort of patients of this white-haired healer of the Christian Science faith, it offers no privacy. Since April 15 she has lived here alone, and it was only a few days ago that the house was thrown open for the plumbing to be repaired and there was no trace of a man's presence, while the workmen had liberty to come and go as they pleased.

"Certainly my son is not insane," says the aged woman with the sweet accent peculiar to the refined German woman. "He was not so from the letters I had from him, and he was too good to hurt the woman he had loved so long. For seven years he loved his wife, and waited because they had not money enough to marry. If he did not love her, could he not have refused to marry her? Then there was still not enough money, and for one year she went to Chicago and taught. This was when her child was two years old. He was so happy to have his wife back again. He wrote me about it. No one could help loving her, she was so beautiful in face and character."

Sunday friends took to the aged woman the paper which had an account of the accusation against her son. "I only laugh, for I know my son too well. It is all lies. It is that they would hurt the Christian Scientists that they tell all the scandals."

Sunday was also the day that Miss Muenter of Los Angeles visited her mother. She was stunned with the reports that came from the East and asked her mother if she believed it. The older woman reassured her.

According to the mother's story, Erich Muenter was in Chicago where he gave his family to understand that he would leave the children with them and return to Boston. The mother believes that he is on his way back to face any charges against him and declares that the distance between the two cities accounts for the absence of the man. One story that she denies is that Muenter's wife supported him while he was in college. He taught and paid his way in this manner. She describes him as being of a deeply religious disposition, interesting himself in the study of the Bible from a very early age. She has corresponded with him in regard to religious subjects in recent years, and believes that both he and his wife were Christian Scientists. He was reared in the Lutheran church. Now all the family are of the same belief, and the mother affirms:

"It will all be proved false, and we shall be a happy family again." Mrs. Muenter is respected here. She founded the church here over a year ago and is the leader and healer. She says that she is eight years old in "Science."

Four Houses in Saved Section of Van Ness Avenue Shattered, and Persons Who Found Shelter There Must Seek New Locations—Every One Fled Before Charge was Fired.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—An unfortunate happening, today, was the destruction of a number of homes in the saved section on Van Ness avenue. The blasting gang was notified that certain insecure walls were a menace to pedestrians, and in order to blow up an unusually solidly-constructed facade, it was obliged to use a large quantity of dynamite. As a result of the tremendous explosion, four houses on the other side of the city's broadest thoroughfare were utterly wrecked.

The blasters began their work this morning on the walls of the Marie Antoinette, an apartment house at Bush and Van Ness. It did not take much powder to level the remains of the structure and the blasters then attacked the walls of the Concordia Club, at Van Ness and Post. This building had been solidly constructed, the bricks being laid in concrete, and very heavy charges of powder were placed in and around it.

The effect of the explosion was tremendous. Out from the column of smoke that immediately surrounded the building a tower of brick was hurled clear across the avenue; the ground within 500 yards from the place shook as if by earthquake; glass in window panes rattles to the pavement and a shower of brick and mortar was scattered all about the remnants of the buildings. Four houses of frame immediately opposite the club building were reduced to ruins.

CHINA IN FRAGMENTS.

The house on the corner of Post and Van Ness, owned by Dr. Joseph I. Manson and occupied by him as his office and residence, was shattered; not a piece of glass or chinaware in the house was left intact; hardly a bit of plaster remains on the walls or ceilings. The adjoining house fared even worse, the entire front being wrecked and it seems about ready to fall. The third house, occupied by F. Goodban, is a ruin, and the same can be said of the fourth house in the row.

The ruin of the four houses is complete and the people who found shelter there after the danger of the earthquake and fire had passed will be obliged to go elsewhere. Several of the rooms had been rented by the owners to lawyers and others for offices, and these people will now have to seek new locations.

On Franklin and Post streets the shock of the explosion was also felt and a great many windows were shattered.

That no one was injured was due to the fact that every one had fled to a place of safety before the charge was lighted.

Numerous Vessels of Coastwise Trade Leaving in Ballast for Lumber Ports for Cargoes for Rebuilding City—Regulation Against Taking Out Foodstuffs Still in Force.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Shipping is rapidly returning to normal conditions. Beginning today, the Pacific Coast Steamship Company will run all its steamers on schedule dates in force before the big disaster.

According to the Merchants' Exchange, the usual number of vessels are arriving. Naturally, however, there are many idle vessels in the harbor because of the lack of cargo.

Numerous ships of the coastwise trade are leaving in ballast for the lumber ports, and soon heavily-laden lumber carriers will be coming into port in fleets.

The regulation against taking out food stuffs is still in force, and the steamship Alameda, which sailed yesterday for Honolulu, carried little besides machinery and hardware. The Mongolia sails tomorrow with a similar cargo, going direct to China. The China, which is to leave May 5, will touch at Honolulu.

Among the arrivals of today was the steamship Curacoa, from Mazatlan, with a miscellaneous cargo, ranging from boxes of shark fins to bars of bullion. She brought little in the way of food stuffs.

The first Australian mail since the earthquake is due to arrive today on the Ventura. All outgoing mail for New Zealand and Australia is sent from here to Vancouver and forwarded from that port.

The work of rehabilitating the Merchants' Exchange building is well under way. The San Francisco National Bank has engaged quarters on the ground floor, while on the floor above will be the German Savings Bank and the Safe Deposit and Trust Company.

Favors Shown Other Lines Must Be Granted Him or He Will Refuse to Extend—Denounces Real Estate Speculators on Ground That They Have Held Up His Line.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 30.—E. H. Harriman today declared that his road, in entering Seattle, would demand the same concessions that have been granted other lines and that unless he got them he would defer building.

With an expenditure here already of between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000, Mr. Harriman said his plans in Seattle represented a total expenditure that would mean an annual interest charge of $600,000. But unless he gets a franchise satisfactory to the road he will hold his real estate and refuse to extend.

Incidentally, Mr. Harriman denounced the real estate speculators, on the ground that they had held up his road and declared that rather than do any more business which gave speculators a chance to hold up the line he would wait ten years for legitimate property valuations.

Mr. Harriman wants an entrance to his passenger depot over Fourth avenue which would involve a slight curve to reach the property.

BAPTIST TALK OF MISSIONS.

Young People's Convention Meets Friday.

Postponed Concert Appeals to the Churches.

Y.M.C.A. Campaign for Funds Begins With Vim.

The Southern California Baptist conference of evangelism was held yesterday in the First Baptist Church, this city. It consisted of a conference of the ministers in the morning, a general session in the afternoon, followed by a fellowship banquet and an evening meeting.

The ministers were addressed in the morning by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Woelfkin, of New York, general evangelist of the denomination in America, who took for his subject: "The Office of the Holy Spirit." It was an address of great power and made a deep impression on his brethren.

In the afternoon an address of welcome was delivered by Rev. Robert J. Burdette, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, and a congratulatory talk by Rev. S. A. Northrop, pastor of First Church. Rev. Albert Hatcher Smith of Pasadena responded for the visitors. The objects of the conference were stated by Rev. Dr. C. A. Wooddy, Pacific Coast evangelist.

REV. E. E. CHIVERS, D.D.

The principal address of the afternoon was made by Rev. Dr. E. E. Chivers of New York, field secretary of the Home Mission Society. Dr. Chivers has been in the fore of all aggressive Baptist movements for many years, and is regarded as one of the greatest men in the denomination. He was the first international secretary of the Baptist Young People's Union and has been a power among the young people of America. Both he and Dr. Woelfkin delivered addresses last night. These two men have swung around the continent together, waking up Baptists to the needs of the hour.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday the State convention of the Baptist Young People's Union will be held in Riverside. Henry D. Schults of this city, the State president, has made elaborate arrangements for the convention. Among the leading speakers will be Dr. Chivers, who will be present at the sessions on Friday and Saturday; Rev. Robert J. Burdette, who will lecture on Saturday afternoon; and Dr. S. A. Northrop, Saturday evening. Dr. J. Loughridge of India will be one of the attractions, and many other well-known men will assist in making the convention interesting.

I. H. Meredith

SUNSHINE CONCERT.

WILL BE HELD THURSDAY.

The postponed Sunshine Concert of the Spring Song Festival will be held in Simpson Auditorium on Thursday night. There will be 1000 children in the chorus, under the direction of I. H. Meredith, who is one of the most noted drillers of juvenile choruses in this country, as well as a prolific author of songs.

Little Annie Row will be the soloist at this concert, and among other songs will sing one of Mr. Meredith's best, entitled: "Sleep, Little Baby of Mine."

The singing of so large a chorus of children is always beautiful, but this music prepared after weeks of practice under Mr. Meredith, is beyond comparison with anything Los Angeles has ever heard in that line. The programme is full of novelties and surprises, and in addition to this the report of the judges will be made, awarding the prizes won in the great parade on Saturday.

All the net proceeds, if any there should be, will be for the benefit of the sufferers by the San Francisco disaster. Obstacles, one after another, interfered with the festival, but backed as it was by more than 100 churches of the city, the members of these churches should at least be loyal enough to see that their managers are not left with a debt hanging over the City Sunday-school Association. The success and influence of the parade of Saturday is sufficient to warrant the undertaking, and the people of the churches should not balk at patronizing the Sunshine Concert, which is one of the necessary features of the festival in order to make the parade possible. The tickets are on sale at Fitzgerald's music store, where those purchased for Friday night may be exchanged without extra charge. The transfer of the concert to Simpson Auditorium is such a desirable change in every way that the house should be crowded. The final rehearsal will be held in the Sunday-school room of the First Congregational Church, Ninth and Hope streets, at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, where it is desired every member of the chorus shall attend.

CAMPAIGN REOPENS.

PICKING UP THE STRINGS.

The destruction by fire of the fine Young Men's Christian Association building at San Francisco leaves California without a notable structure of this character, and makes it doubly important that Los Angeles complete the plans which were so well under way when the calamity came upon the northern part of the State.

The campaign reopened the headquarters in the Johnson Building yesterday and the secretaries began picking up the strings that were dropped in order that all energies might be directed toward relieving the distress of our neighbors. Of the minimum sum of $350,000 there remains to be secured $130,000, and the zeal with which the work was renewed yesterday indicates that the jubilee which was to have marked the finish last night, according to the original plans, will be held with increased vim on the night of May 21.

The chairmen of all the committees will hold a meeting today at noon, and tomorrow at noon the committee of the whole will have a meeting. The ground will be completely gone over and tomorrow the results of the sudden cessation of effort will have disappeared. Secretary Luther and Assistant Quillian with their corps of clerks were at work yesterday getting office matters in shape to be ready for these committee meetings and once more have the data well in hand.

TO HELP US CONSOLIDATE.

Governor Will Include Los Angeles Needs in Call for Special Session.

Sidney A. Butler, representing the City and County Consolidation Commission, who went to Oakland to interview Governor Pardee, telegraphs that the Governor has consented to include in his call for a special session of the Legislature an article relating to the enactment of a constitutional amendment which may be submitted to the people of the State in the coming November election, relative to the consolidation of Los Angeles city and county governments. It has been found that the State constitution requires amendment in order that the consolidation plans may be carried out; and if the amendment is submitted by the Legislature in the proposed special session, two or more years will be saved in the time necessary for carrying out these plans. The Consolidation Commissioners are much gratified at this prospect. They had expected to be obliged to wait two years for a chance to amend the constitution, not supposing that the wheels could be set in motion till the regular session of the Legislature next winter and the State election of 1908.

Pretty Romance Ends in Happy Marriage.

MR. AND MRS. GEO. P. FELLOWS, who were married yesterday.

The culmination of a pretty romance begun a year ago in the sick room took place yesterday afternoon when Miss Mary L. Edminester became the wife of George P. Fellows, a wealthy New Yorker. A year ago Mr. Fellows fell ill while in Los Angeles on business and was taken to the California Hospital, where Miss Edminester nursed him through a long and serious illness.

She was studying at the hospital at the time and was detailed as special nurse in the case. A warm friendship soon sprung up between the sick man and his nurse. This soon ripened into love and Fellows recently came to this city to claim the girl who had so faithfully nursed him as his bride.

The ceremony took place at the home of Rev. Burt Estes Howard, and Dr. R. Nichol Smith, who attended Mr. Fellows during his illness, and his wife were the only ones present. Mrs. Fellows is a very handsome and charming woman and has many friends in this city and in San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Fellows have left for New York, where they will make their home.

WARD BABIES ON THE JUMP.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS GAINS IN G.O.P. DISTRICTS.

Only Loss in Children Is Reported from the Democratic Eighth—Boyle Heights and the Sixth are the Leaders in "Kids," and All Others Doing Well.

Census Marshal Bert L. Farmer completed the taking of the school census yesterday and the last of the host of deputies who have canvassed every nook and corner of Los Angeles, reported to their chief last night. The task has been great, but was completed within the time allowed.

San Francisco's calamity seriously interfered with the work of the Census Marshal. In several instances it was necessary to cover a district twice because of the many "call-backs." So great was the interest in the news from San Francisco that thousands left their homes in the eager search for news. Housewives left all to scan the bulletin boards around the local newspaper offices, and the deputies were obliged to call again.

This necessitated a vast amount of extra work and credit is due the census man for the remarkable record he has made during the canvass under such adverse conditions.

For the coming ten days an army of clerks will work in the basement of the Grand-avenue schoolhouse in an effort to complete the report by May 10. An estimate of the possible number of census children in each of the nine wards of Los Angeles is given by Mr. Farmer. The figures are based on the length of time consumed during the canvass of the several districts.

The Sixth Ward will lead all others in rate of increase, both in population and in census children. Last year the ward had 8687, and this year Mr. Farmer believes a total of 10,187 census children, or an increase of 1500 in this large ward will be recorded. This is more than double the increase estimated for any other ward in Los Angeles.

BUSINESS VS. CHILDREN.

The encroachment of the business district upon the Fourth Ward will be responsible for the small increase expected from the census report. Many families have removed from the downtown streets and it is expected a small increase in the number of census children will be recorded. This will also affect the population. Last year there were 5659 children in the ward.

The Fifth Ward is credited with an increase of 500, and as the total for last year was 4791, the mark registered by this ward will far exceed 5000. The development of the extreme southwestern part of Los Angeles is responsible for the large increase that, it is thought, will be registered when the report is completed.

The Second Ward had 4141 census children last year, and this year, says Mr. Farmer, there will be only a slight increase. The taking down of the oil derricks has added several choice subdivisions to this ward.

The First Ward reported 3757 census children in 1905, and this year Mr. Farmer estimates an increase of 200 for the first bailiwick of Los Angeles. Garvanza and Highland Park have built up rapidly within the past year.

"BOYLE HEIGHTS OR BUST."

Business interests are also the cause for the outlook in the Seventh Ward where no increase is anticipated. There were 4113 children in this ward last year and about this number, it is thought, will be reported for this year's census.

Honors are in store for the Ninth, where an increase of nearly 600 is expected. Last year this ward gave 2764 to the total of census children. Boyle Heights and its surroundings have built rapidly and the population in this ward is such this year that the percentage of increase promises to be large.

For the past three years there has been no increase in the number of census children in the Eighth Ward. This year the total will be far below that of any previous report. The number for 1905 was 1923, and probably not more than 1500 will be found on the roll of 1906.

The estimates of Censur Marshal Farmer are based on the length of time consumed in the canvass of the city. The figures will probably differ only slightly to the final total which will be ready shortly.

Santa Fe Announces That It Will Rush Work.

General Manager Wells Tells of New Changes.

Many Special Shriner Trains to Run as Scheduled.

The Santa Fé Railway is showing its firm confidence in California in the best manner in its power, in authorizing the immediate expenditure of more than three-quarters of a million dollars in Los Angeles and San Francisco. This money is to be expended in the development of freight terminals in the two cities.

The plans which have finally been approved, and upon which work will commence at once, were drafted, not only with regard to the existing volume of business in sight, but with a view to a greatly increased freight traffic to and from the Coast in the future.

General Manager A. G. Wells has just returned from San Francisco, where he did valiant service during the time of greatest need. As the highest official of one of the great transcontinental lines, Mr. Wells was made a member of the Transportation Committee, one of the most important and hard-worked committees, during the period of chaos and confusion. He was also appointed a member of the General Committee, and faithfully attended the meetings of the bodies during his stay in the stricken city.

WILL KEEP RIGHT ON.

"My work had principally to do with the very necessary question of furnishing proper transportation facilities," said Mr. Wells yesterday. "To that end our company placed its bay fleet and other means of transportation entirely at the disposition of the authorities. Everything was soon systematized and running along nicely.

"In the rebuilding of the city the Santa Fé will keep abreast of the general trend of improvement. Just as soon as it is possible to obtain men and supplies, we will begin the development of our freight terminal facilities there exactly as we had previously determined upon.

"While it would be impossible for me to answer the question of what changes in the well-defined districts of the city are likely to be apparent in the new San Francisco, I would say that undoubtedly there will be new lines of demarkation drawn. For instance it is likely that the wholesale districts will go south of Market street, where it will be more easily accessible to the Santa Fé and Southern Pacific terminals. And in the rebuilding of its manufacturing and industrial districts generally the city is likely to take advantage of the lessons learned from past experience, and to build and expand along the most rational and logical lines."

MILES OF NEW TRACKS.

With the final approval of the plans for the Los Angeles freight terminals, which will extend along the west bank of the Los Angeles River, practically from First to Fourth streets, the bids for actual construction will probably be let within the next ten days.

The huge new freight house and the miles of new tracks which will be laid will fill the property in this district recently purchased by the Santa Fé for this purpose.

The freight house will be constructed of steel and corrugated iron, and will be nearly 1200 feet long over all. On the other hand, the San Francisco freight houses will be two in number, each 600 feet in length.

The local railway lines at the time of the San Francisco disaster had arranged to haul twenty-six special trains of Shriners from the East to the national convention to be held here this month.

SHRINERS COMING.

Although the convention has been called off, and nearly all of these trains annulled, at least three and possibly five will come to Los Angeles anyhow. The special rate over all the roads will stand, and a great many individual Shriners and their friends are taking advantage of the inducement offered to visit Los Angeles this summer.

The Santa Fé is handling two of these trains. One will leave Chicago tomorrow and will arrive in Los Angeles with ninety passengers May 5. The other is the elegant special train of the Pennsylvania Railroad, due in Los Angeles May 6, with 125 passengers.

Other eastern Shrine temples have combined to travel on a special train to this city, coming over the Salt Lake road.

In addition to these special trains, reports from eastern agencies announce the sale of a number of the reduced-rate tickets. These tickets will be on sale until May 5, and in spite of all of the exaggerated and malicious reports sent out, railway men expect a number of summer visitors to arrive from eastern points during this and next week.

SPECIAL RATES.

Last Sunday was the last selling date of the local railways of Sunday one-fare rates for the round trip to points where the one-way fare did not exceed $2.50. This special Sunday rate has been in force all winter and has been a source of considerable satisfaction both to the public and the railways.

Yesterday the special winter rates for the Kite-Shaped Track and the Inside Track trips of the Santa Fé and Southern Pacific, respectively, were taken off. During the summer the regular local fare will apply for these popular trips. Tourists on round-trip tickets, and those coming from eastern points on Shriners' tickets will be entitled to a reduced rate for these side trips.

The management of the Southern Pacific has not yet decided when it will carry passengers directly into San Francisco by the Coast line trains, which are now diverted by way of San José to Oakland, instead of following their scheduled route to the Third and Townsend-street depot in San Francisco.

PLAIN FACTS

Cleanliness is accepted as a rule of self-preservation in every reputable brewery.

AN experienced brewer would no more boast of the purity of his beer than a gentleman would brag of having washed his face.

Purity signifies nothing more than the absence of foreign matter.

For that reason brewers who do not dare to test the substantial merits of beer always harp on purity.

A really first-class beer must, however not alone be free from self-evident defects, but it must combine all the positive excellencies known to the science of brewing.

THE TRUE TEST IS ALL-ROUND QUALITY which cannot be had without SUPERIOR MATERIALS, PERFECT TREATMENT and AMPLE STORING CAPACITY.

Upon this issue of positive superiority we challenge all competitors.

Of materials we use only the most excellent, regardless of cost. Corn, the one important substitute, which, on account of its cheapness, has been extensively adopted, never enters our brewery.

Our facilities for brewing beer are unequaled.

Our storing capacity of 600,000 barrels doubles any other brewery in the United States, and enables us to store our beer from four to five months.

Facts speak louder than words.

Publicity is the demand of the day.

The consumer is entitled to the truth.

THERE ARE A THOUSAND ADVANTAGES IN HIGH HILL HOMES.
The air is purer. The breeze is cooler. The drainage is better. The view is grander. In the recent catastrophe at San Francisco, much of the high hill property escaped both shock and fire. Hill property is more aristocratic. In every city, the heights are rendered exclusive and select by the class of people who settle them.

ATHEN HEIGHTS
OFFERS BEAUTIFUL HOMES.
Athen Heights occupies a more commanding position than any other property in the entire southwest of the city, known generally as the "Beautiful Southwest." It fronts east on Vermont ave., has excellent car service via the Redondo-Gardena electric line and the San Pedro Interurban line. Has wide streets, graded and oiled, cement walks and curbs, ornamental trees and a substantial water system piped throughout the entire tract.

Monrovia Realty Active.

Three new apartment houses are planned for Monrovia on central sites recently purchased. On the Pacific Electric railway, just opposite the depot, Bogardus & Nason will erect a pressed brick front, two-story building, with a frontage of 100 feet. The lower floor will be for store and the second one divided into suites of four and five rooms with baths.

Dr. J. T. Stuart of Los Angeles will build a modern two-story apartment house on Lime avenue, just east of Myrtle avenue, and furnish the same for tenants. A frontage of two hundred feet will be occupied by the building, and the site runs back 150 feet The structure will be a good one, and has the advantage of the proximity to the new park, and opposite the Presbyterian Church on Lime, which will soon put up a new edifice.

B. M. Blythe is having plans drawn for an apartment house to occupy his frontage of 110 feet on Ivy avenue opposite Hotel La Vista Grande.

J. B. Smith of Los Angeles has sold through W. H. Evans a 53x150 foot lot on Myrtle avenue, adjoining the laundry property to W. T. Nichol for $1550. The southwest corner of Magnolia and Linwood avenues, fronting fifty feet on Magnolia and 150 feet on Linwood has been bought by Harry Andrews of Los Angeles from C. E. Slosson for $1400. H. E. Rader has bought through Crandall & Bartle two lots on the southwest corner of Ivy and White Oak avenues from H. E. Crandall for $1800. The lots are 50x150 feet and front on Ivy.

Several building plans of importance are incubating, and new residences are being rushed to completion. The future of these most noticeable is that they are of the more expensive class, and are of architecture suitable to the surroundings of the city. The tract of the Monrovia Building and Investment Company has had the plans of its boulevard changed to give parkways of five feet in accordance with suggestions from Earnest Braunton of The Times, who considered their first parkways of three feet very narrow.

PROHIBITION MEETINGS.

Oliver W. Stewart Declares Chaos Reigns in Old Parties and Opportunity of Prohibition Is at Hand.

The Prohibition meetings held yesterday in Temperance Temple were fairly well attended. The drawing card was Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago, who is now engaged in conducting "a campaign of education" throughout this Coast.

Mr. Stewart is a fine-looking fellow on the platform and is a good talker, but he is not the man of broad horizon found in John G. Woolley; does not possess the picturesque oratory, the scathing denunciatory powers nor the strong ideality of Woolley.

Most men will be unable to agree with him in his declaration yesterday that the old parties are now in the midst of chaos and confusion and that the great opportunity of the Prohibitionists is at hand.

"Never was there a time," he said, "when men would listen to an argument as now, and all we have to do is to go it and gather the harvest."

He declared: "We are suffering from an overproduction of political bosses, and the very first thing is to take away the protection of law from the saloons. The place to begin is in the Legislature and not in the city and county organizations. If you were to elect ten wooden Indian tobacco signs to the Legislature, cart them to Sacramento and spike them to their seats, they'd strike terror to the hearts of the politicians. I'd select the Legislature ahead of anything else, and get at the very root of the trouble."

Last night Mr. Stewart went to Pasadena and tonight he will be at Pomona.

DEATH OF MRS. GREGG.

Surgical Operation Fails to Save the Life of Wife of San Bernardino County Jurist.

Mrs. Agnes Wilson Gregg, aged 42, wife of Judge Frederick W. Gregg of San Bernardino and Redlands, died at noon yesterday following an operation at the California Hospital in this city. Mrs. Gregg was a daughter of the late Mrs. Catherine Wilson and was known throughout Southern California as a member of the pioneer Wilson family whose home years ago was on the site of the present Wilson Block, corner First and Spring streets.

Mrs. Joseph Boylson is a sister and George S. and Philip L. Wilson of No. 1102 West Second street are brothers of the deceased. Mrs. Gregg was a member of the Catholic church. She was beloved for her charities and was also well known as a club woman. The funeral will be held from St. Vibiana's Cathedral probably Thursday morning and interment will take place in Calvary Cemetery.

BROTHER SHOT IN BUNNY HUNT.

RIVERSIDE BOY HIT BY ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE.

Rabbit Is Killed, but in Lowering the Hammer of His Gun Clio Nafzger's Finger Slips and the Ball Enters Dalton's Groin—Father Lectures the Lads on Use of Care.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Clio Nafzger shot his brother here this afternoon while hunting rabbits. Dalton Nafzger, 17 years old, and his brother Clio, aged 16, left their home at No. 372 East Tenth street.

At Kansas avenue they jumped a rabbit. Dalton fired twice from a 25-caliber repeating rifle and at the third shot killed the fast fleeing hare. In glee he started for it.

His brother Clio started to let the hammer down on a 22-caliber repeating rifle. It slipped from under his thumb, discharged the gun, and the ball entered his brother's right hip from the rear. It was cut out of the groin about half an inch under the skin by Dr. A. S. Parker.

The bullet grazed the hip bone and is greatly flattened. The boy will be laid up for two or three weeks.

His father, who is a veteran sportsman, does not intend that the youngsters shall quit the field. He spent the evening giving both boys good advice and exhorting them to carefulness in the future. This course has greatly consoled the younger son who seemed heart-broken because of his brother's injury.

BRUTES ARE VICIOUS.

Man and Boy are Chewed by Bulldogs and Badly Bitten Before Being Rescued.

While unloading oil from a tank wagon in Alhambra yesterday afternoon, C. I. Snyder was attacked by a vicious bull dog and seriously bitten about the hands. He was immediately brought into this city and taken to the Receiving Hospital, where the police surgeons dressed eleven gashes in his hands and arms.

Snyder was taken to the hospital by the owner of the dog and the man refused to tell his name or answer any other questions and finally had to be put out of the hospital. He had, it is said, given Snyder a good deal of whisky on the way in, and the injured man could hardly remember his own name and declared he did not know who he worked for. He lives in Pasadena.

DOGS ATTACK BOY.

Philip Tompkins, aged 15, of No. 492 Custer street, was attacked by a large bull dog while he was walking down Wilmington street yesterday morning. The lad sustained serious lacerations of the right forearm. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where he said he had first been attacked by a small cur, but had beaten it off, when the big bull dog rushed upon him. He was rescued by passers-by, who clubbed the beast and made him let go of the lad. Young Tompkins is a messenger boy, and on his arrival at the Central Police Station his tears were quickly turned into a smile, for he saw his bicycle, which had been stolen, among those recovered by the police.

CAN'T AFFORD TO QUIT.

Baker & Hamilton Will Build Larger Plant at San Francisco Than They Had Before the Fire.

Among the dispatches from San Francisco last week was one which stated that Baker & Hamilton, one of the largest wholesale hardware establishments on the Pacific Coast, probably would not rebuild their San Francisco house which was destroyed by fire, but would depend upon their houses in Sacramento, Los Angeles and Seattle. Instead of being in doubt as to what they will do, the firm is impatient to begin rebuilding its San Francisco plant on a larger scale than before and the work of reconstruction will begin as soon as the ruins of the old buildings are cooled sufficiently to make it possible to clear away the débris.

W. A. Cowley, who is connected with the Los Angeles branch of the firm, stated yesterday that Baker & Hamilton cannot afford not to rebuild because in the great work of rebuilding the ruined city, the firm will play an important part by supplying a great portion of the needed building materials. The business of the firm is now being cared for by the Sacramento and Los Angeles houses.

Millions Die of Slow Starvation

Nourishment in Food Less Important Than Power to Assimilate it.

It is not how much you eat, but how much nourishment you derive from what you eat. Beef has always been the food for strong men. It is the foundation of our diet and furnishes the muscle-building, strength-making elements necessary to enable modern men and women to successfully meet the requirements of their lives. Unfortunately, beef consists largely of waste that is useless and which places a tax upon the digestive organs so great that those whose stomachs are weakened through disease or excess cannot meet it.

In Cudahy's Rex Beef Extract is found beef in a form that even the weakest stomach can readily assimilate. Every pound of extract represents forty-five pounds of the finest lean beef. It is the concentrated strength, flavor and nourishment of the beef, with all the water, waste tissue and fiber left out. It is not only an ideal food in itself in all cases of weak digestive power, but it is a great promoter of digestive processes and helps your stomach care for the other food you eat. It is invaluable for culinary purposes, and in the preparation of roasts, steaks, chops, soups and gravy. It forms a delightful beverage that braces without leaving bad after-effects. Most grocers and all druggists sell Cudahy's Rex Beef Extract. For your own sake you should refuse all substitutes.

Our Guarantee Is: Not a Dollar Need Be Paid Until Cured

OUR SPECIAL OFFER In view of there being so many afflicted with private, chronic and pelvic diseases who are treating with quack specialists and inexperienced physicians without receiving any benefit, we have decided to make a special offer to charge only one-half our regular fee for curing those who are now undergoing treatment elsewhere and are dissatisfied, provided they come to us before June 1. For instance, if you are afflicted with either Piles, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Stricture or Nervous Decline, our charge for curing either of which, without any complications is $25, we will cure you for $12.50 and accept the money in any way you may wish to pay. We will also cure Contagious Blood Poison for $25, which is just half our regular fee. This liberal offer is made to enable those to be cured who have spent their money in doctoring without relief, and to show the many who have treated with dozens of physicians without benefit that we have the only methods that produce a life-long cure.

MEN, I HAVE THE CURE

I want to talk to men who have pains and aches, who feel run down physically, who realize that the old "fire" and energy which was so evident in youth is absent now; men who can't stand the amount of exertion they could years ago. I want you—if that means you—to see what I have done for others who were just as bad off. That's my introduction. If a friend in whom you had confidence presented some one to you and said, "Jack, here's Brown; he has made good with me, and I trust him," wouldn't you trust him, too? If you will tell me where you are I will give the name of a man in your own town whom I have cured.

I WILL PAY $1,000 FORFEIT

For a case of Nervous Debility, Varicocele, Rheumatism, Lame Back, Lumbago, Sciatica, any case of Kidney Disease, that has not gone as far as Bright's Disease, Indigestion, Constipation, or any weakness which I cannot cure with my new Improved Electric Belt, the marvel of electricians, the most wonderful curative device that has ever been introduced. This Belt is complete with Free Electrical Suspensory.

This Electric Suspensory carries the current direct and cures all weaknesses of men; varicocele, etc. It develops and expands all weak nerves and checks a loss of vitality. No case of Failing Vigor, Varicocele or Debility can resist this powerful Electric Attachment. It never fails to cure.

F. J. Schmidt, S. P. Co., Benson, Arizona, writes: "The feeling of despondency is gone and I have perfect confidence in myself now. I'm a well man."

No man should be weak, no man should suffer the loss of that vitality which renders life worth living. No man should allow himself to become less a man than nature intended him; no man should suffer when there is at hand a certain cure for his weakness.

My Electric Belt, with special Electric Suspensory, will restore your power. It will check all loss of vital power and affects every organ of the body.

E. E. Beebe, Kirkland, Arizona, writes: "Your Belt cured me after I had spent $1000 in useless doctoring."

I have cured thousands of men who have squandered the savings of years in useless doctoring.

An old man of 70 says he feels as strong and young as he did at 25. That shows it renews the vigor of youth. It cures Rheumatism, Sciatic Pains, Lumbago, Kidney Trouble, banishes pain in a night, never to return.

FREE BOOK Try my Belt. Write me today for my beautiful illustrated book, with cuts showing how my Belt is applied. Full of good reading matter for men who want to be "The Noblest Work of God"—A MAN. Inclose this ad and I will send this book.

Functional Decline Termed Weakness by Some.

It's the right treatment applied in the right way that brings the satisfactory results. By my direct method all inflammation is removed, and free, healthy circulation is established.

Contracted Diseases
Failure to quickly cure these conditions is due to harsh measures, which are the direct cause for chronic conditions. My treatment is most cleanly and perfect.

I cure Rectal, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Piles, Fistula and Blood Diseases, Wasting, Nervous and Chronic Conditions, causing functional derangement, impairing strength and vitality.

UNITED TO SPEND TEN MILLIONS.

STREET CAR SYSTEM WILL BE GREATLY IMPROVED.

Within Few Days, Service Will Be Nearly as Complete as it was Before Fire—Rush Orders Sent East for New Cars and Other Equipment—Fares Given to Relief Fund.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Within the next few days San Francisco will have a street car service nearly as complete as it was before the fire. The United Railroads have promised to spend $10,000,000 improving its system and the first million of this sum has almost been expended already. Thornwall Mullally, one of the directors of the company, stated yesterday that $70,000 worth of rails, machinery and other equipment material is now on the way and should arrive within a few days. Besides this, fifty new cars are on the way. Mullally sent a rush order East for these a few days ago and the firm that had them in its charge wired back a favorable reply. Mullally stated that only seven of the large electric cars of the United were damaged. The power stations are now in good working order. Steam will be turned on at the North Beach plant this afternoon and it will be in full running order immediately.

FARES GIVEN FOR RELIEF.

Yesterday morning, Mullally, in company with Patrick Calhoun, president of the company, called on Mayor Schmitz and turned over to him $867 to be devoted to the work of the Relief Committee. This sum was collected on the cars yesterday but did not represent the business done, as it was impossible to collect all fares. The receipts of the company will be turned over to the Mayor every day and the practice will be kept up till the Relief Committee calls a halt.

"Our temporary wires and poles on Market street are in working order now," said Mullally, "and the cars will soon run out to Twenty-sixth street within two days. The Valencia street system is nearly complete and traffic is to be resumed there as soon as possible. Our present system is being operated very satisfactorily, I think. We are doing the best we can to give the people a good service.

"I am making an effort to secure permission to run the cars at night. We have already proved there is no danger in this. The people demand a night service and if the authorities are disposed, I think we can accommodate them very soon.

"As soon as the factories can turn them out, we will have 200 more big cars here, in addition to those that are due here within the next few days."

SAN JOSE FORGETS AND GETS BUSY.

CHEERFUL CITIZENS REMOVING TRACES OF EARTHQUAKE.

Town Rapidly Resuming Normal Conditions, and Every Former Line of Business is Going Ahead as Usual—Local Funds Ample, and There is no Single Case of Want.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN JOSE, April 30.—San José has adopted the slogan "Forget it; get busy." This morning found everybody cheerful and ready for active work. The air was warm and pleasant. The valley one stream of green from Mount Hamilton to the Santa Cruz range, never looked more beautiful, and the residents, after a day of rest, responded as formerly to the charm of their natural surroundings. Last week's traces of worry had vanished and every face was bright and pleasant. Even the refugees in camp near the depot were smiling, as if enjoying an outing.

This city is rapidly resuming its normal conditions. The streets are fairly well cleaned of débris and in a few days all the demolished buildings will have been removed. Every carpenter is busy repairing buildings. Chimney and roof repairs have almost all been made. The stores are nearly all open, those that were put out of business by the earthquake having moved into temporary quarters. Every former line of business is going ahead as usual, although a number of merchants are as yet somewhat shy of stocks.

RELIEF WORK.

The finance committee of the general relief committee met today, and reports showed that local funds have been ample to cover all local cases and to care for thousands of San Francisco refugees and injured. These are rapidly departing. Clothing, food, shelter and supplies of all kinds have been abundant for all and the work will be maintained as long as a single homeless or destitute case remains. The real estate and insurance men are holding an executive session this afternoon.

Now that the poor quality of the work done on a majority of public and private buildings has been revealed by the earthquake, contractors are convinced that there was no necessity for the loss of a single building in this valley by the temblor. With this knowledge so forcibly presented, all new buildings, both business and residential, will be so constructed that they will be earthquake proof, and San José will be all the better for her shaking up.

There has been no scarcity of ready money here for ordinary requirements, and very little inconvenience to individuals. The banks will be prepared to open within a few days.

CHICAGO FEARS FOR CITY HALL.

THE FOUNDATION SINKS FROM COUNTY EXCAVATING.

Structure Assumes a List Toward the East, and Entrances are Roped In—Plaster Cracks and Falls, and Two Employees are Nearly Struck by Dropping Stone Sections.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—The Chicago City Hall has settled to such an extent since the completion of the excavation for the adjoining new county building, that it was found necessary yesterday to rope in the entrances to prevent pedestrians from being killed by the falling sections of casing and cornice.

At the south end of the building on Washington street it was found that the building had sunk several inches, while the entire building has assumed a list in the direction of the hole which the new building will cover.

The City Hall and County Building were of the same massive construction and as it was necessary to use giant powder to wreck parts of the latter there has been apprehension of the city's administration building collapsing. Though its foundation walls are many feet thick, they do not rest on the rock which underlies the city but merely on the clay subsoil.

Yesterday ominous shivers ran through the building and with many snaps and groans cracks appeared within and without. Hillocks appeared in the board floors and desks assumed angles, the floor tiling tilted and dirt emerged from crevices where it had lain undisturbed for years. Skylights doubled up and plaster fell from the walls and ceiling.

During the day several pieces of stone fell and two employés narrowly escaped being killed as they were entering the building.

CROSS CURE FOR SOCIALISM.

Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis Makes Timely Remarks at Baltimore Cathedral Centenary.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BALTIMORE, April 30.—Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, preaching the sermon last night in Baltimore Cathedral after a celebration in honor of the one hundredth anniversary of the laying of the institution's corner-stone, touched upon the opposition of the church to Socialism. He said, in part:

"The social fabric appears today to be in imminent danger because old principles are ignored and old foundations attacked. What was held law is regarded now as injustice; what was held government is now deemed tyranny.

"It is folly to deny that the shadow of Socialism is hanging over the land, and while learned men are busy pointing out its unreasonableness, its injustice, its lack of feasibility, the shadow depens, the preachers capitulate and the leaders grow more audacious.

"And yet we fear not. We are convinced that the church has a message for the coming years. Do the people demand equality? Do they ask for an even chance in the struggle for life? Is the brotherhood of man the dream they would see actualized?

"Then comes our church, heedless of the passing clamor, careless of the mere surface thought of restless age, to hold up for all good men's admittance the changeless principles of the democracy of the cross, inviting humanity back to the cross."

Russian Bureaucrats Give Money for Moving Troops to Suppress Interior Disorders.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 30.—Foreseeing difficulty in inducing Parliament to grant a credit for moving troops to suppress disorders in the interior, the Council of the Empire, upon request of the Minister of War, has placed $3,500,000 at the latter's disposal for this purpose.

The policy of the government is to move the troops frequently in order to prevent them from becoming influenced by association with revolutionists.

BONES TAKEN FROM WRECK.

MISSOULA (Mont.) April 30.—Four bodies were taken from the Northern Pacific wreck on Evaro Hill today. Owing to the fire, which burned the entire train of forty cars of lumber, none of the remains can be identified. The bones are supposed to be those of the engineer, L. D. Sterne, Fireman Edward Juliert and two tramps. It is believed that several other tramps were burned in the wreckage, but it is doubtful if any trace will be found, the destruction is so complete.

The officers and directors include Byron Erkenbrecher, president; W. G. Blewitt, cashier; A. W. Junger, secretary; Clarence A. Miller and A. J. Peabody.

Find Sheep Bones.

The police were startled yesterday by the report that human bones and several skulls had been found in a deserted house sitting some distance back from the street near the center of town. Detectives were immediately put to work on the case and after several hours spent in investigating found the bones formerly belonged to sheep instead of human beings.

Bundle Saved Her.

Mrs. Helen Kuela, an elderly Arabian woman, was struck by a Buena Vista car last night as she was crossing the street near the corner of Buena Vista and Alpine streets. The woman had a heavy bundle on her back, and the car struck this bundle, throwing the woman to the pavement. She was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where a number of severe contusions were dressed. She was removed to her home on Date street.

Her condition became such upon her arrival in that city that a telegram was sent to Mrs. Hamer advising her to come East. The mother reached her daughter's bedside two days before death ended the latter's sufferings.

It will be a basket picnic and many pleasant groups have been organized to spend the day in the park. The games will begin early and every one, whether a Pennsylvanian or not, is cordially invited.

"POSSIBILITIES OF CHILD."

As many mothers as could find seats on the kindergarten tables in that department of the Union-avenue school assembled yesterday afternoon, when the Child Study Circle had for its speaker Prof. Leslie, who talked about "The Possibilities of the Child," in his convincing fashion. Miss Kiger, a member of the Treble Clef Club, sang an Irish lullaby, and responded to the hearty encore with another song. Miss Pearl Humphrey recited Riley's "Bear Story," and then told a fairy tale with charming grace. Refreshments were served, and the meeting, as a whole, was one of the most delightful that has been held in a long time.

Fair Piano Selling

A school girl can expend her birthday gift as safely here as can the most hardened bargain driver!

The person who buys a piano here can be certain of the same square deal that the previous customer got—we give the right piano quality, at the right price, to everyone. Let's talk it over.

The Sterling Piano

Lyon & Healy of Chicago and the Stetson Piano House of Philadelphia are among the many Steinway representatives who recommend the Sterling Piano. The $300 Sterling sold by these firms is the same instrument for which we charge $325. The extra $25 barely covers cost of freight and handling to the Coast. Shipped in carload lots, the freight on an upright piano is $18; this does not include cartage charges. You can readily see that here you get fair piano dealing.

TELLING FACTS BY PATRIOTS.

Thousands of School Pupils Defend Fair City.

Rush Letters East Refuting Quake Fakes.

Naive Humor and Cold Sense Mark Missives.

It is proverbial that children tell the truth—even if it shames the family—and eastern people will be likely to sit up and take notice a week hence when 45,000 letters are distributed throughout the United States. These were written by Los Angeles school children, who have risen in a body, like the little patriots they are, to refute the false statements sent East by irresponsible "gernalists" to the effect that Los Angeles was razed to the ground by earthquake or swept away by tidal wave.

Yesterday all the children in the public schools who were old enough to compose any sort of a letter, were busy writing "back East," telling the truth about the condition of their city in the entirely naive and wholly artless way that children have.

Herewith are reproduced some fair samples of the correspondence. The letters have not been "doctored" by the teachers, but are printed verbatim ad literatum.

Here is a clincher. It also contains a stinging rebuke for a yellow journal that ought to make it squirm some. It is written by a nine-year-old boy to his friend in Onio, and runs as follows:

"Dear Ray: I thought I would write you a few lines, as I think you are frightened about the wild reports of Los Angeles having been destroyed by earthquake. We felt a very, very slight shock, so slight that only about half the population of the city felt it at all. If you see any pictures of the people of Los Angeles rushing about the streets panic-stricken, you will know that they have been manufactured; of course, you know that manufacturing false pictures is one of the arts of unresponsible papers like the Examiner."

"TELL EVERYBODY."

A future financier writes to his sister in Atlanta, Ga.: "I want to let you know that we are all safe from earthquake. San Francisco is not destroyed by earthquake, but by fire and dynamite. The business in Los Angeles is perfectly safe, because our best bank, the Farmers' and Merchants National, has drawn barrels and barrels of $20 gold pieces from its branches, and we are perfectly safe from everything. The business in San Francisco is safe also, because the people are going to build it up again, and they know who the property belongs to. Gov. Pardee has declared holidays in 'Frisco for the sake of the banks, so they are all safe. Will you tell everybody and tell them to tell others?"

Dear little Dolly Eads writes thus reassuringly to her aunt in Chicago: "The business is secure in Los Angeles, and if anything should happen we have enough money in the bank."

A Wall-street boy writes his uncle in Kansas City: "We are safe and sound here. You ought to come to Los Angeles and see the Fiesta," and another little chap in the sixth grade writes his aunt in Baltimore: "I believe you have heard about the San Francisco disaster, and perhaps the papers in Baltimore came out saying that Los Angeles was wiped off the face of the map, but the teachers of the public schools down here say that they are going to correct it, for it was all a fake, and so every pupil in the public schools is writing today. I will send you the Los Angeles Times, the first extra that was out, telling about San Francisco."

GRANDMA'S EYES GOT BIG.

A frank little soul writes to "Uncle Will," in Rahway, N. J., about the slight shake in Los Angeles, as follows: "We were all eating lunch, and grandma said to me, 'Adele, stop shaking the table,' and I said, 'Why, grandma, I'm not shaking it,' and then I jumped up and cried 'Oh, my! An earthquake!' and grandma's eyes got as big as saucers. Madeline was so sorry that she didn't feel it. She was in the bathroom drying her hands."

A dear little girl writes her father, a prominent lawyer in Washington, D. C.: "I am going to write you this letter to assure you that I am safe. If you have seen in the papers that Los Angeles was totally destroyed by the earthquake, you may know that it is a lie. I was walking down the street when the earthquake was supposed to be here and never felt it at all. Business is secure in Los Angeles. One proof is that the banks have sent to the other cities where they have some banks for money, and our banks are all open. Please tell people at home of this fact, for it is very important to Los Angeles."

Another bright little enthusiast writes: "Los Angeles is safe, and always will be. Please tell teachers and principals of the St. Louis schools about this. The business of Los Angeles is on a firm foundation, and the banks are supplied with money in case of a rush."

BRIGHT LITTLE SUNBEAM.

Irene Sunbeam Hawkins is a little philosopher, and she is a sunbeam sure. She writes to two little friends in Penn Yan, N. Y.: "People east think that Los Angeles is in ruins so we are writing to tell our friends back there that we are safe. After the terrible earthquake in San Francisco one man up there, asked another where he lived, 'Do you see that tree over there?' the man asked. 'Yes,' said the other. 'Well, I live on the third branch to the left,' he said.

"A baker wagon drove up to the park where many people were and charged $1 a loaf for his bread, so a policeman came and told the people to help themselves. Instead of the people being disagreeable in this terrible time they were quite agreeable. There were few people that seemed sad. All of the tall buildings in San Francisco are in ruins."

One youngster closes his letter to his aunt in St. Louis with the admonition: "You people in the East better have your cyclone cellars insured for safety. We got the tail end of the second shock about 1 o'clock."

NOT LEAST BIT HURT.

A little girl writes to her father, a mine owner in Mexico: "Los Angeles is safe and not the least bit hurt. The City Hall tower, which is heavier than its foundation, was not injured. I did not even feel the shock and told others that they only imagined it. All the business of Los Angeles is secure and the banks have enough money so that if anything might happen they could give everybody his money."

A fourth grade child writes: "They sent out telegrams that Los Angeles was on fire and a tidal wave came and put it out, and they said many more things that are not true."

Another little miss from the same grade writes her cousin in St. Louis: "I suppose you have read in the St. Louis papers about the big tidal wave, earthquake or fire that wiped Los Angeles off the map. She is still here or else you wouldn't hear from me. It didn't hurt Los Angeles any more than to give it a small shake that did no damage. They are building up 'Frisco already. Some city in Illinois will give free steel and cement to build it up again. It is false about Los Angeles."

STRAIGHT FROM SHOULDER.

It was reported at the principal's meeting the other day that the Chicago Inter Ocean published pictures of ruined Los Angeles and when the principal of the California-street school mentioned it, a boy there decided to set things right so he has written the following manly, straightforward statement of facts to the editor of the Inter Ocean.

"Dear Sir: I am a Los Angeles school boy and I want to write to you and make it known that the earthquake shock felt in Los Angeles was very slight and did no damage whatever. The saying that Los Angeles was damaged by earthquake or fire is truthless. Los Angeles has never had a severe shock that has done any damage worth mentioning since the memory of any man. Los Angeles is 400 miles from San Francisco and is in no more danger from earthquake than Boston, New York or Philadelphia.

"Yours truly,

"DAVID LEE."

Another boy, writing to his cousin in Schenectady, N. Y., says: "Los Angeles is just as good as ever, perhaps better. So you had better come and see us and not be afraid of something 600 miles away. The New York papers have been telling lies and some people believe that we are covered by a tidal wave. Los Angeles did have one shock. It was so severe that a grub worm fell off an orange tree. That was all the damage done. Come and see for yourself."

One small, indignant boy writes to a friend in "E. Orange, New Gearsy" and says, "I fear that you think Los Angeles is in ruins but it is nothing of the kind. Some newspaper men put all that trash in the papers because they wanted to sell all that they printed. This is what the newspaper men that run The Times say about it. Los Angeles is more than 400 miles away from San Francisco."

One little girl in describing the joy of some refugee children here when oranges and fruit were distributed among them says, "They gave them fruit and they were so happy they were fighting."

NOSE STILL ABOVE WATER.

One of the most terse and telling letters in the lot was written by a girl from the Union-avenue school to a friend in Missouri: "I am writing to inform you of my situation in Los Angeles as you think I have perished under débris of our largest buildings. Not so, I am as safe and sound as you are there. San Francisco is as far from Los Angeles as Atlanta Ga., is from Jackson, Mo. Instead of needing help we are helping others. We are not

CHINK GOLD COMING HERE.

Many Mandarins May Make This City Home.

Oriental Trade Will Center in Los Angeles.

Local Chinatown Is Crowded by Rich Fugitives.

Influential Chinese merchants, once the backbone of San Francisco's Chinatown, are flocking to Los Angeles. Wealthy Chinamen, who before the awful fire were amassing fortunes in the great metropolis of the north, are here for the purpose of opening large mercantile enterprises which once flourished in the city of the Golden Gate.

Their coming is already a problem, as a large number will remain. Should all decide to stay, the confines of Los Angeles Chinatown will be enlarged to twice its size, and a large part of the vast Oriental trade, once in the hands of the Chinese of San Francisco, will be diverted here.

Twelve hundred Chinese have come to this city since the earthquake and fire in San Francisco, as many more are on their way, and probably during the next few weeks this city will have to entertain nearly 5000 who are refugees from the desolated city.

Local Chinatown is agog with interest and the narrow streets buzz with a babble of strange tongues as the Mongolian greets his refugee guest. While many of the Chinese refugees are of the coolie class, a number are tradesmen with money to pay their way, men of the better class who are seeking to lay again the foundations of business enterprises.

BUNCHES OF MANDARINS.

Streets and alleys are glutted with the arrivals from the north. Chinks, with packs on their backs, coolies who have saved a few belongings, perhaps all they ever had, come wandering from the depot with their handful of goods stuffed into a straw bag. Dingy dungeons, which before the hegira were packed to suffocation, open their foul maws and receive the tired hundreds.

The better class of Chinese are being royally entertained. Never before has the Chinese population of this city had such an opportunity to do itself proud, and the best is being offered in tribute to the mandarins from the north, who say they like Los Angeles and are willing to stay.

Scores of rich Chinese, former members of the Five Great Companies in San Francisco, are seeking locations in this city. They will build at once if opportunity offers, and this city may yet become a great mart for Chinese trade. The Celestials are anxious to know what the people of Los Angeles think concerning their proposed location here.

LIKE THIS CITY.

Ny Gun and Ny Chan came in yesterday from San Francisco. Both are immensely wealthy and were engaged in the mercantile trade in San Francisco, sending and receiving large shipments to and from the Orient. Though in this city only a few hours, both declared their intention of remaining here if possible. They would use San Pedro as a shipping point, they say, if they open in business at once. They are said to be only the first, of many more, who are looking with longing eyes toward Los Angeles.

Among the most interesting of the arrivals is Dr. Tom She Bin and his large family. The Chinese doctor was formerly in business at No. 815 Kearny street, San Francisco, but his entire business was licked up by the fire. For the past fourteen years Dr. Bin has been engaged in the medical practice among the Chinese of San Francisco and his practice was large.

He declares he has come to Los Angeles to remain indefinitely. He does not want to return to San Francisco, he says, and will establish in business here. He expects to locate elsewhere than in local Chinatown. He is a well educated gentleman and his wife is a gentle Chinese lady. Both are interesting characters and the family are being entertained by Dr. Tom Leung.

PLENTY OF COIN.

Pond Mooar Jee, a graduate of Berkeley, and influential in Chinese circles of the North is here. Speaking of the effects of the fire on San Francisco's Chinatown the young man said:

"Many of the Chinese of San Francisco have come and will continue to come to your beautiful city. Most of these men who are here have plenty of money. They are the wealthy portion of what once was San Francisco's Chinese population. They do not want you to give them money, they only want an opportunity to engage in legitimate trade. They have lost vast sums, but they still have their keen business sense and can get to work in earnest if given the chance. They will receive thousands of dollars from insurance dividends.

"These men will open vast business enterprises in Los Angeles at once. These businesses may be temporary or they may be lasting. It remains for the people of your city to say what kind of a reception shall be given to my countrymen."

The young man is the son of Jee Gam, one of the wealthiest and oldest of the Chinese residents of San Francisco. He is said to be the best posted of any man in this city regarding the status of affairs among the Chinese refugees. Speaking of the desire of the Chinese to build San Francisco's Chinatown again, he said:

"San Francisco has lost forever her quaint Chinatown. The place will never be rebuilt on the original lines. The new Chinatown will be modern and all the disgusting features will be left out."

Ho Lee and Lee Ying, members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and prominent in local Chinese affairs, returned from San Francisco yesterday. Both have spent the past ten days conferring with the Chinese of San Francisco with a view to the rebuilding of their Chinatown.

The situation in the north, according to Ho Lee, is one of the most intense ever presented to the Chinese population. The determination of the Celestial hordes of the metropolis is to rebuild San Francisco's Chinatown on the ashes of its former site. They declare this will be in spite of the opposition they are already meeting.

STEEL WORK CENTERS HERE.

Orders for Structural Iron Work Coming.

Llewellyn and Baker Mills Will Add to Size.

This City to Help Rebuild New San Francisco.

Contracts for building material calling for an expenditure of a half dozen millions of dollars are expected to be awarded to Los Angeles construction companies during the next ten days. Already signs of the incoming flood of business in this line from the uprising city of San Francisco, are evident.

Representatives of the Baker Iron Works Company and the Llewellyn Iron Works Company have been in San Francisco looking over the ground. That there will be an expenditure of over $100,000,000 for new buildings within the present year is the consensus of opinion. A goodly portion of this construction work will come to Los Angeles firms.

Among the wreckage in the northern city were all of the structural steel fabricating companies of the place. These concerns will not be able to rebuild in sufficient time to secure the cream of the great orders to be placed. Los Angeles firms, with their already big equipment for fabricating structural steel, are straining every nerve to enlarge their plants and increase their force of workingmen. Developments along this structural building line are expected within this city on a greater scale than ever before.

EARLY DELIVERY.

The Llewellyn company is the largest fabricating concern of structural steel on the Pacific Coast. This company already has plans under way to capture the best of the big orders from the north and are in a position to promise earlier delivery than the eastern cities. The question faced by the builders is whether the local concerns can furnish sufficient steel to meet their demands.

Representatives of the Carnegie Steel Company and the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company of Pittsburgh have been in San Francisco for the last few days. Neither of these concerns do fabricating work to any extent. The American Bridge Company and the McClintic Marshall Construction Company having the gist of this work in the east.

These eastern representatives are nonplussed by the problem of there being no fabricating shop on the Pacific Coast, outside of the Llewellyn and Baker companies, which already handle material from the Carnegie and Jones and Laughlin companies. They face the proposition of sending, practically, all of the thousands of tons of steel to San Francisco by way of Los Angeles, and having the fabricating work done in this city before continuing the shipment north.

GETTING READY.

On the other hand, the local shops cannot handle this vast volume of business without erecting additions to their plants. This problem they are now solving and it is reported on excellent authority that the Llewellyn company will begin work within ten days on an extensive addition to their present large works on Main street.

Inquiries at the offices of the company yesterday elicited the information that they were not in a position to make a definite announcement of their attitude in the matter, but officials acknowledged that they were deep in the midst of figures along this line.

At the Baker iron works the same condition was encountered. A rush of business in building hardware of all lines was expected and the company was preparing to take care of a larger volume of business along this line than ever before.

One factor that militates against the entrance of Los Angeles construction firms into the market in San Francisco is the tremendous business at home. The shops in this city are at present overwhelmed with the orders on hand. More buildings of steel construction are being erected and planned this summer, than ever in the history of the city.

STEEL WORK HERE.

The lesson learned at San Francisco, that steel constructed buildings withstood the shock and fire better than any other building material has taken root among Angelenos. As a result the fabricating shops of the Llewellyn and Baker companies are almost clogged with home business.

Then on top of this record business at home comes the tremendous demands from San Francisco for thousands of tons of structural steel and building hardware. To meet this demand an enlargement of the local plants will be necessary and announcement to that effect is expected during the week.

An additional factor in throwing an overwhelming amount of business to the fabricating shops of this city is the building booms now on in the east. The capacity of the fabricating shops of the McClintic-Marshall Construction and the American Bridge Company had been contracted for, prior to the disaster at San Francisco. There is the best of authority to say that these two concerns can deliver no material to San Francisco until the last quarter of the present year, up to which time their capacity is reported sold.

MUST COME.

The rolling mills of the east are in a position to make the shapes within the near future, but the fabricating work will have to be done on the Pacific Coast to place the material available within the second quarter of this year. Los Angeles has the only fabricating shops now operating on the Pacific Coast, outside of a small shop in San Francisco, which was considerably damaged. The builders up north look to the City of the Angels to do the fabricating work.

In other lines of building material there is expected to be a healthy increase in the demand but nothing compared with the boom in steel work. The demand for cement and for smaller sizes of iron and steel to be used in the erection of reinforced concrete structures is expected also to cause a vast amount of work to pour into this city.

The Union Iron Works and the Baker Company make the greatest part of this small-sized rods for concrete work. The cement which is made in this section will all practically be shipped north by way of San Pedro.

A force of workingmen yesterday began work demolishing a number of frame dwellings adjoining the plant of the Baker Iron Works Company. A crew of iron workers, who have been engaged in outside work, were placed on the wrecking job and have orders to rush it to completion. An addition to the Baker plant in the way of a fabricating shop is planned.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

All legislation affecting municipal improvements has been brought to a standstill by the succession of holiday proclamations issued by Gov. Pardee; no ordinances can be passed nor advertisements for bids printed on a holiday.

Youthful refugees will not be permitted to attend public school until they have resided here three weeks.

Former Assistant City Attorney Goudge made his first appearance at the City Hall yesterday as a corporation attorney; he asked for a permit for a tunnel under West Third street.

It is probable that the charge against J. R. Richards, to be heard before Justice Young in the township court today, that he had sold furniture already mortgaged, will be dismissed, it now being claimed that the charge was due to a partnership squabble.

John Schumacher began suit yesterday against his former partner, J. H. Wadingham, and others to recover $35,000, due to their alleged manipulation of the business while the plaintiff was under arrest.

AT THE CITY HALL.

WHEELS LOCKED BY HOLIDAYS.

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATIONS STOP STREET WORK.

No Ordinances Can Become Laws and No Advertisements for Bids Can Be Inserted—Department of Public Works Hardest Hit—Bond Election Can Be Held.

The wheels of the municipal machine are becoming badly clogged by the long string of holidays, declared by the Governor, for the protection of persons financially affected by San Francisco's great fire.

For ten days all Vrooman act legislation has been at a standstill. The City Attorney has ruled that no ordinances can be published legally on a holiday, neither can advertisements for bids for improvements be legally printed.

On the Mayor's desk are ordinances passed by the Council three weeks ago. He can take no action on them until the holiday time is past. One is the ordinance directing that all street cars must stop at the far side of crossings in the business district. This ordinance the Council desired to have go into effect at once. While its final adoption is delayed by the holidays the railway companies continue to stop their cars one length beyond the crossings.

Yesterday the Council sought to pass an ordinance providing for the adoption by the railways of a new safety fender. The specifications were all ready but the City Attorney advised that the Council could not act legally.

But it is street improvement that is suffering most. During the first two months of this year a tedious delay was occasioned by the deadlock between the Mayor and the Council over the selection of a Board of Public Works. And just as the Board was in a fair way to catch up the holidays came. The Board has recommended the advertisement for bids for the improvement of more than fifty streets, but the advertisements cannot be inserted. A number of ordinances which the Board desired adopted are delayed for the same reason. Proposed improvements are at a standstill.

For several days there has been a discussion whether the city can go on with the special election for municipal improvement bonds. Some attorneys have expressed the opinion that the first notice of election cannot appear on a holiday. The election is to be held on May 17.

City Attorney Mathews gave an opinion yesterday, however, that the notice of election can be legally inserted. The first publication will appear next Friday morning, even though that day be proclaimed a holiday by the Governor.

The Council desires to issue $1,500,000 of 4-per-cent. bonds. The issue comprises sewer, storm drains, police, playground, fire and bridge bonds.

BOARD NOT WILLING.

SUGGEST LAND TRADE.

The Board of Public Works will not consent to the abandonment of Fifth street between Central avenue and the Arcade station unless the Southern Pacific company gives to the city an equivalent. The Board suggests that the railroad shall give in return to the city land on the east side of Central avenue equal to seventy-five per cent. of the property surrendered by the municipality.

To the Council yesterday the Board made the following recommendation:

Whereas, the Southern Pacific has filed a petition praying that that portion of East Fifth street which lies between the east line of Central avenue and the property of the said Southern Pacific, be vacated and the attorney for the said company has filed a written communication stating that the legal officials have recommended that the plans for the construction of the proposed depot building be modified so as to provide for a foot passageway across the depot grounds from Central avenue to Alameda street and

Whereas, it appears to this board that said strip can be abandoned provided the width of Central avenue be increased in front of the proposed depot building so as to prevent the congestion of traffic, which will result in case said portion of the street is abandoned.

Now therefore, in consideration of the premises and in view of the representations of said attorney, it is recommended by this board that the petition be granted, subject, however, to the following conditions: that the ordinance vacating said portion of said street does not take effect until the Southern Pacific Company shall have first deposited with the City Engineer a conveyance dedicating for public purposes a strip of land of an area equal to 75 per cent. of the area of said street, which it is proposed to abandon, such strip to be located on the east side of Central avenue, to be not less than twenty feet in width and the center thereof to be the same as the center of Fifth street on the east side of Central avenue as now established, such conveyance not to be deemed delivered until said ordinance shall take effect.

But it is the Council and not the board that must sit in final judgment on the petition from the Southern Pacific; and the Council voted to postpone action on the report for one week.

The Southern Pacific has bought all the land on both sides of Fifth street, and desires to build a new Arcade extending from Alameda street to Central avenue.

BUILT TUNNEL FIRST.

COUNCIL UNDECIDED.

Former Assistant City Attorney Goudge made his first appearance at the City Hall yesterday as a corporation attorney. He appeared in the interests of the Stimson estate, and the Citizens' Security Company.

These corporations recently caused to be excavated a tunnel connecting the Stimson Block with the Citizens' National Bank building. But they neglected the very necessary precaution of first securing a permit to tunnel under the street.

Last week Street Inspector Hanley reported to the City Attorney's office that the tunnel had been built without a permit. And the City Attorney asked the police department to ferret out the persons who dug the tunnel, and the other persons who employed them.

Yesterday plans were filed with the City Engineer, and Mr. Goudge presented a petition and the following resolution:

That permission be, and the same is, hereby granted to the Stimson estate, and to the Citizens' Securities Company, a corporation, to construct and maintain under Center Place and across Third street, from the Stimson Building to the Citizens' National Bank Building, a concrete conduit or tunnel thirty inches in internal, horizontal diameter, located and constructed as shown in the plan and diagram thereof, filed in the offices of the City Engineer this 30th day of April, 1906.

Provided that the right of the city be, and the same is hereby reserved, to resume possession of such portion of Third street and of Center Place, as may be occupied by such conduit or tunnel at any time when, in the judgment of the City Council of the city of Los Angeles, it shall be deemed necessary or advantageous to the said city, so to do, in its use of said place or street.

Councilman Blanchard moved the adoption of the resolution, and five legislators voted in the affirmative. Hammon, Hiller and Kern formed the opposition.

A few minutes later Councilman Smith asked whether the resolution had received the approval of the City Attorney.

"Mr. Goudge presented it to me, and said that it is regular in form," said Blanchard.

"But Mr. Goudge is not now our City Attorney," replied Smith. "I move a reconsideration."

This motion prevailed. A second motion sent the resolution to the City Attorney, and the Board of Public Works for a joint investigation and report.

REFUGEES MUST WAIT.

CHILDREN ON PROBATION.

Children from San Francisco will not be permitted to attend public schools here until they have been in the city for at least three weeks. This rule is the result of a joint conference between the school and health departments.

A number of parents called at the health office yesterday to secure permits for their children to attend school here. The children had been refused admission by the principals of the schools, where they applied.

Health Officer Powers explained that it has been deemed advisable to keep the schools closed to youthful refugees until all danger of contagion is passed. This is not intended to be a quarantine, but is a measure of protection, both for the schools and for the health department.

Members of the Board of Education have estimated that at least 500 children will come here as the result of the closing of the schools in San Francisco.

Council is Lenient.

Tax delinquents may receive ten days' grace in which to pay the second installment of city taxes.

A number of requests have come to city officials that the date of delinquency be extended; the reasons advanced all bear some relation to the disaster in San Francisco. Yesterday was the date set by State statutes as the last on which taxes could be paid. Several councilmen sought to obtain an extension of time.

Councilman Smith said that he knows of a number of instances in which money for payment of taxes is tied up in San Francisco bank vaults. He made a motion that the time limit be extended one week.

But Assistant City Attorney Hewitt raised an objection, calling attention to the fact that yesterday was a legal holiday. He said that the time limit could be extended only by ordinance, and that the Council could not pass an ordinance on a holiday.

He suggested that the Council might be able at some future time to adopt a resolution remitting the delinquency fine for the next ten days.

As this was apparently the best that could be done the councilmen acceded. As soon as the holidays cease the legislators will take action to protect those who pay up within the next ten days.

The line in front of the Tax Collector's office was much shorter yesterday than on most "last days" and the amount collected was correspondingly small. The delinquencies this year will total about $100,000.

Meeting Postponed.

Owing to the absence from the city of certain members of the Board of Police Commissioners, the regular weekly meeting of that body has been postponed until Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

Conference Called.

Attorneys representing the street railways have been requested to attend a conference at the City Hall today for the purpose of considering the most feasible plan for licensing street cars.

DIDN'T LIKE THE BUSINESS.

CURIOUS CHARGE AGAINST AN OLD HOTEL BROKER.

J. McWilliams Alleges That J. R. Richards Sold Him a Half Interest in Some Office Furniture, Covered by a Mortgage, When He Became His Partner in Business.

The examination of J. R. Richards, a hotel broker, on the charge of selling property covered by a mortgage to his partner, J. McWilliams, is set to take place today before Justice Young, but it is doubtful if the examination will be held. In fact, it is said to be doubtful whether it ever will be held, but if it is some rather curious features will develop.

Richards is well known in Los Angeles, where he has been established many years, and his reputation until now has not been impugned. Last year he took a partner into his business, and the present prosecution is claimed to be a partnership row of a far more serious nature than ordinary, for the reason that a criminal prosecution has been instituted.

In the fall of last year John McWilliams and wife arrived in this city. They claimed to be old residents of Cleveland, where for the past six years they had conducted a hotel; but desiring a change, had sold out to a Presbyterian minister named Jackson. Those facts are claimed to be important in view of subsequent developments. McWilliams met Richards and said he wanted to get into business. He flashed six $1000 bills, so Richards knew that he wasn't bluffing. Among other places brought under his notice by Richards was the Potter Place, at No. 928 Potter Park avenue. On this hotel Richards had placed a mortgage for $1000 with one J. M. Moore, and that mortgage also was made to cover some office furniture in Richards's downtown office.

McWilliams was pleased with the hotel, but also wanted to buy a half interest in Richards's hotel brokerage business, and on October 14 he made a deposit of $250, and two days later paid $1000, leaving $500 on the deal to be paid. The trade was made on the condition that McWilliams take the hotel subject to the mortgage of $1000, and have a half interest in the business upon payment of $500. McWilliams said that he would pay off the mortgage next day and start in fair and square. Richards gave him two bills of sale showing that the hotel and furniture were free of encumbrance. A day or two later McWilliams appeared at the office quite grouchy. His wife didn't like the idea of running a lodging-house and he wanted to back down on that part of the bargain. Richards was willing and agreed to return $500 and let $750 remain as the purchase price of the half interest in the business. McWilliams returned the bill of sale for the lodging-house, but kept the one for the office furniture.

But with a longer stay in Los Angeles McWilliams thought he could do better than remain in the brokerage business, and he importuned Richards to buy him out. He was modest in his demand, according to Richards, and asked only $2000 for his half share, for which a few months before he had paid $750. But he scaled down, and ultimately intimated that the original old $750 would satisfy him. Richards didn't care to buy him out, and McWilliams became grouchy again and took advantage of a circumstance that Richards claims he forgot—that the mortgage on the hotel had also covered his office furniture.

This was the identical furniture that Richards had given a bill of sale for to McWilliams showing it to be free from encumbrance. The latter went to the District Attorney and swore to a complaint charging Richards with selling mortgaged property, and in due course the latter was arrested. The furniture is alleged to be worth only $75, and when the bill of sale was given the mortgagee had been requested to come to Richards's office so that the mortgage might be lifted. Having forgotten the inclusion in the first instance, Richards claims he could have straightened the little kink out if McWilliams had stood by his first intention and lifted the mortgage.

But at this stage Mrs. Richards enters. She will testify that after her husband's arrest McWilliams went to her and told her that the best way out was to return to him his money and the prosecution would drop. It was Mrs. Richards that had drawn the check for the first return of moneys, and so it was appropriate in a way that McWilliams should appeal to her in this second instance. But she and her husband refused to return anything and retained Davis, Rush and Willis as attorneys, prepared to fight.

Inquiries have been made about McWilliams and the assertion that he had lived in Cleveland for nine years and conducted a hotel for six years is pronounced a fairy story. The minister named Jackson is also alleged to be a myth, and altogether the case, if examined into today, will probably reveal some interesting testimony. It is claimed that to show that Richards intended to sell a few sticks of old furniture in the partnership deal will be an absolute impossibility and that the case will almost certainly be thrown out of court.

SUES PARTNER.

AFTERMATH TO AN ARREST.

About two months ago John Schumacher was arrested and taken to Chicago where he was acquitted of the charge alleged against him. Returning he has now begun suit against J. H. Wadingham, W. H. Doty and the J. H. Wadingham Company. An injunction was asked for restraining the defendants from making away with any of the material involved in the suit and a temporary restraining order was issued by Judge Trask, made returnable on May 4 in Judge Monroe's court.

The action demands an accounting and to recover $25,000 damages which Schumacher claims he has suffered by the manipulations of Doty and Wadingham. Schumacher and Wadingham formed a partnership in February, 1905, and the firm became possessed of a large amount of models for wood carving, dies, plaster and terra cotta material, worth about $40,000. In the particular "composition" goods dealt in, it is claimed that the firm had a practical monopoly of business west of Chicago. The make-up of the "composition" was a secret. Wadingham advanced $11,000 to the partnership account. As the rapid expansion of the business made it necessary to get money Schumacher said that he proceeded to finance the concern and borrowed large amounts of money.

In the opening month of the current year Wadingham, with the intention, it is claimed, of forcing Schumacher out of the business, had him arrested on a criminal charge at Chicago. The day following the arrest Wadingham began a proceeding in court and had the defendant, Doty, appointed receiver of the business, and he is now charged with having so manipulated the business as to carry out the scheme of Wadingham to get control.

Schumacher was acquitted on the charge in the East on March 23, but in the interim a new company had been incorporated here with a capital stock of $100,000. Doty is charged with allowing Wadingham to use the machinery, tools, factory and employés of the old concern for the purpose of copying all the dies, patterns and models which were removed to Wadingham's new place of business.

It is to prevent the utilization of this alleged copied material, to recover damages which such action has occasioned, and to straighten out the affairs of the old partnership that the present action has been brought.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

PRESIDING JUDGE. Judge Trask's term of office as presiding judge has expired and today he will surrender that office to Judge Conrey, who will assign cases, make orders and attend to the numerous details falling to the lot of a presiding judge. Judge Trask has been most successful in the position and until the San Francisco disaster set things back, all the departments of the court were up with their calendars, and no litigant had to wait for a hearing.

READY FOR SCRAP. Yesterday there was a lining up before the Supervisors of those in favor of and those opposed to the incorporation of Huntington Park. Both sides were eager for the fray, but the board continued the hearing until next Tuesday. On the advice of the District Attorney they thought it better not to take any chances in such a technical matter on what has been declared a legal holiday.

NEW CLERK. Henry G. Sherer, clerk of the criminal department, and who has been in the Courthouse during two terms, has resigned. He will be succeeded in Judge Smith's department by "Jack" Wright, who has been clerk in Judge Trask's court; the latter position being filled by Harley Riggins, who will be promoted from the general office to the dignity of a court attaché.

EXPLOIT LAND. The San Pasqual Land Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000, of which $3000 has been subscribed. The directors are: G. H. Curtis, H. L. Chatfield and S. S. Hinds, all of Pasadena.

SENT TO PATTON. Julia Young was committed to Patton by Judge Gibbs yesterday. For three years the woman has been known to the police as being simple-minded, and latterly she has ben unable to care for herself.

MINING AND SMELTING. The Guerrero Mining and Smelting Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $500,000, fully subscribed. The directors are C. Timmons, C. L. Byam, H. B. Eakins, R. Garrett and M. D. Rockford, all of this city.

GOES EAST. Carl Schultz was committed to the asylum at Patton by Judge Gibbs yesterday, but in a week or two the man will be sent back to relatives in Minnesota. Schultz has been working on Mrs. Thorpe's ranch on Slauson avenue and has suffered from melancholia, imagining that people are pursuing him. His mother sent $30 to pay for a ticket home.

NEW ASSISTANT. The Board of Supervisors yesterday appointed Dr. J. R. Tanner assistant superintendent at the County Hospital, in place of Dr. Blaney, who died recently.

FAVORS SPANKING.

Sergt. Kelley Suggests This Remedy for Young Boys Who Steal Bicycles.

Officials of the Los Angeles Police Department are anxious to see the law pertaining to bicycle stealing radically changed and either the penalty removed entirely or some other penalty provided which can be pronounced by the police justices. At present bicycle stealing is rated as grand larceny, but out of the scores of bicycle thieves caught literally with the goods on them, but one or two have been given penitentiary sentences. They are usually allowed to plead guilty to a petty larceny charge if they happen to be adults and are sentenced to short terms in the county jail.

By far the greater number of bicycle thieves are boys and they go practically unpunished, say the police. They are caught, and convicted in the Juvenile Court and then given short sentences in the Detention Home or put on probation and as soon as their time is up go stealing again.

"Irish" Kelley, one of the detective sergeants, thinks that a judicial spanking would be the best possible remedy for the youthful thieves. He says the boy thieves are as hard to catch as older crooks and that it takes just as much time to work up the cases and then the youngsters are handled in a milk-sop way and turned loose on the community to begin their thieving all over again.

During the past few weeks the police have broken up and captured the members of the worst gang of bicycle thieves ever caught in the city. This gang, known to the police as the Vernon Gang, was made up of boys all under 16 years of age. Most of them have confessed to stealing from three to a dozen bicycles. All the cases were worked up carefully and three wagonloads of stolen bicycles were recovered from the gang. The boys had stolen and disposed of nearly as many more wheels, working many clever schemes on the dealers who purchased the stolen goods.

During the operations of this gang the police department was flooded with reports of stolen bicycles, but since they were locked up days go by without a single report of that character being made, and this fact is considered significant. Some of the boys in the crowd have been up before on similar charges and escaped with practically no punishment. "Irish" Kelley's scheme is for the legislature to adopt a measure providing that the boy thieves may be spanked when found guilty. He thinks that if the Police Justices could sentence the young rascals to six or eight licks on a prominent portion of their anatomy with a strap for the first offense and double the penalty for each succeeding one, after a couple of months there would be no more bicycles stolen by boys.

At the present time the situation is considered serious as a great deal of the detectives' time is demanded by the bicycle thieves about town and some boys have been caught a number of times. The Police Department is short of men and the time of the detectives is needed on other cases and unless the boy rascals can be compelled to stop their stealing there will be trouble in camp.

FIRST CANDIDATE.

Deputy County Clerk Henry Sherer Resigns to Begin His Campaign for Higher Office.

First in the field as a candidate for County Clerk, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention, Henry E. Sherer resigned yesterday as deputy county clerk, in Department One of the Superior Court, and today begins his fight before the people to secure this nomination, which in this county is tantamount to an election. The decision of Mr. Sherer to run for the nomination comes after a service of eight years as a deputy county clerk in the Superior Court, having served under Judges W. P. Fitzgerald, Llucien Shaw, N. P. Conrey and B. N. Smith.

While Mr. Sherer is a native of Michigan he has lived in Los Angeles for twenty-seven of the thirty-eight years of his existence and considers himself as much an Angeleno as some others who may have lived here all their lives. As a county officer for so many years, Mr. Sherer is well known and as a Shriner and an Elk, his acquaintance is extensive. Mr. Sherer is certainly a strong candidate, and has many friends who will help along his campaign. Early in the field for the nomination of County Clerk his friends assert that he has an exceedingly good chance to capture this important place on August 20 next at the county convention. Mr. Sherer is married and lives with his family at No. 1329 San Pedro street.

Bakersfield Publisher Refuses to Put Such Matter in Type for Individual Who Seeks to Sell His Falsehoods on Atlantic Seaboard. Three Articles are "Turned Down."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The press should be warned against accepting fake stories of the earthquake and fire. Grossly exaggerated reports have already been sent out by wire, but there is evidence that special writers are preparing to flood the East with syndicate letters purporting to relate facts connected with the disaster that have no other foundation than the fertile imagination of the writers aforesaid.

One of this like yesterday solicited the Californian to put into type and give him the proof sheets of three articles intended for Eastern consumption. There was a lie in every word and every line of the letters and the request to put them into type was refused.

WAS TERROR TO THIEVES.

Death Removes the Peace Officer Who Drove Crooks and Thugs Out of Seattle.

Thomas R. Delaney, well known the length of the Pacific Coast as the chief of police who made of Seattle a clean town, is dead. He succumbed to Bright's disease at his home in Seattle, Sunday.

Delaney will be remembered in many cities whose departments he and his men aided in capturing criminals. He is, however, best known through a remarkable record made two years at the head of the northern city's department. He came into office when the city was crowded with thieves and men who aid thieves through political influence. Without fear and without favor he attacked vicious men and bad conditions, and in three months had his city free from thugs and "squarers." In this work he wore himself out, and the ailment which resulted in death followed. In Los Angeles as well as in many other cities his demise will be mourned by officers who have dealt with him, and by men who know the story of his remarkable work.

SPORTING PAGE.

WILL NOT QUIT, SAYS MORLEY.

Bert Has a Solution of Baseball Muddle.

Looloos Off for Fresno for Series of Games.

Plenty of Money to Meet All Losses Assured.

The Pacific Coast League will not go under. That is, for the present, at least. The happy change in league affairs was announced yesterday in a telegram from President Eugene F. Bert, who hopes, through assistance from Eastern leagues, to tide over the present chaotic state of financial affairs and to finally bring the baseball ship into smooth water. As stated yesterday, Jim Morley was about ready to quit the game for the season and allow some one else to assume the burden of supplying Los Angeles with a baseball team. Morley's reasons, as reiterated last night, were that he was loser by $75,000 in the San Francisco disaster, and found himself with a losing proposition in his ball team. Attendance for the past week had been miserable, and with San Francisco out of it, things looked dark.

Yesterday, however, the following telegram was received from President Bert, and imediately Morley made steps to comply with its request:

"J. F. Morley, Los Angeles Baseball Club: Office and home burned. Have been staying in Oakland for the past few days. I urge you to keep your team intact and have it report at Fresno this week. Every other team in the league has agreed to stand firm. San Francisco, Oakland, Seattle and Portland start north tonight. Have heard from many eastern leagues and we are assured of financial aid, more than enough to cover all prospective losses for months to come."

Immediately upon receiving the foregoing Morley bundled up the Looloos and started them north and for the present week they will play in Fresno. In explaining his attitude last night Morley said:

"I stood to lose too much to allow things to go on as they are and was ready to quit the business and direct my efforts to making my other affairs pay. Now that Bert assures me that I will not lose further I am ready to allow things to run along for a while, yet I cannot understand the logic of calling the team to Fresno instead of having the Fresno team come here. After the Fresno games another schedule will have to be arranged, and I do not know whether the Fresnos will come here or not. I shall wait and see what will happen."

Last week the statement emanated from San Francisco that as soon as another park was secured the northern team would begin playing again, yet there was little to encourage Morley in this prospect, San Francisco has been the meal ticket of the entire league owing to its supplying large attendance for games in that city.

The announcement that baseball would be maintained and brought to a stable basis was received with great elation by the fans last night, and of those whom it pleased there were none more happy than the Looloos, for many of them have not drawn sufficient salary to make them feel like millionaires, and the disbanding of the team meant that they would have to seek other pastures with a slim purse in their pockets.

Nothing could be said dof the future schedule for Los Angeles, and it is presumed that Fresno will come here for a series of games as soon as the present week's play is over. By the time the second series if finished Morley believes Bert will have a plan whereby the original schedule can be completed save the break occasioned this week.

Another serious problem that confronts Morley is the fact that the lease on Chutes Park expires within the next three weeks and where the teams will play is as yet an unsettled question. It means that Morley must either construct an inclosure or find some place where he can hold his games without making them free exhibitions.

There are a few places within easy access that could be used, among them Fiesta Park, but Morley stated before the season opened that he could not use that place.

Whether President Bert would be willing to aid the local magnate in securing new grounds is a question, and until this matter confronts him Morley could give out nothing tangible.

Bert is a general in baseball matters, and it is believed he will find a solution and meet the next contingency that arises, and that Los Angeles will have baseball for the remainder of the season.

The talk of sending Los Angeles to Butte, Spokane or Helena is too idle to contemplate. Neither of these cities ever made a ball magnate rich and as to the Montana cities, the attendance is not sufficient to support a team. Walter Wilmott alternated broncho busting contests, girls' baseball games and greased pig stunts at Butte to keep his team eating regular, and although this was one of the best cities in the intermountain country, baseball was a failure from a financial standpoint.

TWO LITTLE ONES.

BOX AT ELKS' BLOWOUT.

"Kid" Dalton, who will box a preliminary with Joe Kelcy at the coming big fight before McCarey's club, and Mike Barclay, another fast local youngster, furnished a boxing card at the Elks' entertainment at San Pedro last night. The boys went four rounds with eight-ounce gloves. Also attending the entertainment and furnishing a splendid number on the card was Matt Keefe, the bird-voiced yodler.

SHETTLER WANTS A RACE.

Willing to Bet Cheese, Chalk or Marbles for Automobile Race, But Rival Says "Skidoo."

What promises to develop into a speed war has broken out between the Reo agency, headed by Leon Shettler, and the Western Motor Company. The Reo people have put a proposition up to the motor company that, despite efforts to suppress, may call for a settlement of contentions on the race track or a hill climb. A few days ago a dispatch reached Los Angeles stating that the Buick machine had beaten a Reo in a hill-climbing contest one fit when he read it and turned over a few chairs in his haste to get his typewriter to work. When the ribbon cooled off, this is what the Reo had to offer:

"You're another, and to prove it we will race a Reo touring car against the Buick, for any distance above a mile for any amount of money from $100 to $500; second, will race Reo against Buick over Altadena hill-climb course for $100 a side; third, I'll bet you $100 you back down and refuse to race." That last one was a hot one.

But the Western Motor Company says it is too busy to race automobiles and will ignore the challenge. It costs money to race, and this is pleaded in extenuation of the stand taken by the latter company. However, if a race can be arranged wherein various machines enter, the Western Motor Company say they will put in a few machines, and there the matter rests.

ROWING COMES TO THE FRONT.

LOCAL ATHLETIC CLUB GOING IN FOR AQUATICS.

Large Sum of Money to Be Put Into Shells, and Clubhouse at Playa del Rey Is Talked—Many Good Oarsmen of Other Days Are Taking Interest in the Project.

Rowing is to be added to the Los Angeles Athletic Club's sporting curriculum.

After consulting with a veteran coach, J. E. Franklin, who pulled one of the best oars in the country when in his prime, directors of Los Angeles' premier muscle-building organization yesterday decided to go ahead with aquatics. Notwithstanding the large expenditure involved—$1700 being needed at the start for boats alone—the managers of the club feel satisfied the members will support the new game that is opened to them and patronize it liberally from the first.

A high goal is being aimed at, for in the announcement posted on the club bulletin board in the quarters at No. 534½ South Spring street yesterday afternoon, the idea was defined as being to "develop crews that will be able to successfully compete with Berkeley, Stanford and other institutions of the same sort, as well as provide pleasant and healthful exercises for such members as care for rowing and sculling."

The lagoon at Playa del Rey is the nearest available water, though there will beyond doubt be quite a scramble on the part of beach promoters to persuade the L.A.A.C. oarsmen to prefer their resorts. Del Rey presents some peculiar advantages, however, being the closest of all, and possessing a natural course quite long enough for two crews to settle any disputes as to speed or endurance that may crop up. The Los Angeles-Pacific Railroad has always encouraged aquatics at Del Rey in the past, having brought off about the only local boat races of recent years.

The erection of a suitable boathouse at Playa del Rey is also under consideration by the Los Angeles Athletic Club directors. Plans will be drawn in a few days. The boating equipment contemplated comprises two four-oared and two single scull shells, as well as four racing gigs—in round numbers, an outlay of $1700, which is quite an item for a club of three months' standing to think about, and speaks eloquently for the success of the institution.

Frank A. Garbutt, vice-president of the club, has a two-oared shell on Del Rey lagoons now, and his daughters are both accomplished oarswomen, so he realizes fully the advantages of the sport, and the desirability of that particular water. J. E. Franklin, who will probably become rowing coach of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, is also a frequenter of the Playa del Rey lagoon.

Just how many "past greats" of the rowing game this action of the club will discover it will be interesting to observe. For lack of suitable facilities many accomplished scullers have gone into enforced retirement. Men who should know, say there are at least 100 athletes in Los Angeles who have taken part in shell races. These will hear with pleasure that they can have another "lease of life" on the water, and may do worse than communicate with some club members, or even the secretary, at No. 534½ South Spring street, with a view to keeping in touch. In order to make the rowing features worth while, there must be no scarcity of performers.

GERMAN PRINCE WILL RACE.

Nine Boats Now Being Constructed for International Yacht Race to Be Sailed in September.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—A special to the Times from Boston, says:

After arranging with the Eastern Yacht Club all the details for the international yacht race between German and American boats, Commander Hebbinghaus of the Imperial German navy representing the Kaiser, yesterday inspected the course off Marblehead, over which the German-American races will be sailed in September.

After returning to Boston, Commander Hebbinghaus said that the American designers had gone to the limit allowed by the German Sonderklasse rule, under which the boats for the match are designed.

"The boats I have seen," he said, "are big for the rule. The designers have taken all they can get."

Fourteen boats have been ordered for the trials.

Commander Hebbinghaus said that nine boats were being built in Germany for the trials to be held in July at Kiel one of which was for the Crown Prince. Three of these will be sent to this country to contest in the match which will be held in September.

MAGUIRE WINS.

IRISH CHAMPIONSHIP.

In the first night of Henry Berry's 14.2 balk-line tournament, Maguire took Kennedy into camp by fifty-two points in as pretty and exciting a race of billiards as any one could ask to watch. Both had sixty-four for a high run. The winner wound up with an unfinished run of twenty-three, which proved, indeed, the "screw number," and will resume operations tonight with the balls placed as he left them last night. The total is 1000 points, divided into 250 points an evening. Scores: Maguire, 25-24-64-21-25-23 for highest runs; Kennedy, 20-20-64-25. Both played clean, clever billiards throughout.

EX-COLLEGE TEAM.

WILL PLAY THE SAINTS.

The ex-college baseball team, composed of former students at Stanford, Berkeley, U.S.C., Occidental and Beloit, will try conclusions with St. Vincent next Thursday afternoon on the latter's grounds. The ex-college team includes many veterans of the diamond who put up a fast article of ball. St. Vincent's victory over U.S.C. places it in the front rank in baseball circles, and a good game is expected.

LOS ANGELES HIGH.

PLAN CLASS BALL GAMES.

Arrangements are being perfected for a series of baseball games between the senior A, senior B and post-graduate classes. Athletics at the Los Angeles High School have been advanced to a point where it stands second to none in the State, and the baseball games are the result of class rivalry and will doubtless be spirited and full of ginger.

LITTLE PUGS BEGIN WORK.

MONTE ATTELL WILL HELP ABE SHAPE UP A BIT.

McCarey Plans a Series of Three Battles for Little Fellows to Settle Title to Belt—Abe Attell Will Make Los Angeles His Home in the Future.

Tom McCarey has formulated a plan whereby he thinks he can settle the featherweight championship and at the same time hold three fast battles in Los Angeles. McCarey's plan, which meets the approval of Abe Attell, is to have the featherweight champion meet Frankie Neil, Jimmy Walsh and Jem Bowker, the English champion, in a series of battles sixty days apart. These battles will be for the possession of the championship belt, which shall become the property of the one winning it three times.

Attell stated yesterday that he had decided to make Los Angeles his home and cast his future here, meeting all comers in his class and going out of it when proper weight was made. Attell says he can make 115 pounds at 3 o'clock, and if Frankie Neil will agree to this will fight him for the bantamweight championship. If Nelson or Herrera will make 130 ringside they can also be accommodated with a scrap. Attell's decision to remain here comes from the treatment he received in San Francisco, where he was born.

"I was never given a chance there," said the little champion, "and had to get my laurels away from home. I shall remain here and be ready to meet any man who wants a match before McCarey's club."

Abe will go to training today at Lewis's gymnasium, where his brother Monte, who returned from San Francisco yesterday, Terry Davis and "Kid" Barry, will assist him in his work. He will not do any heavy stunts, for he wants to retain all the weight possible.

Herman is down to work again at the Bohemian Cottage, and is out to get up speed, which he realizes will cut an important figure in the coming battle. Both boys will have plenty of time to get into shape by Friday, May 11, and the battle promises to be a clever exhibition of ring generalship and fast boxing.

BILLIARD MATCH ON.

Kennedy Runs Out in First Night's Play by a Score Higher Than McGuire's.

George Kennedy, playing in his usual superb style, defeated William McGuire by 52 points in the opening game of the 1200-point billiard match, which started last night at Berry's billiard parlors. Kennedy did not have a cinch on the game by any means and found McGuire always dangerous at every inning. The game throughout was close and exciting. Kennedy leading at times by the narrowest margin. A sample of the closeness of the play was shown in the high run, both contestants making 64. Kennedy's average was 10 10-29 and McGuire's 8 16-29. When Kennedy run out of his 300 points the score showed McGuire to have piled up 248 points.

The second game of the match will be played tonight, and each succeeding night until a total of 1200 points is secured by one of the contestants.

Interest in the present match, which is for the championship of Southern California, is intense, and large crowds gather to see the fun, which is free. The prize offered besides the championship is a purse of $40, given by Henry Berry.

YACHT RACEE WILL BE RUN.

Boats Are Gathering for Long Run from San Francisco to Diamond Head, Hawaii.

A dispatch from San Francisco announces that the trans-Pacific yacht race between the defender La Paloma of Hawaii, and the Pacific Coast fleet of crack yachts, will be sailed some time in June, and will not be annulled.

Charles L. Tutt, owner of the yacht Anemone, flying the colors of the New York Yacht Club, confirmed the statement yesterday. Mr. Tutt is now awaiting the arrival of the Anemone which sailed from New York five months ago and is making the trip around the Horn. The yacht is overdue, but no fear is felt for its safety and it will be taken to San Francisco and prepared for the long race from Meiggs's wharf to Diamond Head, near Honolulu.

The defender La Paloma is expected to reach San Francisco any day now, having sailed two weeks ago.

suffering one particle. We are doing relief work and Los Angeles is taking refugees by hundreds. Los Angeles did not suffer because San Francisco did. Will you please inform your friends, acquaintances and relatives that we are as safe as they would be if a cyclone had happened 500 miles from them? Los Angeles does not need your sympathy. We contradict your statement of the destruction of the whole of California. We still have our nose above water and can boast of an Angel City yet and have hopes of a metropolis in the near future. Do not dream that the angels left this city unguarded one moment. This part of California is yet a paradise of fruit and flowers and we Los Angelans are sharing this blessing from the Giver."

"EVERY BIT NOT SO."

Ralph Blakeslee, an eighth-grade pupil in the Tenth-street school, writes the following letter to Miss Corinne Blakeslee, a student in the Quakertown Art School in Pennsylvania, with the request that she read it to her class:

"A great many people in the East think that our city is totally destroyed by an earthquake and was then swallowed up by a tidal wave. It is every bit not so and the papers that printed it knew it as well as we do. Los Angeles is not damaged in the least. It has never had an earthquake to speak of and the whole of Southern California has not been damaged to any extent in the last 100 years. Hardly anybody in the East realizes that California is nearly 800 miles in length and that Los Angeles is fully 400 miles away from San Francisco. If there was an earthquake in Philadelphia nobody up in Portland, Me., would likely be injured nor the whole of Maine submerged. When the great earthquake at Charleston happened nobody in Washington, D. C., or Hartisburg, Pa., was in the least hurt. Just because the Imperial Potentate head of the Shriners declared that they would meet in Chicago instead of Los Angeles, that doesn't mean that they are not coming, because hundreds are coming here Fiesta week. The earthquake might just as well have happened in New York City as in San Francisco. These 'Cold Facts,' as they are headed, I have sent you are the truth and they were printed by the Los Angeles Times, an honorable paper. Our school would like to know your ideas on the subject.

"Yours respectfully,
"RALPH BLAKESLEE."

WANTS TO SEE MATTUCCI.

King Edward Will not Leave Naples Until He Meets Director of Mt. Vesuvius Observatory.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NAPLES, April 30.—The weather continuing fine, King Edward said he would not leave Naples without visiting the observatory, as he desired to meet Prof. Mattucci and Frank Perret of Brooklyn, directors of the observatory on Mt. Vesuvius.

The Duke and Duchess of Aosti were delighted, and offered to guide the King. Five automobiles were ordered to convey the royal party. Mrs. White, wife of the American Ambassador, formed one of the royal party, which tried to reach the observatory Saturday. It was hoped she would be able to accompany the party today, but it was found that she had already returned to Rome.

GORKY TO SPEAK IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, April 30.—It was announced here today that Maxim Gorky, the Russian revolutionist, will speak at two public meetings here Sunday, May 6. The meetings will be held under the auspices of Chicago workingmen's organizations. The meetings, at which other speakers will be present, will constitute a protest against the condition of the mining classes in Colorado and Idaho.

Dowie has not yet lost all. He still has his gewgaws.

Happily, Mr. Collins of Toronto has no authority over our Fiesta Committee.

It evidently takes Vesuvius almost as long to settle down as it takes some people to settle up.

The Monarchists are slow to learn that France is no longer fickle, and has freed herself of Kings for good. God save the republic!

A New York preacher of note now also rises to remark that the Resurrection was not a fact. Yet, as of old, people will prefer to take their own view of it.

The "pacification of the Caucasus" appears to have been attended with the usual devilment peculiar to pacifications generally when the populace demand their rights.

There has been no earthquake in Paris, but something like it may possibly occur today unless the anarchistic labor unions and the police keep out of the way of each other.

San Francisco has now reached that stage of confidence where it is considered safe to allow the saloons to open. But if they never opened it would be all the better.

The disaster that struck poor San Francisco has truly taught men humility. Both Joaquin Miller and Edwin Markham have refrained from writing poems on the subject.

If all that can be said by his political enemies against Gov. Hoch of Kansas is that he kissed and hugged a good-looking woman, his record is attractive enough to entitle him to re-election.

Maybe the new San Francisco wouldn't be quite the desired success without a new Chinatown, also. There could be such a thing as making the restored metropolis so new that nobody would like it.

The reverend (God save the mark) Beef Hay Mills will soon drop his job as the hired man of the Master Faker Hearst. "The hireling flieth, because he is a hireling," according to the gospels and the experience of the ages.

Now that we are able to sit up and look over the rim a little, it is learned that numerous political earthquakes are being considered. For instance, Great Britain is again preparing a large upheaval for the Sultan of Turkey.

Having performed such marvels with cheapened silver as her financial structure, who shall be able to tell what wonders Mexico will now accomplish since she has taken her place on a gold basis among the great nations of the earth!

According to the utterances of the poets, preachers, orators and some newspaper writers, it would be extremely difficult for cities destroyed by fire to rise from their ashes if they had not before them the example of Phenix, the fabled bird of the desert.

Paris is rejoicing because the workmen in the gas works have decided not to go on strike. But, even had they done so, it is not likely that anybody would have noticed the difference. According to the press dispatches, the whole city is one vast gas works.

In order to select a "Queen of the May, mother," in any portion of California today, it is only necessary to choose any of all the daughters of the Golden State. There are few of them who do not meet the requirements in physical beauty and sweetness of disposition.

If there is anything that Uncle Sam can do to help restore San Francisco, it will doubtless be a pleasure for him to perform the service. San Francisco was among the fairest of the children of one of Uncle Sam's favorite nieces, which is to say she was a lovely daughter of California.

Voliva appears to have a vast majority of the people of Zion City back of him, including the members of the choir and the brass band. If Brother Voliva can preserve harmony among these elements, especially the choir, he is as much entitled to be called a miracle worker as Dowie ever was.

The Douma, or new Parliament, which is being elected in Russia, is not friendly to the Czar or his throne. But the Czar has reserved the right to set aside any and all acts of the Douma, as it may please His Majesty so to do. Taking the situation as it exists into consideration, therefore, the indications are all favorable to endless trouble within the unhappy borders of Muscovy.

While the President of the United States objects to foreign countries contributing toward the relief of San Francisco, no steps whatever were taken to prevent British Columbia from doing so. Perhaps B. C. is not regarded as a foreign country, in view of the fact that she is constantly threatening to jump over into the United States, and is liable to do so at almost any time.

THE SINEWS OF PEACE

Of course we do not need to be told that money is the sinews of peace, as well as of war. We are likely to find this to be a truth more impressive than usual in California during the next year. We have known this very intimately during all the past year or more in America. The industries of the country have grown at such an unprecedented pace that in spite of the fact that the output of gold was greater than ever before, money has been scant to do the world's work during the last few years. This condition will be intensified because the call for money from all parts of the country and from all over the world will not slacken at any point and the demand will be much more urgent on this coast because of the destruction of San Francisco.

The banks have a hundred millions in good gold coin in the vaults of the burned-out institutions of San Francisco. This money is not even melted down. The insurance companies are likely to pay twice that sum for losses incurred by the fire. The $300,000,000 here in sight will do a great deal toward rebuilding the city. The money that will go into building will be stretched along months and years, but the stocks of goods in the various stores will have to be replaced with all possible promptness. Perhaps 150,000 of the population of San Francisco have left the city, most of them not to return immediately. But many thousands of these are in Oakland and other near-by cities, and their needs will have to be provided for. The stocks of goods in the various outlying towns will help out, but the fact remains that this population must still be fed and clothed, and the supplies in San Francisco are lost.

It is earnestly to be desired that the Federal government may find it possible to meet with the request put forward by the financiers of San Francisco to guarantee bonds bearing a low rate of interest for an amount of $200,000,000 to relieve the money stringency in that city. The floating of such a bond issue with money referred to above would provide $500,000,000, and it seems as if this aggregate would be sufficient to restore the city in a manner commensurate with the properly large ideas of that community. But presuming that this will be done, it means the withdrawing from other centers of this immense amount of money. It is going to tax the ability, not only of the United States, but of the civilized world under existing circumstances, to finance the enormous project of rebuilding the city of San Francisco and restocking its stores, wholesale and retail, with goods. The effect upon the money market of the world will be marked. The interest rates in all financial centers in Europe have been unusually high for many months past. The Bank of England discount rate has been maintained at 4 per cent. for perhaps six months. At Berlin the rate has been 5 per cent. and at Paris 3 to 3½ per cent. Russia is in the market asking for a large loan, Germany desires to float a loan of her own, immense sums of money have been loaned to Japan, and this urgent call from San Francisco comes at a time when it will strain the financial world to meet the demand.

These conditions are not likely to affect the Pacific Coast any more keenly than all the financial centers of the East, and indeed of the world. Civilized humanity and all its vast enterprises and activities are so intimately bound together in these days of railroads, steamships and telegraphs, that like the earthquake at San Francisco, which was felt at Washington, Berlin and Rome, so this financial disturbance will be felt in every great city on the globe.

Of course our own immediate conditions are those which will most directly appeal to ourselves. The demand for money in Los Angeles has been extremely active, and while the banks have been generally able to meet all the calls upon them, the exceedingly conservative manner in which our banks are managed has often forced borrowers to go abroad for accommodation. The laws of the United States governing national banks and those of the State of California controlling State commercial banks assume that 25 per cent. reserve of deposits subject to check is sufficient to insure safety under normal conditions. The banks of Los Angeles, as a general rule, have carried twice this amount in their reserve funds. At the present time, some of them hold as high as 70 per cent. of their deposits, and the average of all commercial banks today would probably run at between 60 and 65 per cent. Savings banks of course are permitted to loan all their funds on term deposits. But the demand for money in this city has been so active that the savings institutions, almost the only ones permitted to loan on real estate, have generally been able to ask 6 per cent. per annum interest. Large amounts on long term loans and on the very cream of income-producing property, have been loaned at 5 per cent. Whenever borrowers desired money at a lower rate of interest, 4 to 4½ per cent., they have been accommodated by San Francisco savings banks or from the funds of the State university. Some of these San Francisco savings banks have very large sums of money loaned on Southern California real estate. It is more than likely that as these loans become due, they will be called. Borrowers hereafter desiring cheap money will not be able to find accommodation in San Francisco. All the funds available there will be needed at home. Unless money from the East is obtainable on Los Angeles real estate, it will be difficult to obtain money here at less than 6 per cent. This with the probable enhancement in the cost of building material and of labor, must undoubtedly to some extent affect building activity and possibly real estate activity.

The same facts will apply to bond issues, whether local or municipal. It will be much more difficult to float them in the future than in the past. This is a matter which must receive the most careful attention, particularly in considering municipal loans. These bonds issued usually run for a long period. An issue running twenty years, even if the rate of interest is only raised one-half or even one-fourth of 1 per cent., where the sum involved is a million dollars or several million dollars, makes a very great difference to the taxpayers in the long run.

Of course there are compensating elements in the conditions arising out of the fire. Los Angeles, for a time at least, and that time will probably extend over several years, will do more wholesale and jobbing business than in the past. A good many people who have lost everything in San Francisco are here now and undoubtedly many of them will remain. This addition to the population, regrettable as the cause of it is, must increase our business activity by just so much. From all over Western America a vast multitude of people have been accustomed to come to San Francisco and adjacent Coast towns to spend the hot months of the summer. With the hotels of San Francisco and the surrounding towns more or less destroyed, a great many of these summer visitors will undoubtedly come to Los Angeles and the Coast towns surrounding here.

There are certain elements in the situation tending to retard business more or less. There are other elements tending to accelerate the activity in many lines. So far almost every member of the community seems to have taken the wise and philosophical view of the matter. Of all the people in Los Angeles interested in real estate you can probably count on your fingers the number who have in the least lost courage or their senses. They have wisely come to the conclusion that whatever real estate in this city or surrounding towns was intrinsically worth a month ago, it is worth today. As said before, the higher cost of interest and the possible higher cost of building, may tend in some degree to slacken the pace, but it is not likely to do so very perceptibly, and probably not for long.

THE RUSSIAN ELECTIONS.

On May 10, according to programme, the first Russian Parliament will be opened with imposing ceremonial by the Czar in Moscow, the old historic capital of the Empire, and a new era will begin for a country that has hitherto been under the sway of absolutely irresponsible autocracy. The constitutional assembly may not be all that the friends of popular freedom desire, and some of the powers conferred upon it by the original Imperial manifesto of October 30 have been whittled down, notably the right to decide on loans and monetary questions, placed by a recent decree in the hands of a special commission. But it is a beginning of parliamentary government, and, whatever its limitations, infinitely better than no Parliament at all. For the history of the whole civilized world has proved that, once the people has been called in to play a part in national administration, any sweeping reactionary movement is impossible.

The French Revolution of 1789 affords the standard illustration of this great truth. When the States General assembled in Paris Louis XVI. was apparently master of the situation. He vetoed act after act of the assembly, but this course of deliberate resistance to the will of the elected representatives of the people gradually undermined his position and eventually led him to the scaffold. Similarly, a hundred and fifty years earlier, Charles I. of Great Britain had fought the House of Commons step by step, dissolving Parliament at his will when the members proved recalcitrant, and virtually suspending the constitution by delaying the elections for long periods. But in the end he lost both his throne and his head. It is extremely unlikely that, with freedom spread nearly all over the civilized world since those days, Czar Nicholas II. will seek to follow in the footsteps of either of these misguided monarchs, clinging desperately to despotism after the all conquering spirit of popular freedom had been evoked.

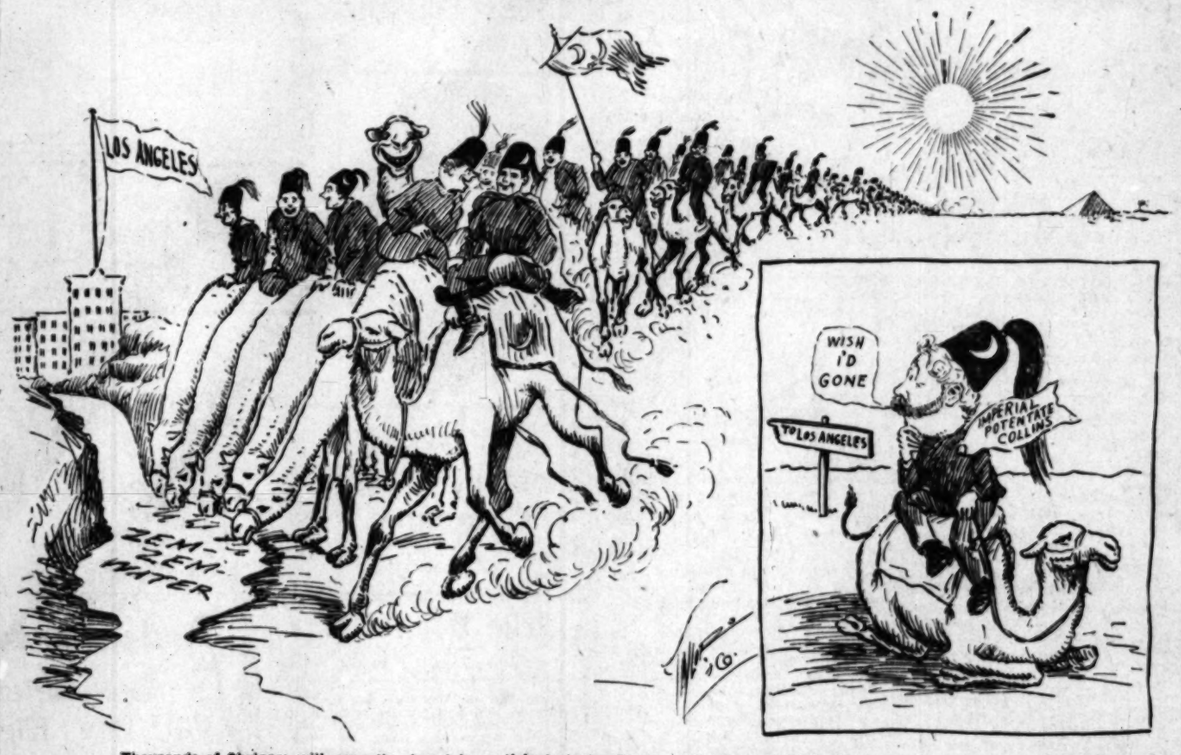
These historical parallels with the present situation in Russia are not exact. The Czar has still behind him a loyal army, which Louis XVI. had not, and he has retained the power of the purse, which Charles I. never possessed. Therefore he may venture with success, or at least with the temporary prospect of success, things which these rulers essayed with the certainty of disaster for themselves. But the recent course of events in Russia has clearly taught the Czar that the days of absolutism have passed forever, and that popular opinion cannot be ignored. The chances therefore are that, having granted to his people in good faith the right of a representative chamber, he will now seek wisely and moderately to mold its work to the best service of its country.

But his task has been made a difficult one by the deluge of radicalism that has swept the recent elections. The first series of elections went in favor of the Social Democrats, the party of reasonable constitutional reform. These were great victories for the people, for they were won in the cities that were the acknowledged strongholds of the bureaucracy. The election of Social Democrats was an outspoken condemnation of the existing order of things, yet it did not mean the sending of out-and-out revolutionaries into the constituent assembly. But the later elections, in the peasant districts and the industrial centers, have been marked by no such moderation. Men representing the most extreme views, Socialists, anarchists, and separatists, have been deliberately chosen by the electorates, and the more moderate reformers will be quite outnumbered in the Douma, or popular chamber. These elections represent victories for the cause of revolution as distinct from the cause of reform.

Yet the Emperor holds a counterpoise to the Douma in the Upper House, or Council of the Empire, one half of whose members are Imperial nominees. No legislation can pass without the assent of both chambers, and then there still remains the right of Imperial veto besides, so that the chance of rashly subversive legislation is effectually safeguarded. But the regrettable feature of the situation is that, with the revolutionary party in the overwhelming ascendant in the lower house, there is little chance of serious attempt at reasonable reform—at the wise creative legislation on which alone the edifice of Russian constitutional freedom can be upbuilded.

Therefore all the world will deplore the turn which the elections have taken. What was wanted at the present crisis was counsels of wise moderation in the Douma. The hope of this being precluded, the likelihood is that the Douma will be promptly dissolved, or that the real power will be vested exclusively in the Council of the Empire. Either of these results will be a partial victory for the party of reaction, but the extreme reformers will have only themselves to blame.

"THE CAMELS ARE COMING."



Thousands of Shriners will cross the desert to participate in La Fiesta, while Curly Collins will stay at home and hate himself.

NATIONAL AID.

The Times notes with pleasure that the Citizens' Committee of San Francisco, headed by ex-Mayor James D. Phelan and composed of men thoroughly alive to the best ultimate good of the city, has taken up with vim the idea first expressed in these columns on the 21st inst. The idea has taken nine days to germinate, but the men in our sister city realize that it strikes the true note—that in building moderately and comprehensively for the future, the entire Coast is interested; that the "general welfare" which is by the Federal Constitution entrusted to the national government is essentially concerned; and that this movement for a new San Francisco, like many other public and quasi-public works, requires and is entitled to government aid.

Such aid should at least be extended to public improvements whereby they can be planned and carried out on a scale commensurate with the character and needs of the San Francisco of twenty-five and fifty years hence.

Now is the accepted time for broad-minded action and accurate foresight. Now is the time when if she is to sit as a queen upon her thrice seven hills, San Francisco needs the use of the money or credit of the nation to which she has contributed so much and to which in the future she will contribute vastly more.

But our interest in the welfare of our neighbors is such that we would see them approach the undertaking in that manner best calculated to bring success. The government is not engaged in the business of loaning money; it is neither a Good Samaritan nor a Shylock. The warrant for its every act must be found in our fundamental law, and an application for the use of money based solely upon the necessities of the applicant or the soundness of its security alone, will meet with short shrift in Washington.

It should, therefore, be first understood by our friends and made plain to our national representatives that the common defense and general welfare clause of the Constitution form the basis of the proposed action. Without this, the corner-stone of the movement is lacking.

As The Times of the 21st stated in its published communication from a well-known lawyer of our city:

"No exigency in the history of this young nation ever existed calling more urgently for immediate national effort directed to such common defense and general welfare. The channels of our commerce with the eastern world are choked and snagged, and our defenses have behind them but the gloomy monuments of former activity and resources. Among them wander dazed, destitute and distraught, former merchant princes, reduced to beggary, and former millionaires who have not where to lay their heads. The nation is not strong on its frontier because alone of its fortifications and soldiery at Black Point. Five hundred thousand, or a good percentage of the people who make the nation, are prone and almost helpless."

And Los Angeles stands ready and willing to help her sister to the end of making her a nation's pride.

Moody Saved the Slate.

A few years ago, before the Australian ballot system was in use in election primaries, Atty.-Gen. William H. Moody, who was then a lawyer in Haverhill, created no end of amusement by a remark that was immediately turned into a joke, and which has clung to the Cabinet member ever since.

In those days the "slate" was usually made out before the caucus by the party leaders, and in this particular case "Bill" Jeffers had been selected to present the "slate" to the assembled voters. It was new business for Jeffers, and he became a trifle nervous when he secured the floor. He had the list of names of the delegates in his hat, which he held in his hands as he stood up to address the chairman. But, in his nervous plight, he seemed unable to read the names, and stillness reigned for a few moments while he endeavored to gain control of his vocal organ.

Mr. Moody was standing in the rear of the room, and after some time had been wasted by Jeffers in trying to gain his power of speech Mr. Moody addressed the chair, saying: "Mr. Chairman, I move that the list of names in 'Bill' Jeffer's hat be nominated," and it was, amid suppressed laughter.—[Boston Herald.

Secretary Taft is hopeful that in a few days he will have reduced his weight to 250 pounds. Then he will have accomplished his long-distance fasting feat. He hasn't had anything to eat that he wanted to eat since Christmas Day. He has lived mostly on lean beef and spinach since that time and he has taken off fifty-nine pounds.

Thomas Lewis, the son of an African King, who is studying medicine at the Syracuse University, has devised characters to express the language of his tribe. He proposes to translate the Bible and to introduce the Christian religion among the natives. His home is in Liberia, and upon the completion of his course he expects to become a medical missionary to his people.

Secretary Shaw was visited recently by a Kansas City man who wanted some favor done for the place of his residence. Now the Secretary has made many trips to Kansas City and reminded his petitioner of the fact. "How long since you were there, Mr. Secretary?" asked the man. Shaw replied in a tone of confidence: "Just six months ago," and expected that the answer would squelch the westerner. "Good Lord, Mr. Secretary," ejaculated the latter, with undisguised enthusiasm, "you just ought to see the town now."

After every speech he delivers, Bourke Cockran is a sore man physically. Any one who has ever seen him in oratorical action knows why he is sore. The old flagellant mouks were not much more cruel to themselves than Cockran is to himself. His favorite gesture is to slap his thighs, and it is no love tap he gives them, but a good beating. Cockran is one of the old-school, muscular, desk-pounding class of orators. If he could not hammer his desk and thump his thighs he would probably think his powers failing.

Now watch the Examiner and see it flop. A large number of advertisers have withdrawn from its columns on account of its knocking of La Fiesta, and it begins to see a great white light amid the yellow fog. The next thing you know, the Hearst sheet will be shouting for a Fiesta; and a little later it will pretend to be the only newspaper that ever suggested holding a Fiesta here.

Ten thousand people killed in Southern California. Los Angeles a "city of the dead," and five thousand people killed in San Francisco—that is the way Hearst's Chicago American sizes up the situation, printing this astounding fake in one of its evening editions, a facsimile of which is printed elsewhere in this issue. Hearst himself really beats Uncle Heine as a knocker, and eke as a bamboozler of the public.

COLD FACTS.

1. Los Angeles is more than 400 miles away from the scene of the disturbance which has laid San Francisco in ruins, partly by earthquake shock, but chiefly by fire. Only a slight tremor was felt in Los Angeles.

2. In all the history of Southern California, extending back to the days of the Franciscan Fathers, about a century and a half, there has not been a serious earthquake in this region.

3. Los Angeles and the country around about, within a radius of one hundred miles, while it has experienced some slight "temblors," has never had, within the knowledge of man, an earthquake shock strong enough to do any damage worth mentioning; hardly enough, in point of fact, "to move a brick" (unless, indeed, the brick were just ready to be toppled over.)

4. In the entire history of California, (and that of the whole Pacific Coast,) down to the day of the San Francisco catastrophe, less injury to property and less loss of life has been inflicted by earthquake than has often been caused by a single tornado in one of the Eastern States. And most of the damage in San Francisco was caused by fire, as noted above.

5. A disaster similar to that of San Francisco may never occur again in any part of the United States. It is as liable to occur in Boston, or New York, or Philadelphia, as on the Pacific Coast.

6. Far from being shaken or damaged by the San Francisco earthquake, Los Angeles was the first to send relief to the smitten city, sending carload after carload of supplies and thousands of dollars in money on the very day of the disaster.

PLAYHOUSES AND PLAYERS.

MASON OPERAHOUSE. "A Message from Mars" is the play which opened at the Mason last night to the best-filled house since the earthquake, and which will run for the rest of the week. "A Message from Mars," written by Richard Ganthony, is called by him "a comedy in three acts." It isn't really a comedy, however, but a curious cross between a farce, a melodrama and a fantasy. It begins, and continues, and ends, exactly like a Sunday-school story, and its moral is more obvious than the nose on one's face.

All this sounds pretty discouraging—but the fact remains, just the same, that "A Message from Mars" is a very interesting play. There are some wonderfully good stage effects in it, too. The success of "A Message from Mars" ought to convince the sneering cynic that the heart of humanity is still in the right place, and that it dearly loves a sermon—when the variations on the text are given in an entertaining way. The regeneration of a man from utter selfishness to a fine altruism—the theme is as old as the universe, and of absorbing interest, for the Martian who came to earth to take Horace Parker in hand might just as aptly have pointed his finger at any one of us and said, "Thou art the man!"

David Proctor does some excellent work in the role of Horace Parker. Sometimes, perhaps, he seems unduly flippant, even for a selfish man. Henry Gadfield's make-up is weirdly impressive in the Martian, a gray, Sphinx-like creature. His voice, too, is sepulchral and commanding, and his poses are statuesque.

The whole cast of the play is very well placed, some of the minor characters doing as strong and convincing work as the leading people. "A Message from Mars" is sure to please—and it is bound to do us good, if we will but remember and apply its lesson.

BURBANK. "Fanchon the Cricket" is such an old play that it is a novelty. Its sentimentality is saccharine, its action is tedious and some of its interpolations—in the present instance—are quite uncalled for, but the quaint, slow "atmosphere" and the old-world story give it interest.

As Fanchon, Blanche Hall is cast in another suitable role, for her wee personality is quite at home in the short frocks of the little outcast. She conveys the impression of naturalness, and rises in sufficient strength to the demands of the stronger scenes. But Miss Hall is quite unaccountable in the last act. Why, when all the rest of the people wear kerchiefs, knee-buckles and small clothes, should she presume to enter in a shirt-waist, skirt and sailor hat which are most undeniably of the Twentieth Century? The fact that she has been away to a city does not give her license to garb her plump figure a whole century ahead of the fashions.

She is ably seconded in comedy by William Stockbridge, whose ridiculously delightful mannerisms and interested remarks make humor distinctively original.

Phoss McAllister, nominally retired, reappears this week as old Fadet. William Desmond, in a blonde wig, is sufficiently melancholy as the love-lorn Landry. John Burton has a diversion from his usual line of parts in old Barebeaud. Unusual scenic effects are attempted, and consummated. In the background of one act tumbles a lofty fall of genuine water, musically splashing through the whole scene.

BELASCO. "Brown's in Town," a current farce, was presented at the Belasco Theater last night. Dick Vivian has the principal comedy part. The play will receive more extended consideration in the Wednesday Times.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE. "Camille," an unfading study in lachrymics that bids fair to outlast many of the most popular dramas of today, again holds the boards at the Grand Operahouse. No telling how many celebrities have echoed the pulmonary tragedy over its footlights in days gone by; but at least none of the Ulrich companies have ever produced it, and Manager Drown was anxious to try the experiment.

The result is good, for the company seems well adapted to the familiar roles of this Dumas drama, and the audiences take as kindly to its tearful scenes as though they had been written especially for this presentation.

Corinne Snell is seen to distinct advantage as Camille. Her powers of varied expression are shown more thoroughly here than in anything she has yet played. Harrison King, masculine and forceful always, is well placed in Armand's role. Lule Warrenton has an excellent opportunity also in the snivelling Mme. Prudence, whom she makes very real and very comic.

HOTCHKISS. The Olympia Opera Company is presenting "The Chimes of Normandy" again at the Hotchkiss theater. The piece is one of the best-known successes of their repertoire. Lottie Kendall essays the leading part, Serpolette, "the good-for-nothing." In this venerable comedy of music her singing does much to stimulate the production.

Miss Lucile de Val as Germaine, the last Marchioness, with William H. West and Robert Pitkin, prove a good combination in all the acts.

There might be considerable improvement by giving the chorus a course in voice-culture, for the singing of the "support" is not at all times satisfactory.

ORPHEUM. Charles R. Sweet, with his absurd comedy and his delicately modulated music, is the cleverest among the newcomers at the Orpheum. Sweet's patois betrayeth him as a Yankee, and his humor, though not always of the subtle sort, is nevertheless genuine, and his jokes have the merit of newness. His piano imitations are superb, and his improvisations on a popular air show much technical skill. He concludes his act with a decidedly up-to-date song of his own composition, "When 'Frisco's Built Again."

The most novel act is the English "Motoring," imported from London by the Orpheum circuit. The sketch is written about the troubles of an automobiling party employs nearly half a dozen persons, and is delightfully English in every phrase. As such it is unique and interesting, for its way lies not in the path of the ordinary American burlesque.

Artie Hall, whose physical fascination is more subtle than the charms of a woman who might be called beautiful, still holds the heart-interest in her mimicry of the "yaller gal" of the South. Miss Hall's study is direct from the soil, and is appealing because it holds more pathos than humor—pathos as quaint and primitive that it compels a laugh as well as a sigh. If there were more impersonators to get real studies of the things they impersonate, and fewer who copied other impersonators, the stage would be better off.

Will Armstrong and Magdelene Holly are still doing the laugh stunt in "The Expressman," which is merely an embalmment of Armstrong's comicalities.

Musical Kleist opens the bill with his melodic pantomime, and Goleman, with his remnant of clever dogs and cats, closes it. Allen and La Croix continue in their colorless fencing sketch, and Jimmy Wall does lamely for want of a good monologue.

SHRINERS COMING.

Three Delegations on the Way from the East—Will Be Welcomed and Entertained.

Many of the Shriners are coming to Los Angeles, anyway.

No official notices have been received by the local temple, but private communications indicate that three delegations are now on their way to this city as fast as their special trains can carry them.

These contingents are from Boston, New York and Denver, and are doubtless willing to forego the Shrine Council for the sake of the excursion through the West.

While there will be no formal entertainment for these parties, they will be extended the good-fellowship of all the local Shriners, and, if possible, be entertained in Southern California until Fiesta time, when they will be guests of honor at the great floral fete.

NEW RELIEF HEADQUARTERS.

BAKER BLOCK WILL BE FUTURE SUPPLY POINT.

North Main-street Rooms to Be Taken Possession of Today by Workers, Who Still Desire Many Things for the Needy—Subscriptions to Fund Continue.

Many are the things still needed by the Central Relief Committee, and especially by the women's branch, which will move into the Baker Block on North Main street today.

The new headquarters will be the central point of distribution to all refugees as well as the receiving station for all supplies which may be donated. The work there will be systematized and each department of relief will be under its proper head. Here are a few of the things which the heads of the women's department say is especially needed:

A stove and utensils, a wash boiler, washtubs and two boards, also a clothes wringer, smoothing irons, two clothes lines and two ironing boards; also a bed and bedding, dishes, knives, forks and spoons, tables and chairs, not to forget an oil stove and a sewing machine. For furniture, particularly, there is a demand to fit out refugee families for light housekeeping. The new telephone number at the new headquarters will be "Home 1059."

The Los Angeles branch of the Needlework Guild announces having donated, officially, 4000 new garments to the earthquake and fire victims. Outfits for twenty babies have also been sent to Oakland to the Eastern Star.

DR. PRICE'S DONATION.

Dr. Price, president of the Price Cereal Food Company of Chicago, immediately upon hearing of the San Francisco disaster directed the Los Angeles representative of the company, E. L. Moseley, to donate one carload of their ready-cooked celery food to those who were in want in the north. This car was dispatched promptly on a special train and the contents are being distributed through the San Francisco relief stations.

In his generosity, however, Dr. Price and his company were robbed of the credit due them through the fact that "I-done-it" Hearst and the Examiner plastered the car with a banner announcing that this was part of their contribution to the needy.

CITIZENS' SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Subscriptions to the amount of $960.52 were made yesterday to the Citizens' Relief Committee for the benefit of the sufferers by the San Francisco disaster. This swells the grand total subscribed through this agency to $184,623.11. The additions made yesterday are as follows: Real estate men, $825; E. W. Jones, $50; Los Angeles Market tenants, $46.70; employés W. H. Hoegee Company (additional,) $12.40; Central Christian Church, $7.92; students College of Law, University of Southern California, $6.50; Henry L. Scherbe, $5; R. C. Guirado, $5; Mrs. Ada Lewis, $2; friend, 10 cents.

PROFESSIONAL MEN'S AID.

Fund Started by H. E. Huntington for the Relief of Brain Workers Grows Fast.

The idea of a "brain-workers' relief," which originated with H. E. Huntington of this city, and which he generously backed up with a $30,000 donation, seems destined to longevity. The committee, consisting of J. W. McKinley, J. T. Gaffey and George J. Denis, appointed to look into the matter, has heartily agreed that it should be a permanent institution of relief. This committee met yesterday and appointed J. T. Gaffey to go to San Francisco and confer with W. F. Herrin, Judge Henshaw and Dr. F. K. Ainsworth, who will make suggestions as to the best way in which to disburse the funds. J. W. McKinley has been elected chairman of the committee.

The fund has now grown considerably, amounting to $50,000 in all, $10,000 of which was given by Sherman & Clark of the Los Angeles-Pacific Company. Other committees will probably be appointed, and representative men of all professional associations, including lawyers, physicians, architects, journalists, etc., will be asked to contribute or to induce their associations to contribute, to the proposed permanent fund, from which monetary relief can be furnished at all times to brain workers, of any kind or class, who may become deserving and in needy circumstances.

It is suggested that money can be loaned out to professional men in hard straits to be repaid as they are able, without interest.

Wealthy Refugees.

Mrs. Moncreiff and maid arrived yesterday from San Francisco, and are at Hotel Alexandria. Mrs. Moncreiff is a well-known leader in English society. She has been on a visit to India, and had been at the Palace Hotel for a few days when the great disaster drove the guests from the hotel. She was one of the last to leave the building. After sharing for several days in the hardships to which all were subjected, she finally succeeded in reaching Los Angeles, and will rest here a few days before proceeding to London.

Mrs. Isidor Schwartz, Miss Schwartz and Miss Pearl Schwartz, wealthy refugees from the north, have taken apartments at Hotel Alexandria, and will spend a month or more here while their beautiful home in San Francisco is being restored. J. A. Garcia, a well-known traveling man from Havana, Cuba, is registered ta Hotel Alexandria.

NAMES WANTED IN OAKLAND.

Persons Who Fled from the North Asked to Send Back Present Addresses.

An official request has been received from Oakland by the various relief committees of this city asking their assistance in the work of tracing all San Francisco and Oakland persons who left those cities immediately after the disaster. The Oakland Chamber of Commerce is trying to locate all the persons for whom inquiry has been made and the task has been found an almost impossible one.

In order that the work may be facilitated and the list made as complete as possible, all persons who fled from the cities in the district around San Francisco bay are requested to send to the Oakland Chamber of Commerce their names, their former addresses in the North and their present addresses.

MORE MONEY NEEDED FOR STRICKEN CITY.

I acknowledge, on behalf of the Los Angeles Times, the receipt, up to 12 o'clock midnight, April 30, of the generous total of $79,927.70 for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers, made up as follows:

Contributions previously acknowledged $79,927.70

According to the latest advices, the need for more money is increasing, not diminishing.

I will receive additional contributions and account for all, no matter how small the amounts. All the moneys so contributed, except such amounts as I may deem it expedient to expend direct, will be turned over to a relief committee composed of reliable citizens whose names will be a guarantee of the proper application of the fund. Let the responses be prompt, numerous and liberal.

WEARY TRIALS OF FUGITIVES.

REV. PRESTON M'KINNEY MAY DIE FROM EXPOSURE.

Aged Local Preacher and Wife Driven from Apartments in San Francisco by Fire, and After Great Trouble Reach Hospital, Where Son Finally Finds Them.

After a soul-harrowing search in San Francisco and surrounding towns, Preston McKinney, Jr., editor of the Commercial Bulletin of this city, has found his aged father, Rev. Preston McKinney, in Fabicia Hospital in Oakland. The old gentleman is in a critical condition as a result of exposure and hardship following the earthquake and fire.

Rev. McKinney has been in poor health for some time and it was decided by his family that a change of climate might be of benefit. With his wife he left their home here, at No. 119 West Avenue 44, and went to San Francisco shortly before the disaster. They had quarters on Jones street.

On the night after the earthquake, they were obliged to leave their apartments, being warned by the soldiers to do so. In his enfeebled condition, the aged preacher came near dying on the street. It is believed the end would have come at that time had not a physician, who was among the fleeing throng, administered a hypodermic injection.

In their flight, Mrs. McKinney carried with her but $40 in cash. With this she hired an express wagon to take them on, away from the approaching flames.

Just as the feeble fugitive and his companion were climbing into the wagon, a man rushed up and offered the express wagon driver $80 in cash for the use of the vehicle. The McKinneys accordingly were turned out onto the street again.

Finally they managed to get a two-wheeled ramshackle cart in which they got to the Presidio.

Upon learning of the disaster, Preston McKinney hastened from here to aid his parents and passed many distressing hours before he got trace of them.

WRECK ON SANTA FE.

Several Passengers Are Injured When Train Leaves the Track Near Rincon.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FULLERTON, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The north-bound Riverside train of the Santa Fé ran off the track today below Rincon, and several of the passengers were injured.

A. Bert Hammond, a clerk at Corona, was bruised about the back; Jacob Levey of San Francisco, who lost everything in the fire and was on the train, sustained an injury to his foot.

H. S. Williams of Los Angeles was on the train but was uninjured. He says a woman passenger had all her teeth knocked out, but after she had left the train and found that no one was killed she fell upon her knees and offered up a prayer of thankfulness.

A number of accidents have occurred near Rincon the past year due, it is said, to the gradual slipping of the tracks in the rainy season.

MEXICAN LOSES ARM.

With his arm hanging in shreds at his side, Dominguez Aivarado, a Mexican, walked nearly three block to Third street and Central avenue last night, after being struck by a gravel train of the Southern Pacific railway. The man was so dazed by the shock that he could give no particulars about the accident. He is employed by the Salt Lake railroad, and has been living at Construction Camp Nine. At the Receiving Hospital the arm was taken off, removing the joint and shoulder-blade.

ALL HARD BOILED, TOO.

Record Shipment of Cooked Hen Fruit by Cold Storage Men.

It's no picnic up in San Francisco, yet the twelve hundred dozen hard-boiled eggs—that is, 14,400 eggs—will undoubtedly be welcomed by the picnickers in the parks and other open spots. This record-breaking shipment of ready-cooked hen fruit is the donation to the sufferers in the north of the employés of the Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company. They raised $200 and bought the eggs, cooked them, chilled them, repacked them and sent them on their mission of cheerfulness and relief. And every one of the eggs will be eaten.

A PROMINENT EDUCATOR

Declares Vinol Is the Best Cod Liver Oil Preparation.

There has been a good deal of discussion in Los Angeles regarding the merits of cod liver oil preparations, and whether or not cod liver oil and emulsions that upset the stomach, have any medicinal virtue; therefore, the following letter from M. A. Cassidy, superintendent of schools, Lexington, Ky., will be read with interest:

"I am pleased to state that after having used and tested the different cod liver oil preparations on the market, I find Vinol to be far superior to them all. It is palatable and pleasant to the taste, in fact, the oily, fishy taste of cod liver oil is done away with entirely, and the curative and strengthening properties of Vinol are truly remarkable.

"Vinol built up my system, strengthened my nerves and made a new man of me, and I heartily endorse it as the most efficacious and agreeable cod liver oil preparation on the market."

A member of the Owl Drug Co., when asked his opinion in regard to Vinol, replied: "We firmly believe Vinol to be the best preparation of cod liver oil, therefore, the greatest strength-creator and health-restorer known to medicine today. We have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to build up the system, strengthen the nerves, cure indigestion, chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis and incipient consumption, or to make growing children robust and give strength and vigor to the aged, and to make the weak strong and the sick well."

It is for this reason that we offer to give back the money in every case where it fails." The Owl Drug Co., 320 South Spring St.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

ONE of the belles of the city is engaged to be married. Today the announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Grace Mellus and Francis A. Corbusier of San Francisco.

As a result more than one bachelor will tuck his heart away beneath his coat with a sigh; for she has been one of the most widely admired and feted of all the pretty girls. But best of all, she's managed to keep it a dead secret until a few days ago, notwithstanding the anxiety of all her friends to learn if there "really was any one."

This pretty romance dates back some time. A number of years ago, Mr. Corbusier met Miss Mellus, while he was here on the Stanford University team. The statuesque beauty, and sweet and unassuming manner of the lovely belle, at once won young Corbusier's admiration and ever since he's been a devoted suitor. They have been engaged just about a year, and not a word has even the closest girl friend of the bride-to-be known of it. When the disaster at San Francisco came, however, Miss Mellus was of course greatly worried over her lover's fate. In the excitement of the moment, she told her friends and the secret was out. For the past eight days Mr. Corbusier has been working like a hero among the suffering people of the north. In the work of rescuing sufferers he was burned, but not seriously injured. Mr. Corbusier is at present a visitor at the Mellus home on West Adams street for a few days.

The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Mellus of No. 234 West Adams street and is one of the loveliest girls in society. The family have been here for many years and are prominently identified with the social and business life of the city. Miss Mellus is a prime favorite with every one with whom she comes in contact. She has been widely entertained here, and in San Francisco, where she has visited, and always moved in the most exclusive circles. She is tall and graceful, with wonderful crown of Titian hair and deep eyes, which change from hazel to deep brown, with the mood of the owner. Her unusual type of beauty has made her an ideal subject for artists, and Arnold Genthe of San Francisco has made dozens of pictures of her in different poses.

Mr. Corbusier is a young bachelor, tall and distinguished, and comes of a splendid family. His father is Col. W. H. Corbusier of the United States Army, at present in Washington, but soon to be stationed at Vancouver Barracks. Col. Corbusier is from New York and his wife comes of one of the proudest of Southern families, a native of North Carolina. Mr. Corbusier himself is a graduate of Stanford University and a member of the Beta Theta Phi fraternity. During his college life he was much interested in athletics and made several teams. At the time of the Spanish War in the Philippines he went with the Stanford volunteer Company and fought there. He is now connected with one of the leading business firms in San Francisco.

The couple have not made any plans for their wedding as yet, but the many friends of Miss Mellus will regret to know that Mr. Corbusier will take his bride to San Francisco to make their home.

Mr. Nevin's Wedding.

News has been received from Butte, Mont., of the wedding of William Nevin and Miss Hattie G. Sanders, the nuptials having been of unusual social importance owing to the prominence of the bride's family. The wedding took place at the family home of the bride's parents, Mai. and Mrs. J. G. Sanders of Butte. The affair was elegant in all its appointments. The wedding party stood beneath a bower of white marguerites, satin ribbons and roses, while baskets filled with snowy tulips hung about the bower and palms and potted plants formed a hedge about the broad window and St. Joseph lilies stood at each end. Bowls of bride roses and carnations were about, and on the piano stood a great basket of mammoth American Beauty roses. Greenery and white stock were utilized in the dining-room in the floral arrangement. The bride was a lovely picture in white chiffon cloth, made princesse and trimmed with an abundance of point lace. Her veil was caught at the coiffure with a semi-wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a drop bouquet of bride roses. Her little honor maid, Miss Mary Sanders, wore white Paris muslin with lace and blue ribbons. Russell Taylor of Los Angeles stood with the groom. Miss Louise McPherson played the wedding march. Mrs. Sanders, mother of the bride, wore white chiffon voile trimmed with lace. Mrs. W. G. Nevin, mother of the groom, was attired in black thread lace over silk. Miss Helen Nevin wore shell pink liberty crepe, evening gown trimmed in lace. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. d'Acheul, uncle and aunt of the bride, went from Los Angeles to attend the wedding. The bride is one of the prettiest and most popular belles of Butte and Helena.

Dunlap-Larson Nuptials.

Miss Grace Marie Dunlap and E. A. Larson were married yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's Church Rev. Edward officiating. The bride wore gray poplinette with hat and gloves to match and her sister wore white lawn. Mr. Boutell stood with the groom as best man. Later a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. T. H. Grace of No. 510 East Fifteenth street. Roses and foliage were combined here. After a short trip the couple will occupy their own home on West Fortieth street.

Miss Brown Weds.

Last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Brown of No. 1519 South Hoover street her daughter, Miss Mamie Brown and Theodore M. Newman were married, Rev. Robert McIntyre officiating. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room, which was decked with white flowers and greenery. The couple stood beneath a bower of green from which swung a bell of marguerites. The dining-room was in red roses and pepper greenery and berries and red crepe paper. The gift room was in pink and green. Miss Laura Selby played the wedding music. The bride was becomingly gowned in a soft frock of white mercerized batiste with lace and carried a cluster of bride roses. Her going away gown was of gray cloth with hat to match. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Newman will be at home after June 1, at 1519 South Hoover street.

Mrs. Gregory Safe.

Friends of Mrs. M. K. Gregory of San Francisco will be glad to learn that she is safe and not injured as reported in the San Francisco calamity. Mrs. Gregory is the wife of the assistant general passenger agent of the Santa Fé and for many years made her home on Boyle Heights in this city.

Fishes Visit Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Artman have again taken possession of their home at No. 1447 Bonnie Brae, and are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Fargo Fish of San Francisco, for a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Fish are well known in San Francisco where they lived all their lives. They came down here the day before the great earthquake. They will make Los Angeles their home and will visit at the Artman residence indefinitely. Mmes. Artman and Fish will receive Fridays.

Postpones Lunch.

Mrs. Henderson Hayward of Wilshire Boulevard, who was to have given a luncheon tomorrow, has recalled invitations for the affair.

To Give Masque Ball.

A bevy of pretty young misses belonging to the Sigma Beta Delta Club have issued invitations for a masquerade party to be given on Friday evening at the Woman's Club House on South Figueroa street, where they will entertain about fifty young friends. Members of the club include Misses Tessie Lewis, Marian Allen, June Eakey, Josephine Lacey, Ramona Bower, Marjory Hibbs, Elita Landers, Ollie Ray Walker, Dorothy Stimson, Winifred Maxon, Ivah Cool, Bernardine Williams, Mabel Hunt, Bella Mellus and Ada Selby.

Fete Champetre Proceeds.

Miss E. Augusta Lamb, secretary of the Fete Champetre Committee of women who gave the lawn fete at the home of Paul de Longpré on Saturday, reports that so far they have counted $700 that they have made and the money isn't all counted yet either. The ladies are congratulating themselves, for they had not expected to realize so large a sum, as the day was so windy. The entire sum is to be donated to the San Francisco sufferers.

Mrs. Hinman Here.

Mrs. M. M. Hinman, a prominent club woman of San Francisco, has arrived in the city to stay with her mother, Mrs. J. M. Van Norman, of No. 1169 West Forty-first street. Mrs. Hinman formerly made her home in this city, where she has many friends. She was staying at the Palace Hotel at the time of the quake, and after an awful fright managed to make her escape in company with a friend. They saved nothing but the clothes they managed to get on, but were glad to get away with their lives. To carry them across the city they hired an express man. Having but a small amount of money, they gave him a few dollars, but this was not enough, and so Mrs. Hinman gave him mining stock valued at $2500, and they were able for this princely sum to be driven across the city. It took them nearly five days to get out of the city, and while there they saw many pitiful sights.

Mrs. Hinman belongs to the California and Contemporary clubs and has many friends in the north. On the day of the quake she was to have entertained the Contemporary Club in her suite at the Palace.

Visits Sister.

Pretty Miss Lovell Taylor is here visiting her sister, Miss Jean Craib at Hotel Redondo. Miss Taylor has gained some reputation as an actress and has just finished her engagement in New York as leading woman for Louis Mann and Clara Lipman in "Julie Bon-Bon." Miss Taylor is a blonde, with pretty blue eyes and a fetching way, which makes her most charming. She expects to leave today for the north to visit her mother, and will return south later.

Mrs. Johnson to Go East.

Mrs. F. O. Johnson of No. 1005 West Twenty-eighth street with her little son will leave on Saturday for St. Louis, where she goes to visit friends and relatives. In June, Mr. Johnson will join her there and together they will visit New York, Chicago, Washington and other large places. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips of Galesburg, Ill., who have been spending the winter here will go East with Mrs. Johnson.

La Jeunesse Club.

Members of La Jeunesse Club have issued invitations for a skating party to be given on Friday evening at Morley's rink on Grand avenue. About 200 invitations are being issued. The committee in charge consists of Frank Woodbury, Bernal Dyas, Roy Ward, Clark Briggs and Adolph Schwarz.

Miss Milton to Visit Here.

Miss Mattie Milton, daughter of Commander J. B. Milton of the United States Navy, is expected here this week and will be the guest of Miss BeDell of No. 2105 South Hoover street. Miss BeDell and Miss Milton spent last year together at Cavite naval station, Philippine Islands.

From Time to Time Club.

The From Time to Time Club held its regular spring meeting at the Hollywood Hotel on Saturday. Twenty-two members were present. Luncheon was served in a private room, and a profusion of beautiful roses supplied the decorations for the table and favors for the guests.

Notes and Personals.

Though it has been announced that Miss Gertrude Cohen will go abroad this year, the young pianist is not contemplating a trip for some time. She will not go for a year or more.

Mrs. C. C. Loomis of Hotel Angelus, entertained members of the Westlake Five Hundred Club yesterday.

Mrs. H. Z. Osborne of No. 401 West Twenty-third street, is entertaining her sister, Miss Elma E. Annas of Syracuse, N. Y., who arrived from the East on the evening of April 27. Miss Annas is delighted with Los Angeles, and will remain with her sister several weeks.

Simple Way to Cure Catarrh by Hyomei Without Stomach Dosing.

It is the height of folly to dose the stomach with internal medicines to cure nasal catarrh. It cannot be cured except the catarrhal germs that are present in the nose, throat and lungs have first been killed.

Direct local treatment by breathing Hyomei through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, is absolutely necessary to kill the catarrhal germs and prevent their growth and formation.

The soothing air of Hyomei heals the smarting and raw membrane of the air passages in the nose, throat and lungs, kills off the catarrhal germs and rids the system of the last traces of catarrh.

The complete Hyomei outfit consists of a hard rubber inhaler which can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei, and costs only $1.00, while extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for a free sample bottle and consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Bldg., Ithaca, N. Y.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Trade was active and prices of the staple articles were firm yesterday morning, and the outlook was even better for a good week. Receipts of all lines were of fair volume, and there were no important changes in the prices.

Dealers reported a good demand for butter, with fairly heavy receipts over Saturday and Sunday. The situation seems to be that as much more fresh butter is brought in from the North present prices cannot be maintained.

Prominent handlers of butter say that the local butter prices are contrary to the normal conditions all over the State. It is an acknowledged fact that the produce dealers of the market handle fully three-fourths of the butter consumed in this city, but as the prices of butter are governed by the Butter Board of Trade, an organization that handles but one-fourth of the butter used here, they have continued to hold the prices at figures during the last two weeks that have been wholly unwarranted and fictitious. It was reported yesterday that the butter board intends to hold the prices at about the same figures all the year round, with no changes in the fall and spring, as has been the custom heretofore. Jobbers of butter at the market are not in favor of this ruling motive, which they say, would be contrary to the supply and the demand.

The first car of eastern eggs was sold on exchange yesterday, and will go into storage at once. The storing of eggs is going along rapidly; one firm states that they are storing on an average of four carloads of eastern eggs a day. Reports from the East say that dealers there will be fully 500,000 cases of eggs short for storage this year; these conditions were occasioned by the severe cold weather throughout the Eastern States. Bananas are very firm at 4@5c per pound. Raspberries were weaker, at 25@30c per basket; dewberries, 50@60; strawberries were in supply on Saturday, and dealers had to place the surplus in cold storage, consequently the market was a trifle weaker yesterday. Strictly fancy fresh strawberries brought 50@60, the average range of the others was from 40@. Citrus fruits were in fair supply for the demand. Receipts of beans were 2662 sacks; No. 1 pinks have advanced 2.50@2.75. Nevada onions are very strong at 4.50 per cwt. Local oliverskins are beginning to make their appearance.

There was a good demand for all kinds of miscellaneous vegetables. Green onions sold at 60@7; rhubarb is weaker, at 1.00@1.15; asparagus was slightly off, at 50@; peas brought 2½@4; cabbage, 1½@1.90; lettuce, 1.00@1.25.

All kinds of fish were active.

The receipts of produce as reported for Saturday's and Sunday's exchang were as follows: Eggs, 443 cases; butter, 23,613 lbs.; cheese, local, 1866 lbs.; potatoes, 655 sacks; onions, 7 sacks; beans, 3052 sacks; sweet potatoes, none.

RIOTING STRIKERS FALL AT TROOPS' VOLLEY.

First Serious Collision in Anthracite Coal Region Since Mining Was Suspended Occurs and Score Are Injured Near Mount Carmel Colliery.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MT. CARMEL (Pa.) April 30.—The first serious collision in the anthracite coal regions since mining was suspended, April 1, occurred here today, between a mob of idle miners and a platoon of the new State constabulary force, and resulted in the injuring of probably twenty men, three of whom will likely die.

The disturbance was caused by an attack on a detail of the State police by several hundred foreigners, who became incensed at the presence of the constables. They threw stones at the policemen and otherwise endangered their lives to such an extent that they were forced to fire on the crowd, which had swelled into thousands.

The greatest excitement was caused in the many mining villages of the southern coal fields when it became known that mine workers had been shot down, but tonight the affected territory is comparatively quiet.

SCORE FALL AT FIRE.

While it is believed that a score of persons were injured during the day, only ten are accounted for. The three who it is thought will die are:

Louis Wilson, shot through the body.
R. Miservich, shot in the stomach.
Stanislaus Watakosi, shot in the groin.

Wilson was shot while standing in front of his home, about a block from the scene of the conflict. R. H. Gibson, trooper, was struck on the head with a rock and seriously hurt.

The presence of the troops on the main street of the town caused a crowd of mine workers to gather about them, and the boider ones in the crowd began to stir up trouble. The crowd closed in upon the State police and began throwing stones. The troopers charged the mob and scattered it, but not before several men were hurt, including a trooper.

Lieut. Smith drew his men into line and threatened to shoot if the mob renewed the attack. In the meantime, the local leaders of the mine worker's circulated through the crowd and ordered the infuriated foreigners to disperse and keep the peace.

The chief burgess, who is a member of the miners' union, addressed the crowd from a window and advised them to go home. This action had considerable effect and the detail of troopers started for the Sayre colliery of the Lehigh Valley Collier Company, on the outskirts of Mount Carmel, where non-union men had been attacked by foreigners Saturday night.

ONE STONE TOO MANY.

Some of the mob persisted in following the troopers and some one threw a stone at them, which was followed by a shower of others. Lieut. Smith wheeled his men about, gave the order to fire and it sent three volleys into the mob before it broke and ran. Half a dozen men were left lying on the ground, and they were later picked up and cared for.

The troopers did not pursue the crowd, but continued on their way to the Sayre colliery. From that place, Lieut. Smith communicated with State police headquarters at Pottsville, and word immediately came back to hold his ground until reinforcements arrived. In the meantime local constables on behalf of the mine workers, arrested Lieut. Smith on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. He was held in $500 bail, which was furnished.

The troopers encamped tonight at Stewartsville near the Sayre colliery. No further trouble is expected.

DR. LAMB WILL BE A CANDIDATE.

CONSENTS TO MAKE RACE FOR COUNTY SUPERVISOR.

Answers the Letter Recently Sent Him by the Electors of the Third Supervisoral District Accepting Their Offer of Support—Had Intended Otherwise.

Dr. W. A. Lamb has consented to become a candidate for Supervisor from the Third District to succeed Al Graham, whose reelection is conceded to be impossible even if he secured the nomination. Dr. Lamb's candidacy is the result of a campaign inaugurated several days ago by a number of his friends who after canvassing the district, addressed an open letter to him asking him to enter the race and assuring him of their support.

Dr. W. A. Lamb.

After having deliberated several days, Dr. Lamb announced his decision yesterday and in an open letter stated that he would accept the suggestion of his friends and become a candidate. His letter follows:

To the Gentlemen of the Third Supervisoral District, Los Angeles County, California:

My dear sirs: Replying to your open letter relating to my becoming a candidate for the office of Supervisor from your district, permit me to say, that your request, coming as it does from gentlemen representing the best interests of all parties and affiliations in the Third District I can but look upon it with a sense of high appreciation.

Further, although I had thought to endeavor to further the interests of the county in another department, yet as the voice of the people always has been a guide to my actions in public affairs, and it always shall be, I hereby accept your invitation with assurance of my profound gratitude. I shall hope with your efforts and the cooperation of others who have voluntarily assured me of their support to secure the nomination and election.

Again, tendering to you my heartfelt thankfulness for your kind appreciation of my efforts as a public servant, and trusting that I shall never disappoint your expectation or prove unworthy of your confidence, I remain,

Very respectfully,

[Signed] W. A. LAMB.

PINCHES BAD EQUINE BITER.

POLICEMAN RUNS IN HORSE THAT LIKES FLESH

Animal Bit a Tourist and Chewed the Arm of a Pretty Girl—Once He Had Bitten the Cop, and the Latter Gets Square by Putting the Beast in Jail.

Patrolman "Billy" Matuskiwiz arrested a handsome bay horse and a piano-box buggy of the latest type yesterday afternoon and locked the outfit up, thus removing from the streets one of the most vicious biting horses in the city. The patrolman justified his "pinching" of the animal by explaining that it had just bitten two persons who happened to pass the point where it was tied at the curb.

The animal is the property of N. L. Rice, a horseman, of No. 449 Aliso street, and he had tied the animal at the curb on South Spring street while he attended to some business. The sidewalk was crowded with shoppers and pedestrians, and every time any one passed close to the animal the vicious brute would endeavor to bite them.

It was rather dangerous for unwary pedestrians, but no sign of "Beware of the horse" was displayed, so, when B. Stevens, who is a visitor in this city from Alaska, sauntered down the street he did not notice the horse lay back its ears and he stepped inside the circle of danger. Instantly the horse snapped at him and the powerful jaws of the animal closed over his arm. With a howl of pain Stevens jerked away and then sought a physician to dress the painful wound inflicted by the teeth of the animal.

A few minutes later Miss Amy Folsom of No. 716 East Twenty-third street chanced to pass the spot. The horse bit her viciously and held on to her arm, sinking his teeth nearly to the bone. Despite her struggles, in which she exerted all her strength, she could not free herself and with a vicious swing of his head the animal threw the young woman from her feet, still holding her arm in his teeth. Her screams of pain brought aid, but before she could be rescued from the biting animal her arm had been badly lacerated and nearly broken.

Patrolman Matuskiwiz was on the scene almost instantly and assisted Miss Folsom to the office of a surgeon where her lacerated arm was treated and dressed. Then the policeman took charge of the horse and buggy and officially locked both up in the police stables. Just what the horse is charged with is not plain, but his owner will be held accountable for his actions.

Not the least interesting feature of the case is the fact that a few months ago the animal bit Patrolman Matuskiwiz, inflicting a painful wound in the arm. "Billy" says when the horse grabbed him he had to use all his strength to get away as the animal held on with all its might. Other biting horses in Los Angeles had better be careful not to bite a policeman or they, too, will land in the horse jail.

CHLOROFORM AND BLOOD.

Woman Beaten by Man, Who Says She Tried to Drug and Rob Him.

The quiet and peace of Broadway before daylight yesterday morning was shattered by the terrified screams of a woman, and Patrolman Rockoff dashed up the stairs leading to the Capitol Hotel, whence the screams came. Finding the room the patrolman broke in the door and found a man mercilessly beating a woman.

The woman was nearly exhausted when the patrolman arrived and her face was covered with blood and had already begun to swell from the effects of the blows of her assailant. The shrieks of the woman had awakened all in the hotel. Both the principals were placed under arrest and at the station the woman gave the name of Kathryn De Vries and the man was booked as F. A. Heck.

In the room an open bottle of chloroform was found by the police and also a handkerchief saturated with the drug. Heck told the police that the woman had attempted to chloroform him in order to rob him and that he had tried to break her neck. He had struck her a number of vicious blows and even after his arrest swore that he would break her neck if he ever got the chance.

The story of the woman is different. She claims she had been spending the evening with Heck and that he had dragged her into the place and then attempted to chloroform her. She told friends who called at the Central Police Station yesterday to see her, that he had attempted to drug her and that when she resisted, and screamed for aid, he became enraged and struck her several terrific blows in the face. She still bears the marks of the beating she received and her face is badly swollen.

The case puzzles the police and Capt. Brodhead has turned the matter over to the detectives for a thorough investigation. Both the man and the woman are still held in jail pending this investigation, as it is impossible to determine at present which is telling the truth and which is the criminal.

Charles L. Wilson Will Arrive in San Francisco Today to Overhaul Display in Ferry Building, and on His Return Atlantic City Exhibit Will Be Shaped.

The Chamber of Commerce has resurrected itself, and part of its great original purpose now glimmers out from behind the ever-coming piles of relief goods.

Yesterday Charles L. Wilson left for San Francisco, where he will inspect the exhibit in the State Board of Trade, which is located in the Ferry building. It is reported that the displays there are unharmed, but jarred out of position. Mr. Wilson will overhaul the Southern California portion, and put it in excellent shape.

On his return, with the well-known Wiggins assistance, he will set immediately to work on the Atlantic City exhibit.

In a sentence, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is just commencing the most vigorous publicity campaign it has ever made.

The Atlantic City show will go forward in double-quick style, and extra efforts will be made to get a magnificent display, typical of everything we can do or everything we can grow in this section of the United States.

If possible, the exhibit will be made permanent, and will remain through winter and summer as a perpetual reminder to all Atlantic City visitors that Los Angeles and her environs are still in existence, and still flourishing.

In addition to the Atlantic City proselytism, the work of distributing literature is to recommence on a larger scale than ever. Thousands of descriptive pamphlets will be printed, and, accompanied by illustrations, will be sent over all parts of the United States.

In the words of Frank Wiggins: "The time has come for the biggest work that the Chamber of Commerce has ever done. Unscrupulous people have endeavored to tear down the reputation of California; it is the Chamber of Commerce which must do one of the biggest shares in building it up.

"This is not work for a day, but work for months, work steadily to be continued. I believe that we will have the heartiest support of the general public of Los Angeles, for we will be working for a common good.

"After working for fifteen years to establish Southern California on a more solid footing than a boom, along with a number of other pioneers in this propaganda, it hurts me terribly to see some one try to undo it all in a single day. We'll stop the slander by practical demonstrations; that's the best we can hope to do. We must let every man and woman in America know that we are alive."

WONDERFUL CROP.

From the Cahuenga Valley is coming a crate of onions, sent to the Chamber of Commerce by J. H. Walden, grower. According to accounts, Walden must have one of the most wonderful onion fields in the West.

His crop is of Bermudas, and they were planted, in unfertilized soil, the middle of last September. No onions had previously been grown there. No special measures were undertaken for unusual productivity.

Yet he is gathering a mammoth yield now, and within the next two weeks will ship out thirty carloads.

MASONS DEDICATE.

Many Attend Ceremony at Handsome New Hall at Thirty-third and Main Streets.

With the full ritual of the Grand Lodge, South Gate Lodge, No. 329, Free and Accepted Masons, yesterday afternoon dedicated its handsome new hall, recently completed, at Thirty-third and Main streets, at a cost about $57,000.

Past Grand Master James A. Foshay of Los Angeles, assisted by a committee of fifteen minor officials, formally dedicated the handsome new structure to the uses of the Masonic order.

Over three hundred members and their families were present. The big assembly hall on the second floor was well filled. It is a beautiful room with stained glass windows at the end and beautiful frescoing on three sides.

The exercises began at 2 o'clock and lasted nearly two hours. The committee of minor officials who assisted Past Grand Master Foshay in the dedication are Deputy Grand Master H. S. Orme, Senior Grand Warden F. C. Wolf, Junior Grand Warden E. T. Parke, Secretary Henry Gaynor, Treasurer O. H. Parke, Marshal George Hart, Sword Bearer William Yamd, Bible Bearer J. C. Cubl, Standard Bearer Coon, Senior Deacon Carlson, Junior Deacon J. Mason, Senior Steward John Dunsmoor, Junior Steward R. E. Dill, Tyler I. D. Stein, Organist William Pfaff.

Following the formal exercises, the ladies, wives and sisters of the members, held an informal reception in the ladies' parlor. In the adjoining room light refreshments were served.

Last night the big ballroom on the first floor was a scene of gaiety when about one hundred couples, Masons and their friends, spent the evening at an informal dance and reception given by the Ladies of the Eastern Star.

The new building is fully equipped with kitchen, dining and ballrooms so that the F. and A. M. can entertain without the necessity of calling in a caterer.

Unduly Timid.

Quite a little talk is being indulged in by Phoenicians who have been in the habit of spending the hot months at Los Angeles and other coast points of going to northern and eastern resorts this year instead. This talk is apparently prompted solely by fears of a recurrence of the recent earthquake.

While the Gazette is a firm believer in Arizona and convinced that the Territory has within its borders places that are not surpassed in the Union for furnishing an ideal summer climate, it would still advise those who are determined to go abroad for the summer against being influenced by a feeling of timidity that has little foundation in fact.

Los Angeles has never experienced a serious earthquake and in all human probability never will and it would seem that the fears expressed were greatly overdrawn.

We should not forget that in the past Los Angeles business men have done much to advance our interests as a community and California's representatives in Congress have ever been on Arizona's side in the Statehood fight. If Phoenicians must go outside the Territory to spend the heated term let them not be persuaded to desert their friends because of fancied dangers.

Phoenix and the valley have ever been treated well and liberally by Los Angeles and other Coast points, and it would be showing anything but a spirit of sympathy and good fellowship for this city now to desert her because of the recent disaster.—[Arizona Gazette.

BUYS COFFIN FOR HIMSELF.

GEORGE MILLER ARRANGES HIS OWN FUNERAL.

Surprises Undertaker by Coolly Laying Down the Price, and Just as Matter Is Being Settled, the Police Appear and Take George to Station to Look into His Sanity.

The afternoon twilight was slowly enshrouding the somber interior of Bresee Bros.' undertaking establishment in a deeper gloom. The soft, thick carpeting gave forth no warning as a gentleman opened the door and advanced toward the man at the desk. The man in charge switched on a light and turned to confront his visitor. He was a man with a preternaturally solemn face, of imposing appearance, and his evident acquaintance with sorrow commanded the respect one owes to the bereaved.

"I want to arrange for a funeral to be held this evening at 7 o'clock," explained the visitor. "My name is George Miller. If you come to the Adams House on Stephenson avenue at 6 o'clock this evening you can get the body. It will be ready for you then."

The man at the desk started to question his caller further in regard to the case, but Miller forestalled his queries by entering into a detailed arrangement in relation to the casket, flowers and music for the funeral. He took from his pocket a number of gold pieces, amounting to nearly $200.

"What is the name of your friend?" asked the undertaker.

"The man whom I want you to bury is myself," said Miller, with great calm. "I want to be buried tonight at 7 o'clock." The undertaker gripped tightly the edge of the desk and began counting fifty carefully in order to keep his brain from reeling.

"I want a respectable but inexpensive funeral," said Miller. "I am not in favor of too much ostentation when a person dies, but my funeral must be conducted in a respectable manner. I want one of your best caskets, if you please."

"Won't you sit down a moment?" invited the undertaker. Miller complied readily, and proceeded to chat with the undertaker about his proposed funeral, seeming to take considerable interest in arranging the matter.

In the meantime some one in the establishment had telephoned to the police department, and the patrol appeared at the door.

Miller was taken to the station and held on a charge of insanity. He did not at any time become violent, but insisted in talking seriously about his coming funeral. He had not been drinking and did not look like a degenerate.

At a late hour last night he was still explaining to the four blank walls at the station that he wanted a decent but quiet service over his remains.

DEAF TO DEATH WARNING.

Old Man May Die Because He Could not Hear the Gong—Victim of an Engine.

Two serious crossing accidents occurred yesterday morning. Samuel A. King was run down by a street car and R. W. Gilkerson struck by a switch engine. Both men sustained serious injuries.

King, who is 70 years old and lives at No. 1206 Hobson street, was crossing Pico street at its intersection with Fedora street when he was run down by car No. 369 of the Pico Heights line. The motorman sounded his gong, but did not slow up, thinking that King would step aside.

The old man is so near deaf he did not hear the warning and was struck by the car before he knew it was coming. He sustained a scalp wound and concussion of the brain and a badly mangled left hand. It was necessary to amputate his hand in the Receiving Hospital and he may not survive the shock.

Gilkerson, who is a city laborer, living at No. 645 Banning street, was run down by a Southern Pacific switch engine on Alameda street near First. He is unable to tell how the accident happened and lies in the Receiving Hospital in a serious condition. He sustained a concussion of the brain and several scalp wounds.

WAS A LIFE SAVER.

Insane Woman Said She Saved Six Policemen, and Was Immediately Locked Up.

Mrs. Bertha Schultz called at the Central Police Station yesterday morning to impart the interesting information that she had just saved the lives of six policemen, but needed help in exterminating the twelve men who were seeking her life. When she was not received as a heroine but was turned over to the Police Matron as insane she became very angry and averred that she was sorry she saved the lives of the six Los Angeles policemen, or in fact any of the thousands who owed their lives to her.

She was much excited because she imagined twelve men were following her and seeking her life. So deranged was her mind that nearly every time she glanced over her shoulder she would scream, "There they are; they will kill me!" She has been living on Maple avenue but is so violent that it will be necessary to send her to the insane ward of the County Hospital. She is an elderly woman and was born in Germany.

MACHINIST INJURED.

T. Shelton Badly Crushed While Adjusting Elevator Machinery in Delta Building Yesterday.

T. Shelton, a machinist living on South Hill street, was badly crushed by having an elevator weight fall on him, in the Delta Building, No. 426 South Spring street, yesterday afternoon. Shelton was at work at the bottom of the elevator shaft, adjusting some of the machinery when the accident happened.

He was rescued when the weight could be removed and hurried to the Receiving Hospital. He sustained a fractured shoulder blade, his right hip was crushed and his right leg fractured both above and below the knee. No one knows what caused the weight to fall as the machinery worked perfectly after the accident. The injured man will be laid up for months and probably will be crippled for life.

EXPRESS SERVICE RESUMED.

Wells, Fargo & Co. Open Line to San Francisco, and Can Now Deliver Shipments.

Beginning last night express service with San Francisco and nearly all the towns in that part of the State was resumed and it is now possible to make shipments subject, however, to delay in making delivery unless the address of the consignee is known and plainly marked on the packages. The Coast Line is not open into San Francisco and express matter is sent to Oakland, where Wells, Fargo & Co. have opened a branch headquarters, and transferred thence across the bay to the foot of Market street. At that point it is loaded on wagons and conveyed to whatever district it may be intended for. There has been quite an accumulation of business at various express offices throughout the State, but the company is now prepared to handle practically anything that may be offered.
